

THE 4111: HISTORY OF THEATRE ON STAGE 2
ROOM TUR 2328
M/W/F 10:40–11:30 am

COURSE CATALOGUE DESCRIPTION: Continues the survey of THE 4110 from the 18th century to the present, with featured segments on African and contemporary world theatre. Particular emphasis on the 19th century and the emergence of modernist movements: realism, expressionism, Artaud, Brecht.

COURSE OVERVIEW: This course is a survey of the global history of dramatic literature and stage performance from the eighteenth century to the present day. We will implement a global lens to study the history of theatre and its relation to the social, political, and cultural changes of the time and society. Periods are discussed in somewhat chronological order, concentrating on each era's culture, texts, theatrical spaces, and performance practices. Simultaneously, the course will also examine multiple voices through various lenses to acquire a more holistic understanding of "Theatre and Society" by interrogating who writes history and how that impacts our critical understanding of historical narratives.

The aim of the class is to give students a solid working knowledge of global theatre history in the context of the social and artistic movements within which performance in its many forms has existed and to convey an understanding of theatre as an art shaped through the centuries by a cultural dialectics of acceptance and rejection, artistic vision and political power.

EMAIL COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT:

Please feel free to visit me during my office hours at any time during the semester. I am here to help. If you can't make my office hours due to a scheduling conflict, please set up an appointment with me via email. Even if we confirm our meeting after class, email me to confirm again.

If requesting an appointment outside my office hours, give me times that you are available in the initial email. My office hours are posted above.

CONTENT WARNING:

We are building a community that fosters a safe, brave, and encouraging learning environment. If you find any materials we cover in this course unsettling or challenging, please do not hesitate to share your feelings about the materials with me. Some texts may incorporate sexual and violent content, and these topics will be dealt with sensitively in class. I will give you advance notice when specific materials or content covered may contain images, language, or perspectives that some may find challenging. In class, if you need to step away for a period of time as we are covering certain content, you may do so without penalty, but I ask that you remember that you are responsible for any information covered in your absence.

TEXTS AND MATERIALS

There is no textbook for the class. Assigned readings and play texts are available through the class Canvas website. For class meetings, students must have a copy of the day's assigned reading either as a hard copy or a soft copy. Please check Canvas before class so we are on the same page.

WE WILL USE PLAYS AND CHAPTERS FROM:

Gainor, Garner, Puchner, eds. Norton Anthology of Drama, Vol. 2, 2nd edition. 2014. ISBN 9780393921519.

(Readings will be uploaded in PFD formats on Canvas. If you want to purchase a hard copy, check eBay and other used book websites: $5:29-80:00.)

Reading Responses: 50 pts

Paper Outline: 25 pnts

Midterm: 100 pts

Final Paper: 100 pts

TOTAL: 350 pts

Extra credit: 20

GRADING

Class attendance is mandatory. Attendance sheets are passed around every class. You are allowed one “unexcused” absence that does not require documentation and does not conform to the UF “acceptable reasons for absence.” Any other “unexcused” absence will result in a penalty of half a full letter grade (5%) from the final grade per “unexcused” absence. To be considered “excused,” an absence must be accompanied by appropriate official documentation.

Any student that acquires 3 absences (either excused or unexcused) will be required to meet with me and/or area faculty to discuss the student’s continued participation in the course.

See the Student Handbook for more information.

You are absent for that session if you are more than 10 minutes late to class. If you come late a lot, that may also result in a cumulative count of absences.

NOTE: If you are having difficulties meeting the course requirements and are thinking about dropping, please reach out to me. I would like to have the chance to hear about what you are struggling with to see if there is a way to help you meet the outcomes of the course.

PARTICIPATION (25 points)

This course relies on developing a community of researchers, writers, and artists responding to each other’s work. Your participation grade is determined by your active, thoughtful, and informed participation in class discussion (distinct from mere attendance) as well as your contribution to the classroom community. Not adhering to these guidelines will result in a

This course relies on developing a community of researchers, writers and artists responding to each other’s work. Your participation grade is determined by your active, thoughtful and informed participation in class discussion (distinct from attendance) as well as your contribution to the workshop community. We will develop guidelines for our workshop as a class. Not adhering these guidelines will result in a greatly reduced participation grade. Tardiness, particularly repeated tardiness, will significantly decrease your participation grade.

greatly reduced participation grade. Tardiness, particularly repeated tardiness, will significantly decrease your participation grade.

Please see the University attendance policy: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/>

READING RESPONSES (50 points)

Five plays out of nine have an associated reading response that can be completed online until the class period in which the play is discussed. A reading response is writing about your thoughts or your reaction(s) to a reading. A reading response is not a formal paper but should be well-thought-out, fully developed, and carefully written. An effective response will demonstrate your artistic and intellectual engagement with the play, supported by examples and specific details to further your observations. You will write a “diary entry” for this assignment describing your engagement with the play. Each response should be at least 500 words. Please follow the Times New Roman or Calibri Font style, 12-point, double-spaced; if you decide to cite outside sources, please use MLA style citation, 8th or 9th Edition. Write clearly and use proper punctuation marks. Citation is not mandatory but highly encouraged.

