You not only sustain our reputation... you strengthen it.

- The School of Theatre + Dance presents a dozen different productions and close to 100 public performances each year, offering a showcase for faculty and student talent while inspiring and entertaining our community.
- The School brings internationally renowned guest artists to the UF campus to stage original dance compositions, teach master classes, and perform alongside our students.
- The Performance, Musical Theatre, and Design & Production programs in Theatre boast alumni working in all levels of the entertainment industry, from Broadway to film and television.
- The Dance curriculum uniquely emphasizes four complementary areas of study: composition and performance, intercultural dance studies, dance and medicine, and dance theatre.
