FOCUS
The terms “modernism” and “postmodernism,” though widely used to describe a variety of musical trends in the twentieth and twentieth-first centuries, are elusive and resistant to simple definition. This problem is further complicated when these terms are linked to musical practices within different regional and cultural contexts. In order to understand issues such as the legitimization of the terms, communication of meaning, cultural hybridity, and notions of musical time and space, this course explores the concepts of modernism and postmodernism as applied to music from Europe, Latin America, and the United States from the early twentieth century to the present. It engages philosophical and musicological writings and explores music from composers such as Arnold Schoenberg, Igor Stravinsky, Henry Cowell, Heitor Villa-Lobos, Carlos Chávez, Philip Glass, John Zorn, Jocy de Oliveira, among others. The goal is for students to understand key ideas associated with the notions of modernism and postmodernism in music, develop scholarly and analytical tools in order to participate in the seminar, and write a research paper.

TEXTBOOK

Required Texts:

Additional reading materials will consist of chapters of books to be determined as the seminar progresses. Articles are available through the various e-storages for download. Please bring a printed copy to class for reference during discussions.

Listening materials and scores are available in the AFA Library. Recordings are also available electronically through the Naxos Music Library, available through the AFA Library webpage (http://guides.uflib.ufl.edu/music).

REQUIREMENTS AND GRADING

- Attendance and participation in seminar discussion is expected. Unexcused absences will lower the final grade by 5 points per absence. Tardiness will also affect the final grade. Missing an assigned presentation will result in a letter grade deduction.

- Seminar participants will present reading reports and lead discussions on one or more assigned readings. All participants are required to complete all assigned readings and participate in discussion.

- A Research Paper will expand on topics presented in class. In addition, students will be asked to prepare a handout and present the results of their papers in class. I will distribute handouts with detailed instructions and specific due dates in the second week of classes.
Grades will be based on the following

IMPORTANT DATES

- Essays will be due a week after the class presentation. I will assign specific dates to each seminar participant on our second class.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

1. E-Learning: students will be required to log on to CANVAS through the E-Learning system in order to submit the writing assignments online.

2. I will distribute handouts for the writing assignments as classes progress. Assignments are due at the beginning of class on the day they are due. A penalty of 10% per day (maximum of two days) shall apply to essays turned in late. Thereafter, no credit will be given. All written work must be submitted electronically through the E-Learning system to be graded. I will provide instructions on the handouts.

3. Opportunity for making up a presentation will be given only in cases of excused absences. An excused absence is defined as 1) a medical issue accompanied by a signed statement from your doctor, 2) a serious family emergency with a signed statement from parent or guardian, 3) an official University of Florida activity accompanied by a signed statement from an appropriate faculty representative with a two-week prior notification to instructor, 4) a religious holiday observance with a two-week prior notification to instructor, 5) military service or court-imposed legal obligations accompanied by written proof two weeks prior to absence. Failure to appear for an exam without prior arrangement will result in an E for that assignment.

Classroom Policies

Classes will begin promptly. Students need to arrive on time, turn in assignments before sitting down, and stay for the entire class. In the rare case that you are unavoidably late, please enter quietly and take the first available seat. The period ends when the instructor dismisses the class. Preparations to leave (such as closing notebooks, rustling papers, and putting on your coat) before you are dismissed are disruptive; please avoid them. Do not exit before you are dismissed unless you have already advised the instructor that you must leave early (please do this before the period begins).

Cell Phones and Electronics

Turn off your cell phones and do not engage in distracting activities, such as Facebook, in class.
ACADEMIC HONESTY
The theft of intellectual property is taken very seriously in this class. All student work must be original. Plagiarism or cheating will be dealt with according to the policies outlined in the university bulletin and student handbook (see www.dso.ufl.edu/judicial/procedures/studenthonorcode.php for more information). See the Chicago Manual of Style if you have any questions regarding proper citations in the humanities.
