Gary Freeman - Artist

Course Description:
In this course you will develop a series of prints using intaglio as your primary print process. We will explore black and white and possibly with time permitting color multiple runs. This class will promote individual and collaborative efforts to develop thinking, perceptions, doing and a commitment to the print art of intaglio. We will work on a series which will contain six completed images in total based on a central idea. The central idea will be based on whatever subject/thoughts of your choosing. We will discuss this the first day of class. You will be responsible for an artist written proposal which outlines your semester's goals eg. amount and size of work, possible directions in which you envision the transformation and change of imagery and presentation, the form in which final work is presented. A calendar will be forthcoming of class instruction, events and review critique due dates. The first part of the semester in instruction will emphasis your abilities to draw because the strength of the art of intaglio is predicated upon this particular artistic ability. I will instruct and inform you at the onset...we will do some drawing assignments before translating them to prints. Be prepared to think. During this time I will pass on the technical aspects of intaglio.
The second part of this course will rely upon your healthy studio practice and the development of your idea. This should prove to result in a consistent body of work which you are satisfied with and highlights your honest abilities as a creative individual.

INTAGLIO PRINTMAKING – FALL 2015
ASSIGNMENT/ WRITTEN “PROPOSAL” APPROACH
TEMPLATE

TOPIC:  What is your idea? Is it general, specific, intellectual, physical, spiritual, metaphysical, scientific, theological, political, sociological, abstract etc. Does it deal with people, places or things? Can you describe it in one sentence? How relevant is it to you? How attached and passionate are you about it? (Discussion about general and specific, superficial and actual).

TECHNICAL: How do you envision your idea...realistically, abstractly, non-objectively or in combinations? How will you approach making your work? What process or processes will you master and hone to make the work? How much is planned, how much is left to chance...what are you willing to do to realize the work? What considerations do you need to take into account to accomplish your task.
HISTORICAL: Research the context of the work you are making. Where does it draw from in the history of humankind? Mythology, legend, fables, belief systems, factual occurrences, personal experiences etc... and who else has worked with this material in the past and the present? Collect source material from six other artists. Three of them should be from the past and three of them should be from the here and now... contemporary artists. From what field of art do they come from?

Course Objectives/ Goals:
This course is designed to help you to build your own language of images and transform it into printmaking medium. After completing this course you will be able to:
- Demonstrate a basic knowledge of the history of printmaking.
- Understand the specificity and the limits of the process you have chosen.
- Develop your own knowledge of print-based images
- Make a bridge between your own ideas/concepts with image making.
- Realize the different directions and issues of contemporary printmaking.

Methods of the Course Structure
The majority of class time will be devoted to working days. You are expected to work each day beginning at 8:30am – 11:30am. Do not wait for instruction. There is always work to be done. Instruction will take place in the form of lectures, field trips, guest artists, critique, demonstrations, DVD’s, and one on one instruction. All research is to be done prior to class unless otherwise instructed. Your work area and area around you should remain tidy - plan accordingly. Furthermore, this course will demand that you work in the studio as well as do research outside the class.

REQUIREMENTS AND EVALUATIONS

1. SKETCHBOOKS/ JOURNAL ASSIGNMENTS (15%)
   A) Will show evidence of your research process. It is to contain images, class notes, your own writings, homework assignments, critique notes etc. Everything you have done collectively.
   B) SUITE OF INTAGLIO PRINTS (70%) Individual student generated themed based prints devoted to a series exploring a single formal and intellectual premise through a series of permutations and transformations. I will be working individually with you and also with class participation.
   C) PARTICIPATION (15%): This includes support, and respect in all phases of this course and are imperative. The class dynamic depends on your energy, initiative, attitude, productivity and willingness to be involved in assignments, group discussion and critiques. You are expected to participate in a responsive manner during critiques. Prepare questions, solicit responses and encourage constructive criticism during group discussions and critiques. Consider comments (write in your Sketchbook during discussions!) using any and all to gauge the effectiveness of your work. Examine the way in which your ideas change, evolve and influence formal and conceptual choices in your work. Your development as an artist hinges on your ability to make effective choices and express ideas as clearly as you can.

2. ATTENDANCE POLICY
   - Roll will be taken promptly at the beginning of class.
   - Late arrivals will be marked tardy, leaving early will also be noted.
   - It is your responsibility to see that the record is corrected from an absence to a tardy if you are late.
   - If you arrive to class without proper materials and research needed for class this will be considered an unexcused absence.
- Any absences will be reflected in your final grade in this course.
- If you miss more than 7 class meetings, the professor reserves the right to consider failure for the course.
- Announced changes to the course calendar, demonstrations, or general classroom critiques demand your presence; compensatory work of another kind cannot be accepted in lieu of missed instruction in this area.
- UF policy related to class attendance:

EVALUATION/GRADING
Your sketchbook and prints will be graded on the following premises:
- QUALITY OF CONCEPT/IDEAS
- IDEA GENERATION/ DEVELOPMENT OF IDEAS THROUGH EXPLORATION OF IMAGES/INVENTIVENESS/EXPERIMENTATION
- MARK -MAKING SKILLS (measuring, proportions, convincing forms, value range, composition, etc.)
- QUALITY OF SKILL CRAFT
- QUANTITY

A = Superlative work: Careful attention to craft and presentation. Intent and execution of the piece work together in significant and original ways. Goes beyond merely solving the problem- one who performs at this level is visibly outstanding. Outstanding in every respect.
B+= Very fine work: Almost superlative. A few minor changes could be made to bring the piece together. Again, goes beyond merely solving the problem.
B = Above average: Solution to the problem and idea well planned. Execution is well done. This is an honorable grade.
B-/C+ = A bit above average. Slipping in levels of originality, craft, and presentation. The work lacks a unified wholes or statements, yet effort was made.
C = You have solved the problem: The requirements of the problem are met in a relatively routine way.
C-/D+ = You have solved the problem, the requirements of the problem are in a relatively routine way. There is room for improving skills and concepts. Quite a bit of work may have gone into the assignment, but does it work?
D = Inadequate work: The requirements of the problem are not addressed. The piece represents careless and/or incomplete effort. Some criteria met, work substandard.
E = Unacceptable work and effort

(A "C" represents satisfactory work, regular attendance, and successful accomplishment of the course.)

Late policy
Assignments are due when indicated by the instructor.
Late assignment will drop 1 letter grade per class period late.
An assignment more than 3 days late will receive an E.
Any assignment not completed by the end of the semester will result in course failure.
