COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course will cover the software development protocols for wearable and mobile electronics such as head-mounted displays, watches and cell phones. Several embedded input/output interfaces will be studied including, position and orientation sensors, hand trackers, holographic and stereoscopic displays. The students will practice the covered material by developing prototype software applications for such devices.

PREREQUISITE KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS
DIG3878: Applied Digital Media Protocols

PURPOSE OF COURSE
Purpose of this course is to communicate practices that revolves around wearable and mobile computing to students by engaging them in interactive sessions/tutorials and giving them hands-on experience in designing for wearable and mobile technologies available in the market.

COURSE GOALS AND/OR OBJECTIVES:
At the conclusion of this course, students will be able to:
1. Obtain basic understand of the technologies used in contemporary wearable and mobile devices.
2. Understand the characteristics and design elements required for wearable devices and systems to be widely adopted by the mainstream population for use in everyday life.
3. Develop software development skills for wearable and mobile devices.

COURSE SCHEDULE:
We will be having 3 hours/sessions each week.
1. First two sessions will be mostly theoretical teaching.
2. Last session for each week will be In-Class lab guided exercise session.
3. Students will be provided hands-on assistance in completing exercises. These exercises will be part of Assignments.

COURSE POLICIES:

Participation / Attendance Policy - Important

We value participation more than mere attendance. Each Instructor is responsible for communicating the specific details of what percentage of your grade (if any) will be assigned to participation, and how class participation will be measured and graded. Real Time [RT] interaction with your peers and the Instructor will empower you to greater achievement. Participation is worth 100 points for students. A spreadsheet will be maintained with names and points achieved. Points will be gathered by students based on the following:

1. Non-repeating productive questions (related to classwork) posted on Canvas discussions: 10 points.
2. Answers to questions posted (by students and Instructors) on Canvas discussion: 10 points.

Top 5 most participating students will get 5% bonus percentage of Grade at the end of semester.
MAKE-UP POLICY
Presentations may be presented late up to 2 days with deduction of 30% marks for each late day. Documented emergencies or medical situations may be the only accepted reasons for an excused absence on the day of a presentation. Excuses should be emailed to the instructor within 2 days. All excuse emails should be according to course communication guidelines.

COURSE TECHNOLOGY
The students will be required to have access to, and use a personal computer with the access to the Internet. Word editing software will be required for written assignments.

COURSE COMMUNICATIONS - IMPORTANT
Students can communicate directly with the Instructor regarding the course material through the course management system (CANVAS).

Emails to instructor should follow the following conventions:
1. Subject should be framed like this: {CourseID} {Purpose}
   (This will help me in filtering emails. Emails without course ID in the subject might get ignored.)

UF POLICIES:
