SCHOOL OF THEATRE AND DANCE

The School of Theatre and Dance at The University of Florida is a part of one of the largest and most comprehensive public land-grant research universities in the United States. The fundamental purpose of the University, to which the School fully subscribes, is to expand humankind's understanding of the natural world, the mind, and the senses, across many disciplines and cultures. The University's institutional purpose includes serving cultural institutions, preserving knowledge, generating creative activity in both pure (theory) and applied (production) forms, participating in a community of artists/scholars, and selecting and developing talented students. The faculty and staff of the University of Florida embrace a threefold mission of education, research, and service.

The School of Theatre and Dance, within the University's College of Fine Arts, understands as its goal, together with the Schools of Music and Art and Art History, to pursue with vigor the highest standards of artistic and intellectual excellence for its faculty, its students, and its community, and to ensure the continued vitality of the arts as the quintessential multicultural and multidisciplinary enterprise in an increasingly pragmatic world. The arts celebrate the greatest achievements of the past and provide a road map for the creation of the future. Theatre and dance share with all the arts the mission of addressing both the hearts and minds of humanity. This precept guides all School of Theatre and Dance activities, both academic and practical. Our mission embraces our students, as well as local and global communities.

Mission Statement

The mission of the School of Theatre and Dance shall be to educate and train artists, scholars, and teachers; and to provide for its students a foundation of professionalism and dedication to their art within a climate of diversity, discovery, and risk. It strives to develop in its students and audiences an enduring passion for theatre and dance.

Educate and Train

The fundamental purpose and primary responsibility of the School, through its various degree programs, is the education and training of the next generation of artists, scholars, and teachers, enabling them to compete successfully in the professional world. Education and training are taken as inseparable. Ideally, stage and classroom are engaged in constant mutual exchange. The School aims for the union between academic and applied knowledge, theory and practice, experience and reflection, within an integrated curriculum that is sensitive to the intellectual needs of the individual student, and to the practical needs of an ever-changing marketplace. As part of a university, the School understands that it contributes also to a larger civilizing project and that the complete artist is the thinking artist who augments the mastery of concrete skills with an acute consciousness of the cultural environments and the broader realm of arts and ideas. Conversely, it provides many non-major students with their first exposure to theatre and dance and nurtures the audiences of the future. To ensure the fusion of education and training, the School promotes collaboration among the several areas within the School, as well as interdisciplinary cooperation with departments and programs on this and other campuses. The faculty is composed of nationally and internationally recognized practicing artists, teachers, and scholars committed to research and creative activity.

The School:

- offers the degrees of Bachelor of Fine Arts with an emphasis in Performance, Dance, and Production, Bachelor of Arts in General Theatre, and the Master of Fine Arts, as well as several minor tracks in Theatre and Dance;

- requires that its majors and minors gain experience in the production process;
- expects its majors to take rigorous academic classes both in and outside of the School;
- supplements the curriculum by residencies of guest artists; and,
- participates in state, regional, national, and international organizations and events.

Professionalism and Dedication

The School of Theatre and Dance places its emphasis on its professionally oriented BFA and MFA programs. The School recognizes that professionalism in the arts encompasses, beyond excellent training and education, four elements: First, a combination of reliability, dedication, and self-discipline, which theatre and dance as collaborative arts demand; Second, the mastery of fundamental skills and principles, as well as the flexibility to adjust to new and changing demands in the arts; Third, the pursuit of the highest attainable standards fostered within an environment of constant self-examination, openness to analysis and evaluation, and an awareness of the standards observed by peer institutions and the professional world; Fourth, artistic vision based on integrity. The School pursues its professional standing in a number of ways including:

- membership in and support of the aims and standards of NAST, NASD, URTA, ACDFA, ACTF, and ATHE.
- systematic evaluation of the progress of its BFA and MFA students through auditions, portfolio reviews, and regular juries.

Diversity, Discovery, and Risk

Discovery and often radical innovation have sustained and renewed theatre and dance during their histories. The greatest enemies of an artist are complacency and mediocrity. If anything is certain, it is that theatre and dance of the 21st Century will look nothing like that of the 20th. We seek to create artists for the 21st Century, without fully knowing what the century may hold. Today our sense of discovery and our espousal of risk must be concentrated on more than ourselves. If art is to have meaning in the global community, it must be transgressive in the most positive sense of the word, not only receptive to, but affirming of diverse cultures and ideas, from within or beyond our borders. As the diversity of our students increases, so must the creative diversity of our work. The School of Theatre and Dance is committed to the pursuit of multicultural artistry in theory and practice, and it understands the diverse culture in its broadest sense by geography, race, ethnicity, gender, class, sexual orientation, disability considerations, etc. The School demonstrates its commitment to diversity by:

- an ongoing effort to recruit and retain a diverse faculty and student body;
- the support of student performances in innovative formats;
- international activities in production exchanges; and,
- interdisciplinary and multicultural programs, including, but not limited to residencies, lectures, productions, festivals, and conferences.

GENERAL PRODUCTION PHILOSOPHY

The production program is the laboratory for the curriculum and supports the mission of the School of Theatre and Dance.

It shall be the purpose of the School of Theatre and Dance to provide a climate for discovery, choice, and fulfillment in the development of artists, craftsmen, scholars, teachers, and audiences through practice, study, and experience.

The School of Theatre and Dance embraces a policy of non-traditional, color-blind casting. Casting choices are the prerogative of an individual director. Directors, however, are not limited to traditional typecasting. Decisions are based upon the quality of the audition, the director's concept of the role, and the educational mission of the School.

THE THEATRE PRODUCTION PROGRAM

The qualitative focus of the production program is to present the most effective and affective dance and theatre performances possible. It also provides a laboratory for students and the opportunity for practical application of classroom exercises and theories.

Today's theatre design and production depend heavily on the complex electronic and mechanical systems used in professional theatre, film, and television production. The production curriculum is designed to meet the diverse aesthetic and technological demands of contemporary society. This curriculum provides academic instruction and professional training for careers in costume design, scene design, and lighting design.

Students enrolled in theatre production: costume design, lighting design, and scene design will complete course work in all three areas. Selected independent study, advanced electives, and production assignments in THE 4950 focus on the specialization.

A portfolio is required. For more information, consult the School of Theatre and Dance Undergraduate Advisor, Kevin Austin.

PRODUCTIONS FOR BFA/MFA STUDENTS IN THEATRE PERFORMANCE

Students selected for the pre-professional degree programs (BFA, MFA) are expected to fill most important roles in major season productions. These students will audition prior to the general population for each semester's productions. The performance faculty will observe their auditions and will advise the directors regarding casting to enhance the BFA and MFA students' education and the quality of productions. These students will receive special consideration in casting; however, like all auditionees, they must win roles in competitive, open auditions. Directors will make the final determinations in casting.

After casts have been selected, BFA/MFA students will meet individually with a panel of at least two faculty members, who will evaluate the audition and advise future actions. Auditions are juried events. Continuation in the pre-professional degree programs is contingent upon successful:

- auditions
- performances
- classroom work
- juries.

Lack of success in any of these areas will result in probationary status and/or elimination from the specialized degree programs.

Selection of plays is based on a formula for a four-year cycle that offers opportunity for experiencing the widest possible spectrum of genres and periods of dramatic literature. In a four-year cycle the following should be offered:

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 non-western production | 2 non-realistic productions |
| 2 Shakespeare plays | 1 representative play by a great modern playwright |
| 2 new plays | 2 productions with the emphasis on multiculturalism |
| 4 dance Repertoire Concerts | 2 modern dance productions |
| 2 pre-19 th Century heightened language productions | 1 experimental workshop production e.g. ,adaptation |
| 4 musical theatre productions | |
| 4 African dance productions | |

NON DISCRIMINATION POLICY

Trust enables us to maintain a climate encouraging of diversity, discovery, and risk; a cornerstone of the mission of the School of Theatre and Dance. In honor of the trust we all work to build in classes and daily interactions, and in recognition of the trust we all bring to the university community that its policies and procedures will protect us, the University of Florida Non-Discrimination Policy follows (6C1-1.006):

6C1-1.006 University of Florida; Non-Discrimination Policy.

(1) The University shall actively promote equal opportunity policies and practices conforming to laws against discrimination. The University is committed to non-discrimination with respect to race, creed, color, religion, age, disability, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, national origin, political opinions or affiliations, and veteran status as protected under the Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act. This commitment applies in all areas to students, Academic Personnel (AP), Technical, Executive, Administrative, and Managerial Support (TEAMS) staff, University Support Personnel System (USPS) personnel, and Other Personnel Services (OPS) employees. The University realizes that it must continue to intensify its concern and devote itself to the elimination of conditions from which discrimination spring. In this respect the University accepts the responsibility for solving problems related to these matters. Accordingly, the University will continue to search for the most appropriate ways and means to provide an effective and enduring contribution to the improvement of these relationships.

(2) It is the policy of the University that each employee and student be allowed to work and study in an environment free from any form of discrimination. Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and is conduct unbecoming a State employee as provided in Section 110.227, F.S.

(a) Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, or requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

1. Submission to such conduct or request is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic status
2. Submission to or rejection of such conduct or request by an individual is used as the basis for employment or academic decisions affecting such individual, or
3. Such conduct or request has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or of creating an intimidating, hostile work-related or academic environment.

(b) Disciplinary Action.

1. Any employee or student of the University who is found to have sexually harassed another employee or applicant for employment or student will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including dismissal or expulsion.

2. Any employee or student in a supervisory capacity who has actual knowledge by direct observation or by receipt of a complaint of sexual harassment involving any of those employees he or she supervises or over whom he or she has managerial authority, and who does not investigate, and, if appropriate, take corrective action or report the matter directly to the President or the President's designee, shall be subject to disciplinary action up to and including dismissal or expulsion.

(3) Complaints and Appeal Procedures. Any employee or student who believes that he or she is a victim of discrimination, including sexual harassment as defined above, may pursue informal resolution of the complaint or may file a formal written complaint in accordance with University Rules 6C1-1.0063 and 6C1-4.012 F.A.C. Employees and students may contact the Vice Provost for Affirmative Action Programs to seek assistance in informally resolving the complaint or in filing a formal complaint or grievance.

JUDICIAL PROCESS FOR ACADEMIC HONESTY VIOLATIONS

Instructors should meet with the student to explain the nature of their suspicions and listen to the student's account of the incident. If the instructor still believes the student is responsible for cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation, bribery, conspiracy, or fabrication, then he/she can recommend a sanction to the student. This sanction can include a grade penalty and an educational seminar. If the student accepts the grade penalty and sanction, then he/she will admit responsibility and complete the Faculty Adjudication Form (FAF) as appropriate. The instructor should send the FAF with recommended sanction to Student Judicial Affairs in 202 Peabody Hall within 24 hours of being completed. A disciplinary file will be created for that student. If the student does not accept responsibility for your sanction, he/she may choose to have the case heard by the Student Conduct Committee or the Student Honor Court. Again, the instructor should send the FAF and all original documentation to Student Judicial Affairs in 202 Peabody Hall within 24 hours, so that a disciplinary file can also be created. The student must schedule an appointment with the Assistant Dean and Director of Student Judicial Affairs or his/her designee within 48 hours to discuss the hearing options. The instructor will be asked to be a witness at either type of hearing.

Students found responsible for a first offense violation at a hearing will generally receive a grade penalty, conduct probation, an educational sanction, or any combination thereof. A formal hearing is required for a second offense. The instructor is to contact Student Judicial Affairs at 392-1261 to determine if the student has a prior academic honesty violation. A finding of responsibility for a second offense typically results in suspension from the University of Florida for a period of time.

While a student is under review for academic dishonesty, it is important for him/her to continue class until the matter is resolved. The student cannot drop a class in which there is an unresolved allegation. If the student is found responsible, he/she may not withdraw from the class. A student who does withdraw from the class will be reinstated. If the student is found responsible for academic dishonesty, the faculty member is accountable for adjusting the student's grade to reflect the grade penalty agreed upon when grades are due at the end of the semester.

Computer Design Studio Operational Policies

Introduction:

The computer design studio was initiated to provide support for the design of scenery, costumes, lighting, and sound for the School of Theatre and Dance. Design courses in all areas now utilize computer technology in the design process to some degree. Some areas currently rely heavily on the use of this technology, while others are just beginning to use the technology. The use of computers in theatrical design is now widespread throughout the industry, and our curriculum reflects this trend. The studio is intended to augment the UF computer policy (see CFA web pages for details, www.arts.ufl.edu). Use of the studio has specific purposes, rules, and requirements. Its primary goal is to serve the production program. It also serves as a teaching studio for faculty members teaching small design classes. Designated computers in room 216 may be used for general purposes when they are not required to serve the production program. The teaching lab is primarily for use by classes, and the open lab is only available to School of Theatre and Dance students during normal hours.

