ARH 2051 Introduction to Principles and History of Art 2
Renaissance to the Present
Spring 2017

Professor Nika Elder
nelder@arts.ufl.edu

Graduate Assistants:
Lauren Walter
laurenwalter@ufl.edu

Clemens Ottenhausen
clemens.alban@ufl.edu

Office Hours:
Weds., 5-6pm
FAC 121

Office hours:
TBD
FAC 118 (“The Salon”)

Lectures:
T/Th, Period 6
LIT 101

Discussion Sections:
Th, Periods 8 & 9
F, Periods 5 & 6

Course Description and Goals

On February 15, 2015, the website BuzzFeed posted a quiz titled, “How well do you know art?” It asked such questions as: “True or False: Van Gogh was an Impressionist painter?” And, “Who painted the Last Supper?” A quick Google search will reveal the answers to these questions and many other facts about visual art, such as the year a certain painting was made, the person who commissioned a given building, or whether a print is an etching or an engraving. But art history is about more than names and dates; it is a way of looking at images and objects of all kinds, deciphering what they say about their given subjects, and understanding why they say those things—what personal, political, religious, or cultural demands the images or objects met. This course will introduce you to the meaning and significance of major works of Western art from the Renaissance to the present and empower you with the skills to develop such interpretations yourself. Ultimately, you will be able to ace a BuzzFeed quiz, but also (and much more importantly) walk the halls of any museum or open any magazine or newspaper and begin to decipher the messages and values that the images you see there communicate.
Course Requirements:

The course has three requirements: engagement, writing assignments, and exams.

1. Engagement

The engagement requirement has three components:

1) Attendance

Attendance is required at every lecture and discussion section. Students are expected to arrive on time.

You are permitted TWO unexcused absences in lecture and NO unexcused absences in section. Any additional absences and/or continued lateness in either aspect of the course will adversely affect your engagement grade.

2) Participation

Great, you’re in class—now what?

1. Take productive notes on lecture. Lectures go well beyond the textbook and will be the basis of all exams, so it is to your benefit to be as thorough in your note-taking as possible. See Appendix A for some helpful note-taking tips.

   Lecture will presume familiarity with information, names, and dates covered in the textbook. Readings from the textbook should be completed in advance of the dates for which they are assigned.

   It is required and can be purchased at the UF bookstore. At the bookstore, you will find the hardcopy of the textbook, which is a packet rather than a bound book, and also includes access to the online version of the textbook. To sign up for the online version of the textbook, using the code provided with the packet, visit:

   https://console.pearson.com/enrollment/av8sr6

   Further instructions for how to sign up for online access can be found in a document titled “Revel Student Registration” in the “Files” section of Canvas.

   If you choose to buy the traditional, bound version of the textbook from an online provider, get the 5th edition (2015). However, the above option is significantly cheaper.

2. Post responses to the discussion questions on Canvas. These questions will help you digest the readings for section and, as such, prepare you for discussion.
Responses to discussion questions are due by 11:59pm the night before your section meets; so, if your section meets on Thursdays at 1:55pm, your responses have to be in by 11:59pm on Wednesday in order to count. There is no partial credit—the response either has been offered and posted by 11:59pm, or it has not.

Readings for section are available in the “Course Reserves” section on Canvas. If your printing budget permits, I strongly encourage you to print the texts prior to reading them so you can underline, highlight, and jot down notes, thoughts, and questions with abandon as well as bring the readings to class for your reference.

3. Participate in discussions in section. Engaging in discussion can take many forms: responding to questions about the readings, to the images on the screen, to the comments made by your classmates, or asking questions of your own.

Feel free to draw connections to contemporary events and issues, personal experience, other classes, and material covered at any point in the semester. Offering opinions that differ from those presented by classmates is encouraged. Pose questions on the lectures, statements made by other students, etc. These contributions will enrich the classroom experience for all involved.

3) Policies

Please adhere to all course policies.

Electronics Policy

Cell phones should be placed on silent and, along with other electronic devices, including laptops, put away for the duration of lecture and section. Notes can and should be taken with pen/pencil on paper rather than by laptop.

Research has proven that taking notes by hand benefits comprehension, retention, and the overall classroom experience. See, for example, the following article from The Chronicle of Higher Education http://chronicle.com/blogs/wiredcampus/taking-notes-by-hand-benefits-recall-researchers-find/51411 and the journal article on which that piece was based http://www.academia.edu/6273095/The_Pen_Is_Mightier_Than_The_Keyboard_Advantages_of_Longhand_Over_Laptop_Note_Taking

With documentation from the Dean of Students Office, a waiver will be made to the laptop policy.

