Course Description: An introduction to the principles and techniques of arranging, instrumentation, and orchestration. The course will introduce the standard instruments of the modern orchestra and wind ensemble, discuss choral arranging, and begin a discussion of creative orchestration practice.

Course Requirements: Students will complete all reading, listening, and workbook assignments on time (approximately one written assignment per week). Late work will not be accepted. Three major projects will be assigned throughout the semester. Some projects will be read through in class. Students willing to do an in-class demonstration on their major instrument are invited to do so, and will be allowed to waive one written assignment (not major project) - see instructor. There will be mid-term and final exams (that include listening exams).

Textbook:

Students will also need manuscript paper for assignments. Use of music printing programs for some assignments is required, and may require the purchase of to save work done in the computer lab.

Attendance: Required. More than three absences will result in the lowering of course grade by one increment for each additional absence.

Academic Honor Policy:
It is expected that you will exhibit ethical behavior concerning your work in this class. Students are expected to do their own work, use their own words in papers, and to reference outside sources appropriately. Failure to uphold the standards of academic honesty will result in the appropriate disciplinary action.

As a result of completing the registration form at the University of Florida, every student has signed the following statement:
"I understand that the University of Florida expects its students to be honest in all their academic work. I agree to adhere to this commitment to academic honesty and understand that my failure to comply with this commitment may result in disciplinary action up to and including expulsion from the University."

We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Furthermore, on work submitted for credit by UF students, the following pledge is either required or implied:
"On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

Students Requesting Accommodations due to Disabilities:
Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation. To request classroom accommodations, contact the Assistant Dean of Students/Director of the Disability Resources Program at P202 Peabody Hall or call 392-1261 (V), 392-3008 (TDD).