Storage of Data/Files:

All stations are equipped with CD Rom readers and USB ports on the front of the machine. NO DATA OR FILES SHALL BE SAVED TO THE HARD DRIVES OF ANY STATION. Please provide your own USB travel/jump drives for your data. User accounts and data will be cleared periodically.

Software Restriction:

The installation of personal software in any lab computer station is strictly prohibited. Only UF licensed software shall be permissible on these stations. A violation of this rule shall result in the loss of studio privileges.

Food and Beverages:

Under no circumstances is any food or beverage allowed in the computer design labs. A violation of this rule shall result in the loss of studio privileges.

Printing:

At this time, the school shall absorb the costs for printing documents related to school productions and academic projects. This shall include paper and ink for plotters and paper and ink for networked printers. Currently two plotters reside in the lab, a 24" black and white and a 36" black and white, as well as a color and an 8.5" x 11" laser printer. Plotters shall only be used to support the production program.

Attitude towards printing:

It is expected that our Theatre and Dance students will respect the privilege and convenience of this lab and treat it accordingly. We anticipate that students and faculty alike will be conscious of the use of ink and paper and will endeavor to be reasonable and sensitive in the use of expendable materials. At this time, it is reasonable for designers to expect to print a full set of drawings of their design work after all revisions are complete for their own records. We expect printing to be used in a judicious and efficient manner. By being conservative with the use of ink and paper, we hope to continue to be able to provide these supplies at no additional charge. Student lab fees will be used to maintain a stock of paper and ink. Please follow a few simple rules:

1. Print only as many copies as needed.
2. Minimize use of "fills" and "hatches" when printing for the scenic and costume studios.
3. Print final versions of your designs at the end of your design process.
4. Print during "off peak" use times (early morning or evening). Printing may occupy the station for a while and slow it down.

5. Make additional copies from the “blue line” machine in the Theatre for additional “shop copies.”

Use of stations:

1. Work with Clean hands. A dirty keyboard or a dirty mouse spread germs and is disrespectful of others who use the machines.
2. Do not ask the machine to work faster than it can. Work at a speed that is appropriate for the application you are working in. A “frozen” computer is often caused by an operator asking too much of the machine’s capabilities.
3. DO NOT TOUCH THE SCREENS. The screens will not appreciate fingerprints on their surface. Use the mouse as a pointer. Use a dry cloth only to clear any smudges on the screens. Any other method can damage the surface coating.
4. Respect the technology.

2. That site provides links to the individual foundations sponsoring awards. You can search the website of the organization directly. There you will find not only helpful information, but the necessary application forms.
3. Fill out the forms, paying particular attention to the essay portions. These are extremely important, since they represent your opportunity to tell the jury about yourself and to convince the reader that you are truly worthy of the award. Be sure that your essays are clear, well-written, and say what you want to tell about yourself and your background. You should have faculty advisors review them. The Awards Advisor in the Honors program will offer suggestions as well.
4. Turn in your completed application to the Honors Office by the deadline listed. ALL materials should be submitted, including transcripts and letters of reference. The letters may be sent by campus mail or delivered by you. If you deliver them, make sure the writer has sealed the envelope and signed across the seal! Otherwise the letter is not considered official.
5. A committee will review your application. Some of the awards require an interview, such as the Rhodes or Truman. If your award does have an interview, you will be asked to submit some available times. If your application is strong enough, we will interview you and will call you to set up the time.
6. Once the committee has reviewed the applications, we will notify you about our decision. Those candidates who are nominated by UF may (and probably will) need to do some revisions or provide additional materials. Stay in touch and be prepared to continue working on your application should you be selected as a UF nominee.
7. For any additional information or assistance, contact the Awards Advisors by visiting their web site at <http://www.honors.ufl.edu/staff.html>

UNDERGRADUATE ADMISSIONS/AUDITIONS

UNDERGRADUATE ADMISSIONS

Admissions to the Bachelor of Fine Arts and Master of Fine Arts Theatre and Dance Degree programs are based on artistry and scholarship. Placement in the program will be determined through audition/portfolio interview, academic credentials, diagnostic testing, and personal interview.

Admission to the Bachelor of Arts Degree program is based upon scholarship: 2.0 GPA and a grade of C or above in three of the following four courses--TPP 2110 Acting 1; THE 2020 Introduction to Theatre for Majors; and either TPA 2232c Beginning Costume and Makeup or TPA 2202c Stagecraft.

Admissions to the Minor Programs are based upon scholarship (2.0 or above).

POST-BACCALAUREATE STATUS:

The University of Florida has extremely limited space for Post-Baccalaureate students.

The following are the only instances and conditions that admission may be granted.

1. To satisfy pre-requisites for admission to graduate school. However, students who wish to prepare themselves for a graduate program at UF should be admitted conditionally to the graduate program rather than as Post-Baccalaureate status. A contract should be written in conjunction with the School, carefully delineating what the student needs to do to pursue graduate school.

2. Students who need to expand their credentials to become certified to teach or who wish to complete a second degree in an OFF-CAMPUS program.

UNDERGRADUATE ADVISEMENT

Once you become a theatre or dance major, your initial advisement session will be with the School of Theatre and Dance Undergraduate Advisor. See Kevin Austin regarding academic and administrative matters. The Undergraduate Theatre Coordinator, Dr. Ralf Remshardt, and Undergraduate Dance Coordinator, Ric Rose, serves as Career Advisor.

Before registration each semester, you are to see Kevin Austin during his scheduled hours. It is the student's responsibility to see the Advisor.

Ultimately, the responsibility for fulfillment of all University and School requirements rests with the student including applying for graduation at the Registrar's Office (222 Criser Hall) according to posted deadlines. Check ISIS for accuracy each semester.

The BFA Degree prepares the aspiring professional in an area of emphasis through classroom, laboratory, studio, and performance courses of study. Admission to the program will be based on artistry and scholarship. Placement in the program will be determined through audition/portfolio review and academic credentials.