Email Policy

Please check your UF email and Canvas regularly. Important information about assignments, meeting locations, etc. will be disseminated via section list-servs. You are automatically subscribed to the list-serv with your UF email. In most cases, I respond to emails within 24-48 hours.
Conduct Policy

As a matter of course, students are expected to abide by the University’s policies regarding academic honesty, the honor code, and student conduct related to the honor code. Full information regarding these policies is available at the following sites:

Academic Honesty: http://www.registrar.ufl.edu/catalog/policies/students.html#honesty
Honor Code: http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/honorcodes/honorcode.php
Student Conduct: http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/honorcodes/conductcode.php

2. Writing Assignments

There are three writing assignments for this course, each approximately 3-5 pages in length. All assignments are visual analyses of a work of art on display at the Harn Museum of Art. The first assignment is due on Canvas on Tues., February 7th at noon; the revision of the first assignment, including a cover letter detailing your understanding of the suggestions offered on your original paper as well as an explanation of how you addressed them, is due on Canvas on Thurs., March 2nd at noon. The second assignment is due on Canvas on Thurs., April 13th at noon.

3. Exams

There will be a midterm exam and a final exam for this course. Both will consist of identifications, comparisons, and short answer questions. They will draw upon the material covered in course lectures, discussion sections, and readings. The midterm will be in class on Thurs., February 16th. A midterm review will take place in class on Thursday, February 9th. The final will be during the exam period and will be preceded by a final review in class on Tuesday, April 11th.

Accommodations

Every effort will be made to accommodate students with disabilities. Students in need of disability accommodations should schedule an appointment with me as soon as possible. All accommodations requests must be accompanied by necessary documentation from the Dean of Students Office.

Course Resources

1) Canvas – announcements will be disseminated via Canvas. Please be sure to check it regularly.

2) Office Hours: I’m happy to meet with you during my office hours Wednesdays, 5pm-6pm in my office, FAC 121, to discuss any questions pertaining to the course content, reading assignments, writing assignments, or exams. Office hours don’t require an appointment; feel free to just drop by. If you’re unavailable at that time, just ask or email me, and we can arrange another time to meet.

Additionally, the course TA’s are happy to meet with you during their office hours in FAC 118 (Salon):

Lauren Walter  TBD
Clemens Ottenhausen  TBD
3) Academic Support

UF Teaching Center
https://teachingcenter.ufl.edu/

UF Writing Studio
http://writing.ufl.edu/writing-studio/

University Counseling & Wellness Center
http://www.counseling.ufl.edu/cwc/

Grading

The final course grade is calculated as follows:

15% Engagement
20% Midterm Exam
10% Visual Analysis I
10% Revision
20% Visual Analysis II
25% Final Exam

All exams and assignments will be assigned letter grades and input into Canvas, which will calculate the final course grade. Grading rubrics for each component of the course can be found in the appendices to this syllabus. Following are the UF grade definitions:

A: 94-100
A-: 90-93
B+: 87-89
B: 84-86
B-: 80-83
C+: 77-79
C: 74-76
C-: 70-73
D+: 67-69
D: 64-66
D-: 61-63
F: 0-60

In order to pass this course, all assignments must be completed. No exceptions. To receive full credit, assignments must be turned in on time. Extensions will only be granted under special or extreme circumstances with valid documentation and, unless impossible, must be arranged in advance. Without an approved extension, late assignments will be marked down 1/3 of a grade per day. No make-up exams will be given without documentation demonstrating that the scheduled exam date is impossible.
Important Dates at a Glance

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Event</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tues., Feb 7th</td>
<td>Visual Analysis I due at noon</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thurs., Feb 16th</td>
<td>Midterm (in class)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thurs., Mar 2nd</td>
<td>Revision of Visual Analysis I due at noon</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thurs., Apr 13th</td>
<td>Visual Analysis II due at noon</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TBD</td>
<td>Final Exam</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Projected Course Schedule

Week 1

Th Jan 5       Introduction
Section:       How to Read Images

Reading:
Sylvan Barnet, A Short Guide to Writing about Art, pgs. 113-116, 47-76

Week 2

13TH AND 14TH CENTURIES: THE PROTO-RENAISSANCE

T Jan 10       Christian Ideals

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 532-533, 536-547
(Cimabue, Giotto, Duccio)

THE 15TH CENTURY: THE EARLY RENAISSANCE

Th Jan 12      Human Perspectives: The Netherlands

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 563-564, 573-576, 578-579
(Robert Campin, Jan Van Eyck)

