Official student/office hours are posted on the door of Room 302. Feel free to communicate by e-mail or phone to arrange an alternate time and/or place to meet. The instructor is always happy to assist you in your learning.

Course Description

Singer's Diction is a course for singers and choral conductors, intended to improve their capacity to respond with ease, accuracy and expression in foreign languages. French diction presumes an understanding of the International Phonetic Alphabet. Through poetic readings, culture study, musical performances, phonetic drills and grammar/vocabulary practice, students develop skill in presenting French texts set to music. Each student will be expected to attend class and complete all quizzes, self-reflection assignments, and dictations. A final presentation, exercise, and project are the capstone events of the course. Grading for the course is based upon attendance, initiative, and progress.

Student Learning Outcomes

Using the International Phonetic Alphabet as a source, students will learn to pronounce poetic texts in French with accuracy. Students will become familiar with the historical and cultural events that influence the interpretation of French poetry. This knowledge will facilitate expressive interpretations of art song, operatic and oratorio repertoire in the French language. These skills will be evaluated in the final presentation, exercise, and project.

Textbook and Materials

The textbook for the course is Diction in Context: Singing in English, Italian, German and French by Brenda Smith (San Diego CA: Plural Publishing, 2019). A recommended text is Singing in French by Thomas Grubb (New York, NY: Schirmer Books, 1979). A French-English dictionary that uses the IPA for its pronunciation guide is required. The Interpretation of French Song by Pierre Bernac (New York, NY: W.W. Norton, 1970) is recommended. Supplementary material will be distributed regularly in class.

Measurement Tools

Attendance, initiative and progress are the main criteria for grading. The measurement tools for these criteria are: a.) quizzes, class activities and self-reflection assignments, b.) final exercise and project c.) attendance and class participation, d.) class presentations.

Quizzes, Class Activities and Final Exercise

Quizzes, class activities and homework assignments are intended to evaluate a student's command of newly introduced material. Dictations develop fluency in the use of the IPA and fortify aural skills. The final exercise is comprehensive in scope, including a survey of pronunciation rules using the International Phonetic Alphabet as it applies to texts sung in French. The project draws upon class notes, assigned readings, and comparative listening. All written work should be submitted on time. Under extenuating circumstances, please notify the instructor and provide documentation.

Attendance and Class Participation

Because of the brevity of the course, regular class attendance is expected. Lateness is at times unavoidable. Please text the instructor or a classmate to report any situation that deters a prompt arrival. Excused absences are those officially sanctioned by the University of Florida. <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/> Discretionary, unexcused absences are unacceptable in this brief course. Be careful to deal with anticipated absence or lateness in the manner described above.

Class Presentations

Each student will be expected to present one French mélodie in spoken and sung form. The repertoire assignment will be given in consultation with your studio teacher. Presentations will be evaluated for the depth of preparation and the accuracy of diction. Please dress appropriately when performing for the class. Please note: To receive full credit for any presentation, the materials in preparation for the presentation must be submitted on time. Students should perform on the assigned day. In case of extenuating circumstances, students must notify the instructor at least 24 hours prior to the day of the scheduled presentation. Please prepare your presentation with the course accompanist. Each student will receive feedback from peers and instructor.

Dates for Class Presentations

Final Class Presentation (25% of final grade): The Week of April 17, 2023 (MWF)

Grading

Using the plus/minus scale, the course grade will be calculated in the following way:

Attendance*	10%
Quizzes and Dictations	15%
Reflections Assignments	10%
Final Exercise	15%
Class Presentation	15%
Final Project	35%
	100%

Prompt Attendance is an essential element for success in this course. As stated above, there are no discretionary, unexcused absences. Should extenuating circumstances arise that prevent your prompt attendance, please notify the instructor as indicated above. Given prior notice, accommodations can be made.