BFA auditions and portfolio reviews will be held twice each year. Specific information available online from the following websites:

- BFA Theatre –
“<http://www.arts.ufl.edu/theatreanddance/pages/whatyouneed/auditions/theatre.asp>”

Upon admission to the program, the student becomes responsible for all published regulations of the College of Fine Arts. Admittance to the BFA program is selective; therefore, students are expected to maintain a significant profile in performance and production work within the School of Theatre and Dance, and academic work while at the University. Artistic and academic progress will be evaluated each term.

MAGNA OR SUMMA CUM LAUDE HONORS

ALL CANDIDATES FOR MAGNA OR SUMMA CUM LAUDE MUST CONSULT WITH THE SCHOOL ADVISOR REGARDING NOMINATION, COMMITTEE FORMS, AND DEADLINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF HONORS THESIS. THE COMPLETED THESIS WILL BE ACCEPTED BY THE HONORS COMMITTEE NO LATER THAN 5:00 PM TWO WEEKS PRIOR TO THE FINAL THESIS SUBMISSION DATE.

REQUIREMENTS

A. Eligibility

A minimum 3.75 upper division GPA is required for eligibility. All students with a minimum 3.40 upper division GPA will graduate Cum Laude. Students must be nominated by the School of Theatre and Dance Advisor to qualify for an Honors distinction. Please see the School of Theatre and Dance Advisor the semester prior to graduation for eligibility requirements and deadlines. Students graduating in summer must submit their Honors Thesis the spring prior to graduation.

B. BFA Candidates in Performance, Production, and Dance

1. All candidates will be required to submit a written document/scholarly paper of some 12-15 pages ("Honors Thesis") that will demonstrate capability in research and in conceptual, creative, or analytical thinking. The paper should demonstrate familiarity with the terminology in the field of performance, production/design, or dance.

3. If the Honors Thesis is drawn from a practical project or performance, production majors must include design documentation to support the paper. Performance majors must include slides of the performance. Dance majors should include a videotape/DVD/website if it presents no infringement of copyright laws.
4. The candidate will choose two faculty advisors, complete the Honors Thesis form, and return the form to the Undergraduate Academic Advisor prior to undertaking the Honors Thesis. When the faculty advisors are satisfied with the candidate's work, they will make a recommendation on Magna Cum laude or Summa Cum laude to the full faculty. The faculty will make a decision based on these recommendations as well as the abstracts of the Honors Thesis. To ensure a smooth process, completed Honors Thesis must be submitted to the Honors Committee no later than two weeks prior to the final thesis submission. The deadline for Honors Thesis submission is set by the Honors College and is available on the Registrar's "Critical Dates" website at <http://www.registrar.ufl.edu/>.

The BA Honors Thesis may consist of a conventional research paper, an original play, or a dramaturgical protocol. A design project, with proper documentation, will also be accepted.

For further information about Honors Theses and to download an Honors submission form please visit the Honors web site at "<http://www.honors.ufl.edu/upperdivisionhonors.html>"

JURY PROCEDURES

BFA JURIES

BFA students are juried, evaluated, and advised each semester.

BFA students must participate in each semester's block auditions, portfolio reviews, or BFA Dance auditions (as appropriate to the student's respective major).

JURY PROCEDURES: ACTING AND MUSICAL THEATRE

Following each semester's juries, the acting faculty will discuss each student's progress. Their discussion will be based upon observations of auditions, of various performances, of class work, etc. Successful juries are based on jury presentations and how thoroughly and successfully performance responsibilities are met. To remain in good standing BFA Actors and Musical Theatre performers must also maintain high standards in coursework. Jury evaluations are based on the above criteria along with other faculty observations. Faculty remarks will be organized and catalogued by the student's advisors and will become part of the student's permanent file. In the week following auditions/jury presentations students must make appointments with their assigned Performance Faculty adjudicators in order to receive evaluation. At these meetings, students will be advised of their status in the program. Students may also speak with other members of the acting faculty for clarification and/or advice.

Failure to meet expected standards in all criteria in any semester results in probation. Failure to remove probationary status in the following semester may result in advisement out of the BFA program.

DANCE

Fall semester evaluations will be informal discussions scheduled as needed to enhance communication. Either the student or the faculty may request an evaluation meeting.

Formal juries will be held during the spring semester. Students will prepare resumes, self-evaluations, and portfolios. Self-evaluations should use the above criteria in reference to the students' activities during the year and may include discussion of progress toward specific individual goals. Resumes and self-evaluations will be turned in to the faculty by an announced deadline prior to the jury date. The student will bring his/her portfolio to the jury meeting.

The dance faculty will evaluate students based upon observations of work in classes, performances, and other professionally related activities. Students will schedule jury meetings with the faculty on announced dates. At the jury meeting, the student should be prepared to discuss his/her goals and accomplishments for the year as well as future plans. Faculty will write jury reports based upon their evaluations and the meetings. These reports will become part of the student's permanent record.

Fall juries are now required for all dance freshman and senior students and by request for all others. They will be scheduled on the reading days.

Spring juries will be held during Finals week. Students will make individual appointments. Appointment time options will be announced in early April.

PRODUCTION

Production/Design students will participate in a jury at the end of the fall semester. At this time, they should be prepared to present a resume and portfolio. The portfolio may include photos, slides, drawing, and projects from classes and production assignments. At this time, the design faculty will discuss evaluations with the students.

BFA CASTING

BFA Acting and Musical Theatre students are required to participate in each semester's block auditions and jury presentations. Freshman and Sophomore BFA Actors will accept any role assigned to them in a UF SoTD main stage production. Junior and Senior BFA Actors are required to accept any supporting or major role assigned to them in a UF SoTD production. A Junior or Senior BFA Actor cast is a small or bit role in a main stage production, after discussion with the director of the main stage play regarding the circumstances and on a case-by-case basis, may be released from their responsibilities on the main stage in order to perform a substantial role in other than a SoTD mainstage production.

SENIOR PROJECTS

All Senior Project students must have the Senior Project proposal signed by a faculty supervisor and presented to the School of Theatre and Dance Advisor before the student can register for that class and section. No exceptions will be made. Individual study registrations will also be bound by the same rules as the Senior Project.