Th Jan 12      Lecture of Interest!
                Contemporary Photographer Arthur Wo
                Music Building, Room 101 (MUB 101), 6pm

Section:       How to Read Objects
CLASS MEETS OUTSIDE AT “The French Fries”

Reading:
Sylvan Barnet, A Short Guide to Writing about Art, pgs. 76-96

Week 3

T Jan 17       Human Perspectives: Italy

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 595-599, 603, 606, 609-611, 626-628
(Brunelleschi, Ghiberti, Donatello, Masaccio, Botticelli)
THE 16TH CENTURY: THE HIGH RENAISSANCE

Th Jan 19  The Artist as Scholar: Philosophy and History

Reading:
* Art History, pgs. 633-635, 640-643, 652-653
  (Raphael, St. Peter’s)

Th Jan 19  Lecture of Interest!
Socially Engaged Artist J. Morgan Puett
Music Building, Room 101 (MUB 101), 6pm

Section:  Visual Analysis in Practice
Section meets at the Harn Museum of Art

Week 4

T Jan 24  The Artist as Scholar: Anatomy

Reading:
* Art History, pgs. 643-647, 636-640
  (Michelangelo, Leonardo)

Th Jan 26  Worldly Matters: Venice

Reading:
* Art History, pgs. 629-631, 656-661, 673-677
  (Bellini, Giorgione, Titian, Palladio)

Section:  How to Write about Art

Reading:
* Sample Paper(s)

Week 5

T Jan 31  Worldly Matters: The Netherlands

Reading:
* Art History, pgs. 679-681, 685-687, 704-705, 753-757
  (Dürer, Pieter Bruegel the Elder, Ruisdael, Claesz)
THE 17TH CENTURY: THE BAROQUE

Th Feb 2   The Art of Spectacle: The Netherlands
            Reading:
            Art History, pgs. 736-741, 746-751
            (Rubens, Rembrandt, and Vermeer)

Section:   How (Art) History is Made
            Reading:

Week 6

T Feb 7   The Art of Spectacle: Italy and Spain
            Reading:
            Art History, pgs. 713-719, 722-726, 732-735
            (El Greco, Bernini, Caravaggio, Velázquez)

             Visual Analysis due    upload to canvas by noon

Th Feb 9   Midterm Review

Th Feb. 9  Lecture of Interest— strongly suggested!
            A Lecture by “Frida Kahlo” of the Guerrilla Girls
            Harn Museum of Art, [exact time tbd; evening]

Section:   None – Study for Midterm

Week 7

THE 18TH CENTURY: SELF & SOCIETY

T Feb 14   Rococo / The Enlightenment
            Reading:
            Art History, pgs. 763-765, 905-912, 934-935
            (Poussin, Watteau, Fragonard, Chardin, Vigée-Lebrun)

Th Feb 16   Midterm

Section:   How to Revise
Reading:

Bring a hardcopy of your visual analysis to section

Week 8

T Feb 21  History Painting, The Academy

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 926-929, 936-938, 946-947, 952
(Benjamin West, David)

THE 19TH CENTURY: ART & Politics

Th Feb 23  ...and Their Afterlives

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 946-947, 952
(Gros, Ingres)

Th Feb 23  Lecture of Interest!
Participatory drawing project with Sumi Ink Club
Music Building, Room 101 (MUB 101), 6pm

Section:  On the Media: Contemporary Images of War

Reading:

Sun Feb 26  Lecture of Interest!—strongly suggested!
“In/visible: Women and Gender in Art” panel discussion at the Harn Museum of Art, time tbd (afternoon)

Week 9

T Feb 28  Romanticism across Europe

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 940-943, 947-951
(Goya, Géricault, Delacroix)

T Feb 28  Lecture of Interest!
“Etching Enlightenment’s Demise: The Print Series of Francisco Goya”
Dr. Janis Tomlinson, Professor, Art History, University of Delaware
Harn Museum of Art, 6:00 pm
Th Mar 2  The Rise of Landscape Painting

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 954-958
(Constable, Turner, Cole, Friedrich)

 Revision Due  upload to Canvas by noon

Section:  Before Photoshop: Art, Truth, and Fiction

Reading for precept:

Week 10  Spring Break!

Week 11

T Mar 14  The Art and Science of Photography

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 968-971

Th Mar 16  Realism: America

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 980-984
(Eakins, Tanner)

Th Mar 16  Two Lectures of Interest!

