Art Bash 2017 Showcases the Visual Arts at UF on Friday, February 24

Gainesville, Fla., February 14, 2017 — Art Bash, the annual celebration of art at the University of Florida (UF), takes place from 5-9 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 24, 2017. The College of the Arts' School of Art + Art History (SA+AH) throws open its doors to members of the UF and Gainesville communities, offering them the chance to view a dazzling variety of projects by UF art students. This year's Art Bash will feature special guests Sumi Ink Club, who will complete a community project in the FAC-FAA Bridge, visiting graphic design artists Josh LaFayette and Laura Bee, and Sean Donaher, juror for the 2017 Annual Student Juried Show in the University Gallery. Art Bash will also be presented alongside Ligature 26, the UF annual design symposium, in the Gary R. Libby Gallery Feb. 24 – March 10.

Art Bash offers an inside look at SA+AH and showcases the scope of disciplines it offers. In addition to examples of undergraduate and graduate student work, from intimate drawings to ceramic works of art, from vibrant graphic design to sculpture, experimental photographs, interactive works by art + technology students, prints, paintings, art history, museum studies, and art education displays and more, Art Bash 2017 will feature a number of family-friendly interactive events. These include a Virtual Reality art piece by Art + Technology, a silkscreening demonstration from printmaking students, Raku ceramics firing in the courtyard, a Piñata Smash by the sculpture club, face painting and body marbling, a game of Pin-the-Flowers on Frida Kahlo, a pop-up museum by museum studies students and a Draw Jam hosted by Gainesville's Sequential Arts Workshop. Work by SAAH artists will be available to purchase in pop-up gallery The Fridge in FAC 118. This fun, free event encourages discussion between students and the community and introduces potential students to the school's facilities and diverse programs. Attendees are encouraged to participate in the demonstrations, exhibitions and interactive projects from both our academic and studio areas.

“Every day we get to experience the amazing and diverse works of our students,” said Maria Rogal, interim director of the UF School of Art + Art History. “Once a year we have the pleasure of inviting the entire UF and Gainesville community into our vibrant spaces with Art Bash, a celebration of the arts and design. Our studios, classrooms, and galleries will be open to the public. Along with being able to see the works and learn more about art and objects from contemporary and historical perspectives, we’ll have interactive experiences, two exhibitions – the student juried show and ‘ligature’ featuring graphic design works, and visiting artists the Sumi Ink Club. This is an all ages event so we hope everyone can join us.”