PRODUCTION GUIDELINES: SENIOR PROJECT AND SHOWCASE

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The Senior Project and Showcase Series are designed to provide an environment for experimentation and risk taking, promoting the creation of original works. Students should feel free to choose material/projects and develop them on their own. With this freedom, the student also accepts responsibility as a theatre artist.

OBJECTIVES

To explore the creative process
To engage in freedom of expression
To explore the dynamics between artist and audience
To share the aesthetic experience
To create original work

PROCEDURE

Select a project
Submit a proposal form to the Project Advisor, the Undergraduate Coordinator, and the Undergraduate Advisor, which includes:

- (1) Project title
- (2) Statement of purpose/nature of experiment
- (3) Date/time of performance and performance space
- (4) Persons involved

THE 4959 SENIOR PROJECT FOR BFA DEGREES. F, S, SS 2 credits

The Senior BFA student will select a final project in his/her major area of interest. BFA Acting and Musical Theatre students will use roles won through the SoTD block auditions. If not cast in a SoTD main stage play students may elect to use a role from a Florida Players or Hippodrome production. Only under extenuating circumstances and on a case-by-case basis may students develop a project of sufficient scale and scope in a Studio Showcase.

Production students may elect to use projects in design, stage management, or assistant design/ technical direction on SoTD productions. Off-campus projects are discouraged, as shop and personnel support is often unpredictable.

LOGISTICS: BFA students must acquire a Project Advisor appropriate to the focus of their project. Once a project has been agreed upon between the student and Project Advisor the student must submit their proposal to the appropriate Undergraduate Coordinator using the THE 4959 BFA Senior Project Proposal Form. The Undergraduate BFA Acting Coordinator is Tiza Garland, BFA Musical Theatre Coordinator is Tony Mata, and the Design Coordinator is Paul Favini. All BFA Senior Project proposals MUST BE APPROVED BY THE APPROPRIATE COORDINATOR. Once the project has been approved by the Undergraduate Coordinator the proposal form must be turned in to the Undergraduate Advisor, Kevin Austin. All forms should be submitted to the Undergraduate Advisor the semester before the project is to be undertaken.

Meeting times are to be arranged between the BFA Student and the Project Advisor. The student is responsible for keeping the Project Advisor up-to-date on his/her progress. The Project Advisor will attend rehearsals or performances, shop sessions, production meetings, fittings, etc. - within reason - upon the student's request. During the project, BFA Students will keep a complete journal and record of research, sketches, drawings, budget, and promptbooks, as appropriate to your project. (Prior to your project, clarify with your Project Advisor all the expectations for your BFA Senior Project.) No senior project will be scheduled during the last two weeks of each semester. Upon completion of the project, the student will turn in a 10-12 page process paper to their Project Advisor. In order to guarantee sufficient time for grading, the submission date will usually be no later than one week before the final day of classes.

GRADING: The project grade is assessed by the Project Advisor, based primarily on the quality of the written work submitted. The student must work to achieve a "B" or above.

THE 4970 SENIOR PROJECT FOR BA DEGREE. F, S 1 credit

PURPOSE OF COURSE: The Senior Project in the BA is designed as a capstone project for the Bachelor of Arts in General Theatre track. Students enroll in THE 4970, usually during the last semester of their senior year.

REQUIREMENTS: The Senior Project shall consist of a significant piece of work that will demonstrate the students' expertise in both the academic and practical fields of the theatre, resulting in a document of substantial length (usually 10-20 pages). Possible choices are: dramaturgical work on a production, yielding a dramaturge's protocol; a major research paper on a topic of practical importance; the creation of a World Wide Web site; an archival research project using resources such as the Belknap Collection or the School's own archives and primary documents, etc. The BA Senior Project will not usually be a performance project.

LOGISTICS: At the beginning of their final semester, the student contacts the Undergraduate Coordinator of the School to enroll in the course and to agree upon a suitable project or topic. A project must be established no later than the end of the second week of classes. The Undergraduate Theatre Coordinator, Dr. Ralf Remshardt, will be the instructor of record for THE 4970 and the default faculty supervisor for all BA Senior Projects. However, every student is free to choose an alternate faculty supervisor. There are no regularly scheduled meetings. The student is responsible for keeping the faculty supervisor up-to-date on his/her progress. In the case of a project connected to a production (e.g., dramaturgy), the faculty supervisor will attend rehearsals or performances - within reason - upon the student's request.

It is the responsibility of the student to select a project and to inform the Undergraduate Advisor of the nature of the project in writing on the BA Senior Proposal Sheet. At that time, a submission date will be negotiated, which will be considered binding.

GRADING: The project grade is assessed by the project Advisor, based primarily on the quality of the written work submitted. The grade must be a "B" or better.

DAN 4959 - SENIOR PROJECT FOR BFA IN DANCE PERFORMANCE. F, S, SS 2 credits

BFA in Dance Performance track majors are required to complete two senior projects, one in choreography and one in production/direction. These projects are individually selected in consultation with the project supervisor (a member of the dance faculty), and must meet the following standards of choreography and production:

CHOREOGRAPHY

This should be a piece of choreography of the quality, scope, and aesthetic stance to warrant presentation in either a mainstage or more intimate concert. Therefore, it should be a group work of at least five minutes that successfully realizes its artistic purpose. In some cases, solo works may be of sufficient scope. If the piece is co-choreographed, each choreographer using it as a senior project must be responsible for the choreography of at least five minutes. The maximum time acceptable (including co-choreographed pieces) is twenty minutes.

The student must meet all production responsibilities (e.g., providing information, meeting with designers, meeting deadlines, etc.). In addition, he/she may be asked to arrange extra showings and/or conferences with the supervisor.

DANCE PRODUCTION

The purpose of this project is to allow the student the opportunity (and experience) to synthesize and apply all the information he/she has accrued toward the full realization of a dance performance. The types of project possibilities are:

- assisting the faculty in large projects; or
- being responsible for a smaller project in any of the following capacities:
 - as a Company based producer (manager, director, etc.)
 - self produced and/or "home" programs;
 - a package produced/presented by others and/or touring;
 - as a presenter.

The project supervisor will work with the student to develop an outline of responsibilities specific to the project. It is recommended that the student wishing to be independently responsible for a production keep his/her project within the scope of a 30-minute program.

UNDERGRADUATE PROBATION

Academic Probation is dictated by the University and requires all theatre and dance students to maintain a 2.0 grade point average or above. (See Undergraduate Catalogue for more information.)