Publically Engaged Artist Paul Ramirez-Jonas
Music Building, Room 101 (MUB 101), 6pm

Art historian Dr. Cynthia Hahn, Professor, Hunter College, CUNY
“Relics and Reliquaries: A Matter of Life and Death”
Harn Museum of Art, 6:00 pm

Section:  The Museum Experience

CLASS MEETS AT THE HARN

Reading:
Carol Duncan, “Art Museums and the Ritual of Citizenship,” in Exhibiting Cultures: The Poetics and Politics of Museum Display, pgs. 88-103
Week 12

T Mar 21 Realism: France

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 972-974, 976-980
(Courbet, Manet)

Th Mar 23 Impressionism

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 987-994
(Monet, Caillebotte, Pissarro, Degas, Cassatt, Morisot)

Section: From Reading Images to Art History

Reading:
Michael Baxandall, “The Period Eye,” Painting and Experience in Fifteenth Century Italy, pgs. 29-36

Week 13

T Mar 28 Subjective States

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 994-999, 1003, 1012-1015
(Seurat, Van Gogh, Gauguin, Cézanne, Rodin)

The 20th Century

Th Mar 30 Modern Architecture

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 1009-1012, 1044-1049, 1057
(skyscrapers, Frank Lloyd Wright, Le Corbusier, The International Style)

Section: Art from Every Angle

Reading:
Giorgio Vasari, “Michelangelo,” Lives of the Painters, Sculptors, and Architects (1550, 1568), [excerpts]
Roland Barthes, “The Death of the Author,” Aspen no. 5-6 (1967), [6 pgs.]
Week 14

T Apr 4  Deconstructing Art

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 1017-1018, 1021-1026, 1037-1044
(Cubism, Dada, Stieglitz Circle)

Th Apr 6  Envisioning Utopia

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 1033-1035, 1050-1054, 1060-1061/1064-1065
(Futurism, Suprematism and Constructivism, De Stijl, the Harlem Renaissance)

Th Apr 6  Lecture of Interest!
Contemporary Sculptor Mike Calway-Fagen
Music Building, Room 101 (MUB 101), 6pm

Section:  Artists on Art

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 1019-1021, 1029-1031
Henri Matisse, “Notes of a Painter” in Art in Theory: 1900-2000, pgs. 69-75
Wasily Kandinsky, excerpts from On the Spiritual in Art in Art in Theory: 1900-2000, pgs. 82-89

Week 15

T Apr 11  Final Review

Th Apr 13  Realism and Surrealism

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 1057-1060,
(Surrealism)

Visual Analysis II due on Canvas at noon

Th Apr 13  Lecture of Interest!
Curator Gene Moreno
Music Building, Room 101 (MUB 101), 6pm
Week 16

T Apr 18  Abstract Expressionism

Reading:
Art History, pgs. 1073-1081

Please visit evaluations.ufl.edu and complete a course evaluation

Section:  Deciphering Art Criticism

Clement Greenberg, “Modernist Painting” (1960)
Harold Rosenberg, “American Action Painters” (1952)

Week 17

TBD  Final Exam
Note-Taking Strategies

In listening to lectures, keep track of two things:

1. the trajectory or arc of Western art history

The course traces a narrative about the development of Western art from the 15th century through the present as artists respond to the world around them and to one another. At the start of every lecture, I will outline the key themes and contributions of the artist, movement, or time period under discussion as well as how they fit into the trajectory of Western art.

2. the meaning of individual works of art

Lectures will offer historically situated interpretations of individual works of art. That is to say, they will explain what a given work of art says about its subject and why. Things to listen for include:

* the subject of a work of art
  * reasons why an artist took up a given subject
* how the artist depicted that subject
  * what decisions did she or he make?
* the pictorial or cultural circumstances that informed those decisions
* finally, what those decisions mean for the work of art: what the work says about its subject and why

You will also be asked to address these topics (often referred to in class as the “what,” “how,” and “why”) on the midterm and final exam.

The discussion and interpretation of individual works of art in class can also serve as a model for the visual analysis papers. Visual analysis is the first step in developing an interpretation of a work of art. It yields an hypothesis about what a work of art says about its subject, which is then tested and tweaked through recourse to contextual information. Although lectures will draw on contextual information and the visual analysis papers will not (they will be based strictly on the works of art themselves), visual analysis is a key component of lectures and will prime students for the written assignments.
Appendix B

Engagement: Grading Rubric

A: student has gone above and beyond in achieving the course goals—has really tried to learn and understand the history and principles of Western art. The student read and processed the readings, was prepared for lecture and section, consistently offered thoughtful and insightful responses to discussion posts on Canvas, and truly advanced conversations in section by posing probing questions, making deep insights into the readings, offering alternative viewpoints, or noting complicating factors. The first paper was as fully developed and polished as it could be, not just a draft. It goes without saying that this student has attended all lectures and sections, always arrived on time, and adhered to other course policies.

