You not only sustain our reputation... you strengthen it.

- > The School of Music hosts faculty and student performances that are free and open to the public.
- > The school brings internationally renowned guest artists and instructors to the Gainesville area for the International Piano Festival and the Brazilian Music Institute, where programming consists of workshops and performances.
- > Students and faculty do community outreach performances at local schools, churches, and retirement communities
- > The school designed a unique and versatile curriculum in which students can pursue two passions and earn bachelor's in music and also a bachelor's in an outside field such as business or law.

I gave because music is the key to success.

—Cherie Fine,
President Friends of Music
