

Creativity in the Arts and Sciences Event

Saturday, January 31, 2015

The CASE allows Science for Life Program and College of Fine Arts students the opportunity to collaborate on projects that incorporate science and art, featuring science posters, art exhibits, and dance/music/theatre performances. Art students may compete for awards within the art and science/art collaboration categories.

- Collaboration entries receive $500 for art supplies
- Win up to $1,250 in prize money
- Have your work viewed and judged by Dean Lavelli, Provost Glover, local Gainesville artists, and more
- Gateway opportunity to present your work at other university events/venues, i.e. LSU, Focus Gallery, and more

Application and Guidelines: sfl.aa.ufl.edu/CASE

Application Deadline: December 3, 2015

Contact: Jennifer Hodges jhodges@arts.ufl.edu