PROBATION

(from the Undergraduate Catalog 2009-2010)

The intent of academic probation is to serve notice formally that a student may not be making satisfactory progress. The conditions of academic probation are intended to specify the achievement standards required to graduate, to identify unsatisfactory academic performance at an early date, to provide occasion for counseling, and to give students whose ultimate success is in question further opportunity to demonstrate their ability to meet academic expectations.

Academic probation can occur for the following reasons:

- Students may be placed on probation by their college for failure to maintain normal academic progress in their degree program. College probation will be removed when the college determines that satisfactory academic progress has been demonstrated.
- Undergraduate students with less than a 2.0 cumulative grade point average for University of Florida course work and a grade point deficit of fewer than 15 shall be placed on academic probation.
- Academic probation will be continued for all undergraduate students as long as they have a grade point deficit of fewer than 15. It will be removed when the grade point deficit has been reduced to zero. Should the grade point deficit increase to 15 or more, the student will be dismissed from the university.

• Artistic Probation indicates that theatre students must, in the following semester, demonstrate that they possess the requisite qualities to achieve success in their area. If a theatre student has not been cast in a role or production position for two successive semesters, he/she will be required to present a Showcase Production to persuasively demonstrate credentials for success in the future.

IMPORTANT ACADEMIC INFORMATION

- * No grade below "C" in any required course will be accepted toward completion of the degree.
- * No required course may be taken S-U. However, the BA foreign language requirement may be taken S/U.
- * Current syllabi are on file in the School office.
- * Students should be aware that the University Undergraduate Catalog requires that nine credit hours be completed during summer terms.
- * Only illness and real emergencies are valid reasons for I's and X's. Too many I and X grades constitute an abuse and create problems for both students and faculty. These grades will be awarded only in extraordinary circumstances.
- * A student's general education program follows the University Catalog for the year the student entered the University. The theatre or dance degree program follows the requirements published in the University Catalog for the year the student enters the School.

THEATRE GRADUATE PROGRAM

The Master of Fine Arts is a terminal degree for practical theatre artists. Graduates are prepared to enter professional theatre, teaching, or allied fields.

MASTER OF FINE ARTS IN ACTING: The MFA in Acting Degree challenges and focuses the advanced artist-scholar through a rigorous classroom, laboratory, studio, and performance course of study. It requires intensive and extensive sequential study.

MASTER OF FINE ARTS IN PRODUCTION: Costume, Light and Scene Design
The MFA in Design and Technology focuses and challenges advanced designers and technologists in developing their artistic expression commensurate with the expectations of professional performing arts. Through rigorous classroom, laboratory and studio projects the course of study culminates in a realized thesis production.

MFA AUDITION

Interviews and auditions are required of all applicants requesting graduate admission into the School of Theatre and Dance. Often, faculty representatives invite prospective graduates to auditions through contacts at SETC conventions and URTA, as well as interviews at USITT and ATHE. Auditions for entering graduates are held on campus in the presence of the theatre performance faculty. Interviews are also required of candidates before and after school auditions.

MFA JURIES AND PORTFOLIO REVIEW

MFA students are admitted to the program and, when possible, supported with assistantships to form the core of the acting and production company. They must participate in each semester's auditions/portfolio reviews and may only accept assignments at other theatres when they are not engaged for University of Florida productions. Success (and continuation of financial assistance) is based on how thoroughly and successfully responsibilities are met. Graduate students are juried and evaluated twice a year, based on the following criteria.

- 1) Artistic Growth and Potential for Success in the Professional Theatre: Members of the faculty observe students' work in recital performances and in various produced showcases. These scenes and/or production projects with other performances, provide the basis for discussion.
- 2) Academic Achievement: Students' performance in classes is scrutinized and evaluated by the faculty. In order to remain in good standing, graduate students must maintain a 3.0 minimum grade point average. Any grade below B in students' major area of study results in probation.
- 3) "Cast-ability" and Production Ensemble: Graduate students are expected not only to perform pivotal roles and production positions in productions; they are also expected to serve as role models for younger students. This responsibility precisely equates the students' function in all production ensembles. Graduate students are, therefore, evaluated on such qualities as rehearsal and performance discipline, as well as interpersonal skills and relationships. Collegiality, collaboration, cooperation, and general demeanor are included in evaluation.
- 4) Teaching/Production: Teaching/production assistants are required to work approximately 13 1/2 hours per week to fulfill the contractual obligations of 33% assistantships and approximately 20 hours per week for a 46% assistantship. Graduate Assistants work under faculty supervisors who submit written evaluations of the quality of work to the Director.

These letters compose an employment evaluation. After reviewing these documents, students may file rebuttals, which are kept in the students' employment files.

MFA Performance Internship:

MFA acting students are required to complete 6 credit hours of off-campus industry internship, preferably in the third year of the program. This internship is defined as a full-time, full semester working experience with a reputable theatre company or theatrical industry agency. The duties of the internship may be specified by the students in conjunction with the specific institution where the internship occurs. Students are required to submit a letter from the on-site supervisor at the location of the internship explaining the expected nature of the internship and the start and stop dates for the experience. Students must also fill out an evaluative form and receive signatures approving the perspective internship from the Head of Graduate Actor Training, Graduate Studies Coordinator, and the Director of the School of Theatre and Dance before and at the end of the internship experience.

MFA Performance Comprehensive Examination:

MFA acting students are required to complete an examination of comprehensive knowledge during the third year of the program covering areas that may include theater history, literature and criticism, acting theory, mastery of voice and movement techniques, principles of directing, aspects of cultural studies, and questions designed to demonstrate the expression of a sophisticated and unique personal aesthetic. The examination is comprised of questions submitted by members of the graduate performance faculty. Students are allowed one week to complete all sections of the examination and must verify the examination dates with the head of graduate actor training or Graduate Performance Advisor at the beginning of the third year of program studies (within one week of the beginning of the term). The advisor will prepare each student's questions for the determined date(s) of the exam. Students will submit in a typed copy of the completed examination adhering to all rules of current MLA standards and formats for academic writing, including works cited and bibliography pages. The Graduate Performance Advisor will make copies of the examination for distribution to the entire performance faculty and arrange for an examination defense session within one to two weeks following the completion of the examination by the student and the reception of the complete exam by all members of the graduate faculty. All such examinations and defenses must be completed before one week preceding the end of the academic semester in which the exam is administered.