The responses must be uploaded to Canvas under the designation discussion board. The reading responses will be available to our entire classroom community to react, comment, and communicate on each other's reading responses. You will comment on at least one peer's entry to earn full credit for this assignment.

OUTLINING YOUR FINAL PAPER (25 points)

Organize your thoughts before you start writing. An essay outline is an essay's blueprint, which provides an idea of an essay's thesis and key supporting points. First, every essay adheres to a basic structure. It starts with an introduction and follows with two body paragraphs supporting the introduction and question. Finally, the concluding paragraph(s) reiterates the author's thesis and summarizes the body paragraphs. There's no word limit for this assignment, but limit your outline between one to two pages. Check Canvas for an example outline and a detailed rubric for this assignment.

MIDTERM COMPREHENSIVE EXAM (100 points)

This multiple-choice exam will be published on Canvas after class and must be completed by the given timeframe. This test will evaluate your understanding and engagement with theatre history/plays/performances from day one through the exam week.

FINAL PAPER (100 points)

This class requires you to write an academic essay. You can choose a play, a style, or a performance genre for this assignment. If you propose a play or topic we are NOT discussing this semester, please talk to me ahead of time for consideration. We will not discuss the fundamentals of essay writing, but if you need a quick review, please come to my office. Here are some points to consider before you choose your topic.

1. An academic essay should answer a question or analyze a text.

2. It should have a thesis statement (answer to the question) and an argument. An argument is your perspective on the topic, which is objective and not an emotional response without evidence.
3. An academic essay should include relevant examples, supporting evidence, and information from academic texts or credible sources.

Based on my feedback, your final paper will be a short four-page or 800–1000-word paper on any of the plays, theories, playwrights, styles, or performance genres we are studying in class. If you choose to write about a play, the paper will include a biographical summary of the playwright, an analytical overview of the play, and a brief discussion of the play’s production history, including contemporary productions.

DO NOT write “compare and contrast” papers between two plays or authors we studied. The information required for this paper will have to be discerned only from books and peer-reviewed journal articles, one newspaper or magazine article sourced from a reputable newspaper and magazine, and only one source can be a recognized website. For this research paper, you need a minimum of five and a maximum of 14 references. Arrange this paper across several paragraphs and thematically connect them.

You will receive a detailed rubric for this assignment. For this final paper, I encourage all of you to visit: <https://writing.ufl.edu/writing-studio/>

EXTRA CREDIT: Choose Your Own Adventure (20 points)

There are many ways to earn extra credit. All require approval from me via email or a meeting during office hours to discuss details. Please email or meet me during office hours to see how many points you can get for your chosen activity. Some opportunities will be announced in class. Examples of Choose Your Own Adventure activities include writing a short response between 500-800 words of one of the plays we are reading in class by the due date, performing in University or community productions (director’s signature and/or program required), or volunteering as an usher, working backstage for shows, etc.

Course Fees: Course fees cover the cost of coupons for all theatre productions. **

By decision of the faculty in the School of Theatre and Dance, the following statement is included on all departmental syllabi: Since production is the laboratory for all theatre courses, attendance at all mainstage Department of Theatre and Dance productions is required of students enrolled in classes with the following prefix designations: THE, TPA, TPP, ORI. Critiques of and/or responses to these productions may be required. Attendance at all related events is encouraged.

More information on UF grading policy may be found at:

<http://gradcatalog.ufl.edu/content.php?catoid=10&navoid=2020#grades>

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/grades.aspx>

IMPORTANT: Students are encouraged to employ critical thinking and to rely on data and verifiable sources to interrogate all assigned readings and subject matter in this course as a way of determining whether they agree with their classmates and/or their instructor. No lesson is intended to espouse, promote, advance, inculcate, or compel a particular feeling, perception, viewpoint or belief.

Students Requiring Accommodations

Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, <https://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc>) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing online evaluations at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/evals>. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results/>.

Class Demeanor

Students are expected to arrive to class on time and behave in a respectful manner to the instructor and fellow students. Please avoid cell phones and restrict eating to outside of the classroom. Opinions held by other students should be respected in the discussion, and conversations that do not contribute to the discussion should be held at minimum, if at all.

Writing Studio

The writing studio is committed to helping University of Florida students meet their academic and professional goals by becoming better writers. Visit the writing studio online at <http://writing.ufl.edu/writing-studio/> or in 302 Tigert Hall for one-on-one consultations and workshops.

University Honesty Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (<https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Software Use

All faculty, staff, and students of the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate. We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to uphold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Student Privacy

There are federal laws protecting your privacy with regards to grades earned in courses and on individual assignments. For more information, please see: <http://registrar.ufl.edu/catalog0910/policies/regulationferpa.html>