A-: great, but falls just short of the above.

B+: a very good effort. Usually did and processed the readings; offered some insightful discussion posts on Canvas; regularly contributed to conversations by answering questions, but also introducing new points, questions, etc.; submitted a thought-provoking, but unpolished paper.

B: a good effort. Student did the reading, posted responses to discussion questions on Canvas, regularly answered questions in class, handed in a solid first paper. This student has attended almost all lectures and sections, generally arrived on time, and adhered to other course policies.

B-: an okay effort. Student usually did the reading and responded to discussion posts on Canvas, answered questions on occasion, submitted a draft-like first paper.

C+: almost there. Student usually shows up for class, mostly on time, but has yet to really make her or his presence known by participating in the conversation; unclear whether or not the readings have been done; intermittently posts responses to discussion questions on Canvas. The first paper was treated as a messy draft.

C: falls short of the above in some way.

C-: falls short of a C+ in more than one way.

D: something that makes the grade not an F.

F: student is disengaged from the class—does not attend lecture and/or section regularly and, therefore, has not put herself or himself in a position to fulfill the engagement requirement.
Appendix C

Exams: Grading Rubric

A = has a firm grasp on the course content (meaning: what each work is about, what it means, and its significance within the history of art) as well as solid understanding of visual analysis, the goals of art history, and the ability to apply these skills to known and unknown works as well as individual pieces and pairings.

A- = the exam falls just short of the above. It’s great, but misses a couple of key points here and there or offers a less than compelling thesis for the compare and contrast.

B+ = a very good effort, but misses a several key points here and there or consistently leaves out an element of each question (the “how” or the “why,” for example) but does everything else very well.

B = a solid effort, but inconsistent—gets some questions, but not others. Demonstrates a burgeoning understanding that works of art have meaning and a relationship to broader socio-cultural concerns, but has not yet internalized how all these things connect.

B- = an okay effort; the student is certainly trying (the ID’s are there, for example) and there’s attention to material delivered in lecture, but answers to questions are quite spotty, vague, or lack a clear point or focus.

C+ = on the way to getting there; ID’s might be spotty; it’s not totally clear that the student has studied, perhaps she or he remembers things from lecture, but, at the same time as answers may seem to have been pulled out of nowhere, they demonstrate some awareness/understanding of visual analysis and/or how art history works.

C = the exam falls short of the above. The ID’s are even spottier, and the answers more vague; key terms are not mentioned or used.

C- = the exam shows some effort, but the student doesn’t seem to understand art history, visual analysis, etc.

D = something that makes the exam not an F—some ID’s are on point, or at least a couple of answers are semi-acceptable

F = a couple of ID’s, no content from lecture or the textbook, inability to even read the paintings by sight
Appendix D

Papers: Grading Rubric

A = meets and exceeds assignment goals. There’s something about the paper that’s truly exciting and fresh and revelatory—it really captures your attention. The argument is insightful and well supported by the evidence provided (i.e. the student’s descriptions of the work of art and analyses of those descriptions); the structure serves the argument, and the paper is, as a whole, convincing and a pleasure to read.

A- = the paper falls just short of the above. It’s great, but misses some key aspect of the image or offers an insightful thesis, but not necessarily a surprising or unexpected one.

B+ = a very good effort, but the argument could be better executed; some aspects of the image might go unaddressed, the analysis could be deeper, the interpretation/thesis could be clearer.

B = a solid effort. There’s a sense of a thesis/interpretation, but it’s a bit vague or general. The structural logic behind these papers tends to be a bit unclear. The paper may address some key aspects of the image and offer analyses of some descriptions, but not others.

B- = meets the basic criteria for the assignment in some way shape or form. It moves beyond description, but not by very much.

C+ = on the way to getting the basics of visual analysis: lots of description, but it has yet to cohere into a point/thesis, though there are glimmers of hope and promise.

C = all description all the time

C- = the paper puts forward some effort, but it’s unclear to what end; the student doesn’t seem to understand the assignment, formal analysis, etc.

D = something that makes the paper not an F

F = the paper lacks an awareness of the assignment, formal analysis, etc. These papers are often significantly shorter than the stipulated length.
Appendix E

Art in the News

If you’re interested in keeping up with developments in the art world, I recommend the following sites:

Hyperallergic

Artsy

Vulture

Hyperallergic and Artsy issue newsletters, but can also be followed on Facebook and Twitter. Note that Vulture covers art and entertainment.