MFA Performance Project in Lieu of Thesis:

The MFA performance project-in-lieu of thesis is expected to be a major role or in a main stage production during the third year of study. Usually, these assignments will be made and confirmed during the preceding spring term before the student enters the third year of study. The thesis role or design assignment may be one that has been suggested by the student. However, the assignment of thesis roles is the ultimate and direct responsibility of the head of graduate actor training in consultation and collaboration with the graduate performance faculty and the Director of the School of Theatre and Dance. Role assignments should be made with concerns for the best interests of the student actor, the needs and opportunities for casting in the current production season, and the agreement of each production director. In preparation for the thesis project, each actor assigned a thesis role must present written background research work for the role to the production director and to the head of graduate actor training at the time of, or before, the first official rehearsal for the production. This research work must include a bibliography. Following the rehearsal process and performance of the thesis role, the student will have no more than two weeks in which to submit a project summary of the process. The thesis project summary report should not exceed 5-10 type-written pages. The student will then prepare a project report abstract, as required by the Graduate School of the University (not to exceed 2-3 pages) and a finished copy of the full performance project report to be submitted no later than one week before the last day of classes in the semester the thesis role has been performed. Each student is assigned a Supervisory Committee at the beginning of the second year of study to assist and advise in this process.

Failure to meet expected standards of all criteria in any semester results in probation. Failure to remove probationary status in the following semester may result in termination of assistantship or dismissal from the program.

MFA PROJECT REPORT

All students must submit a satisfactory document that describes and evaluates their project-in-lieu-of-thesis. The document should provide the performer with the opportunity to review his/her process in concise and concrete terms and demonstrate a procedure for approaching future projects. Above all, it should focus on a high level of reflection, demonstrate the performer's close familiarity with the terminology and methodology of the field and with his/her instruments - emotional, verbal, and analytical. The reader of the document should be able to gather important information on the process and product of a theatre artist. The document contains an evaluation, an annotated bibliography, and an appendix. It is important that the performer consciously approach the MFA thesis role with a view to its eventual analysis and documentation. The performer is required to keep a detailed journal from the first reading of the play or discussion of the production. The journal will serve to reconstruct the working process.

Students preparing to write their documents should secure a copy of GUIDE FOR PREPARING THESES AND DISSERTATIONS from the Graduate School. Even though MFA candidates do not follow all the guidelines discussed in the manual, they will find much valuable information in this document.

Each candidate is responsible for conforming to regulations governing format, final term procedures, and dates for submitting to his/her Supervisory Committee.

The Graduate School issues deadline dates for each term. The dates and instructions therein supersede those listed in the Graduate Catalog calendar. Copies of deadline dates and related forms and materials are available in the Editorial Office, 109 Grinter Hall (GRI). These deadlines are firm. Additional deadline dates are issued by the College of Fine Arts and the School of Theatre and Dance.

ADVISEMENT

Advisement and counseling of graduate students is conducted by Dr. Mikell Pinkney, Graduate Performance Advisor. In the second semester of study, he/she is assigned a Supervisory Committee comprised of two graduate faculty members. This committee supervises the project-in-lieu-of thesis and its accompanying report. A supervisory committee chair and member advise and assist the student with the completion of the final project-in-lieu-of-thesis.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE SUPERVISORY COMMITTEE AND CHAIR

The Chair of the candidate's Supervisory Committee is basically responsible for the level of scholarship exhibited in the Project Report. The manuscript must demonstrate a high level of professional competence, and only the Supervisory Committee can give the candidate the guidance and instruction necessary to achieve this goal.

The Chair of the Committee will be assigned to the performer from the beginning of the process. The Chair will be available to answer any questions concerning modes of analysis and documentation, but will not interfere with the director's role. It is the responsibility of the Chair of the Committee to ascertain that the candidate's report is written in acceptable English, in an appropriate scholarly style, and that it is carefully proofed prior to submission to the Graduate Faculty of the College of Fine Arts.

At the candidate's final examination, each member will certify on the line above his/her name on the signature page that he/she has read the final version of the manuscript and found it acceptable in scope and quality. The Report of Final Examination form accompanies the Project Report.

The Graduate Advisor for the School of Theatre and Dance distributes a schedule of deadline dates for the semester to students expecting to graduate and the Chairs of their Supervisory Committees. These dates are based on deadline dates established by the Graduate School and the College of Fine Arts. Students submit materials to the Chairs of the Supervisory Committees in conformance with the deadline dates. The Committee Chair advises when he/she is completely satisfied with the document. At that point, the student presents a clean copy of the complete document (Evaluation and Bibliography) to the Second Reader for his/her comments and suggestions. The student reviews these notes with his/her Chair. After the student and the Committee Chair have agreed upon incorporation of the Second Reader's notes, the final, complete document, with all supporting materials, is submitted to the full Committee for final review before the oral defense and submission of the document to the Graduate Faculty of the College of Fine Arts. No reader should hold the document for longer than one week and no writer should expect the document to be returned in less than one week.

FINAL TERM PROCEDURES FOR THE MFA DEGREE

Registration

All degree candidates must be registered for at least three credit hours during the term the final examination is given and the term the degree is conferred.

Degree Application

By approximately the second week of the final term (consult the deadline dates for the exact date), all candidates must apply at the Registrar's Office, 222 Criser Hall, for a degree to be awarded at the end of that term. This application may be made on the Audit Information Sheet filed with registration; care must be taken to cite the correct degree, term, and year. This application must be renewed by the candidate each term that graduation is expected. Candidates who do not meet this deadline will not be permitted to graduate during that term. The Dean's Office must be informed if any candidate wishes to remove his/her name from the graduation list of Fine Arts.

Requirements for Graduation

It is essential that all candidates check with the Records Office (288 GRI) to be sure that all requirements for graduation have been met or will be met in the final semester. Petitions of degree requirements and transfer of credit will be entertained by the Graduate School no later than the term preceding the one in which the candidate is to receive the degree. Consult the deadline dates for the exact date.

Preparation for Final Examination

Every candidate should ascertain the School, College, and Graduate School deadlines for submitting the manuscript. He/she should schedule the final examination to allow time to make corrections in order to meet final submission deadlines.

Submission of Project Report and Supporting Documentation

The project report is submitted to the Graduate Faculty of the College of Fine Arts in approximately the 13th week of classes. The Project Report must be defended and in final form prior to submission. Only the Chair of the Committee may request an extension of time in cases of extremely unusual circumstances.

No later than the dates specified, candidates must submit the following materials:

1. Two complete copies of the Project Report to the Dean of Fine Arts, typed on 20 pound, 100% rag bond, fully signed and inserted in the specified expanding folder. Appendix pages need not be duplicated on rag bond paper.
2. Signed final Examination Report accompanies the Project Report.

3. Three copies of the abstract (two page maximum), separate and without page numbers, copied on 20 pound, 100% rag bond; two copies to the Graduate School and one copy to the Dean of Fine Arts.
4. Profile of Position after Graduation (available in 109 GRI) to the Graduate School.
5. A library binding processing fee of $12.80 is required for all students. Pay at S113 Criser and submit the receipt in your expanding envelope.

Style Guide

The School of Theatre and Dance requires use of the current edition of the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers, by Joseph Gibaldi in writing the Project Report.

Number of Copies

The candidate supplies two copies in individual, letter-sized, heavy-duty, expanding fiber envelopes with elastic, string, or Velcro closures to the College of Fine Arts' Dean's Office. Each envelope should be labeled on the upper-left flap with surname, initials; major schools; degree; e-mail address or telephone number; and month and year of graduation. A library binding processing fee of $12.80 is required for all students. Please pay at S113 Criser and submit the receipt in your expanding envelope. The student may prepare a personal copy and should also check if their supervisory committee chair would like a personal copy. Personal copies are not submitted to the Dean's Office; however, students may submit extra signature pages, which will be signed and returned to the student for inclusion in personal copies.

Printing and Copying

The report must be printed on thesis paper, double-spaced, one side only, in any standard typeface. It must be uniform in size, face, and color throughout the manuscript. Do not use bold-faced fonts. The use of a word processing program is strongly encouraged. All type must be sharp, clear, and clean, with no weak areas.

Paper stock for the manuscript is 8 1/2" x 11" bond, 20 pound, 100% rag content, whether cotton, linen, or fiber. Locally available brands include Southworth, Parchment Deed, and Eatons. Hold a sheet up to the light; correct paper stock will be watermarked with brand name and 100% fiber content. This paper is not required for the document appendix except for the signature page. Copies of abstracts submitted separately must be on thesis-bond paper.

Corrections

The appearance of the finished work should be neat, clean, and without noticeable corrections.

Final copies of all manuscripts must be submitted in the specified expanding folder.

Length, Spacing, and Margin Requirements

The length of the Project Report is no fewer than 7,500 and no more than 15,000 words (approximately 25-50 pages).

All standard manuscript copy (between lines of text and between paragraphs) should be typed double-spaced as per the MLA Handbook.

The margin on the left side of should be 1 1/2" top. Right and bottom margins should be at least 1". All text, including page numbering and footnoting (if applicable), should fall within these margins.

Preliminary Pages

Preliminary pages of every manuscript must include a Title Page, a Table of Contents, and an Abstract, and may include a Dedication and Acknowledgments. All are counted; only

Title Page

Titles must be consistent in every respect, including punctuation and hyphenation, on the Title Page, the Abstract, and supplementary forms. Check punctuation, hyphenation, underlining, spelling, capitalization, and so forth. Copy, spacing, and paper bond must meet Graduate School requirements.

Use legal name on the Title Page, Abstract, and all forms. Do not use first name and initial in one place and first and middle name in another.

Table Page

Table of Contents should list the following items: Acknowledgments, Abstract, Evaluation, Annotated Bibliography, and Appendix. Separate appendix items should be listed and indented under the main title.

Abstract

Immediately preceding page one of main text, the Project Report must include an Abstract that describes the content and organization of the report. Abstracts cannot exceed two pages and must conform to standard margin requirements. Copy, spacing, and paper bond must meet Graduate School requirements.

Evaluation

The Evaluation section is the main body of the Project Report. Organization and content allow for creativity in this manuscript; it reflects primary areas of concern for individual students and projects. The thrust of this section, however, must be evaluative. Processes of research, analysis, rehearsal, and performance may be explored. It should offer readers insight into an performer's or designer's process and product. This report must be written in "appropriate scholarly style."

The following is a suggested format:

1. Introduction (ca. 500 words). May contain comments on the process of choosing the play and/or role; other pertinent comments.
2. Text analysis (ca. 1,000 - 1,500 words). A concise discussion of the text, placing it within its history, genre, critical tradition, etc., and including a brief performance history. Use of secondary materials (reviews, criticism) is strongly recommended. The point of the text analysis is to demonstrate the performer's awareness of the problems and possibilities of the role as they emerge from the text.
3. Documentation and analysis of rehearsal process and performance preparation (ca. 5,000-6,000 words). This main section of the thesis allows the performer to demonstrate his/her sophistication in using techniques learned in the MFA program, for constructing a performance and thinking about the process. In this section, the performer should be explicit about his/her methodology and refer to standard terminology and acting literature. The approach can be either chronological (charting progress) or thematic (documenting selected areas of concentration). The writer should avoid being merely anecdotal and should draw on the acting diary to establish a clear sense of the process of understanding and exploring the role. The emphasis should be on problem solving, demonstrating how the specific challenges of the role were met. The section should conclude with an analysis of the methods used and their adequacy to the project.
4. Performance (ca. 500-1,000 words). A brief discussion of the performance of the role should note whether the rehearsal period accomplished a comprehensive preparation for the live performance (and if not, why?), how

- the performance progressed from opening to closing, and citing verbal feedback and criticism as well as any written reviews.
5. Conclusion (ca. 300-500 words). Final summary evaluation of the thesis project.

Bibliography

All research sources are listed in correct bibliographic format.

Appendix

The Appendix section of the Project Report reflects the performer's process and must include a copy of the printed program in plastic binder and production slides or photographs in plastic holders with credit to photographer.

Biographical Sketch

A biographical sketch is required of all candidates. The biographical sketch should be in narrative form. It typically includes the educational background of the candidate.

Signature Page

DANCE MINOR

OBJECTIVES: the Dance Minor is designed for students who wish to pursue the study of the performing art of dance while maintaining a separate primary academic interest. It has both required and elective components, thus providing both a solid general background and the opportunity to tailor the minor program to meet individual interests.
