Class Announcements and Required Attendance Policy

The Jazz Fundamentals 2 course is totally online so it is therefore required to check announcements online 3 times a week. This is critical to minimize e-mail traffic, student questions, to lower student anxiety over error questions, and it helps to inform students of concerts they can attend. NOTE: Please note that students often have the same questions that need to be answered when in the online environment. With that in mind, the “Announcements” will be the medium that the instructor communicates all answers to basic questions. In some cases a student’s question will require a personal response and in those cases a personal response will be issued to the student. Please note that you may be penalized -5 points for not reading the Announcements or for not being aware of their content. If a student requires 2 reprimands related to reading announcements for the course, they will be deducted -15 points. This ensures scholarly activity from our talented students in terms of being accountable to read and following instructions precisely.

UF Gator Jazz Grooveshark Playlist Folders

Our Jazz Band has a Grooveshark jazz playlist for all perennial jazz artists and legendary bands. NOTE: There is a very useful folder in our Grooveshark playlist for the Real Book. In the Real Book Folder there are several audio recordings available for each song in the Real Book. This is an excellent practice tool. Follow the link below to enjoy this wonderful resource. <http://grooveshark.com/#/ufgatorjazz/music/playlists>

Students with disabilities

Individuals with disabilities are asked to register with the Office for Students with Disabilities and submit to the instructor the memorandum from that office concerning necessary accommodations. I agree to adhere to this commitment to academic honesty and understand that my failure to comply with this commitment may result in disciplinary action up to and including expulsion for the University." The instructor of this course fully endorses this statement and will not tolerate academic dishonesty. Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing is subject to an automatic E and further disciplinary action. All violations of academic honesty will be referred to the Dean of Students Office for disciplinary action without exception.

Make-ups for Exams or Other Work

In order to remain fair to all students enrolled in this course who are held to the same academic standard, make-ups for any assignment will require written documentation that the student has been excused from school during the time in question. Without this approval we cannot issue a make-up. This includes all requests for permission to grant a make-up for personal issues involving family, work, deaths, hardships, marriages, pregnancies, illnesses, financial problems, etc. We do apologize for this inconvenience, however, in the purely online environment this documentation is needed to insure the accuracy of all claims made. This is also critical in terms of treating all students equal, minimizing false claims and it helps to insure faculty resources and time are not being wasted.

ANNOUNCEMENTS THAT ARE PREPROGRAMMED INTO THE PLATFORM

(When a student purchases the textbook and online platform the following announcements will be located under the Announcements link).

Title: STEP 1. Purchase the book and online testing platform.

You can get a hard copy of the book in the Reitz Union Bookstore or you can order directly from Kendall Hunt and save a little money. See Canvas' home page for this class for current ISBN numbers and ordering links.

Remember to save your confirmation code (you will enter this code into to access the book).

Title: Announcements must be checked 3 times a week

You are required to check your platform and announcements a minimum of 3 times a week and very frequently. In this case where we do not have a physical class meeting during the course, it is paramount that you check the announcement platform frequently (The class excels in various weeks and may require more checking than others). You are responsible for all announcements posted and responsible for all e-mails sent to you from your instructor. If you miss an announcement during the week you will miss the points associated with that announcement. This is the most important rule for this course to function smoothly for both students and instructors.

Title: FLEXIBLE SCHEDULE / MISSED ASSIGNMENTS

All assignment deadlines are listed in the syllabus and/or announcements.

SPORTS: Students enrolled in sports must keep your schedule and take tests early if you are unavailable during testing week. Assignments have multiple days for submissions to accommodate everyone's busy schedules so please plan ahead if you are busy during the final days that an assignment is open.

SPECIAL OCCASIONS: If you are getting married, are keeping a work schedule, have an athletic event, are leaving the country, etc., you are still responsible for all the due dates listed in the announcements (please plan ahead because there are no exceptions). We have given students ample time to complete all assignments and accommodate their schedules.

Title: RESPONDING TO STUDENT QUESTIONS

There are many people that have the exact same question and therefore the answers for many questions will be posted in the announcements (this saves our staff from having to answer identical questions to each individual student). With that in mind, if your questions are generic, look for the answer in the announcement links. If your questions required a personal response we will respond with an answer. We hope this information helps eliminate confusion regarding how to find the answers to questions. NOTE: Please make sure you check the announcements before you submit a question to us a second time.

Title: All students who are enrolled need to purchase the copyrighted materials to access this platform and course.

Everyone will have to purchase their own copy of the online textbook or physical copy of the textbook. You may not share textbooks due to the copyright agreement we have with the publisher (Our agreement allows for our students to have the ability to print out copyrighted materials from the book contained within the online platform).

You may only share a book if you are married and you will have to submit the proper documentation to the instructor (e-mail using the platform). Thank you for your understanding with regards to our copyright agreements.

Title: RULES FOR EXAMS AND ALL ASSIGNMENTS

1. You must do all your work independently.
2. You may not work on any assignment or exam together.
3. In this online class you may not share any information from exams, quizzes, assignments, etc.
4. You may not copy in any way the content in this course.
5. Distribution of course content by any student will be reported to the proper offices and action will be taken based on the offense.
6. To keep the playing field level for all students, if you receive answers to quizzes or exams from any student or source you should report it to your teacher immediately or you may be held responsible for possessing the materials.
7. You may not use outside internet sources during the assignments or exams unless instructed to do so (read instructions carefully on quizzes and exams).
8. You may use all your personal notes.

Title: Quiz 1 and Your/ Personal Calendar

NOTE: Video Quiz 1 which covers (VI) Extending Minor Chords, will also quiz you directly on the content of the syllabus. You will be able to use your printed copy of the syllabus to take the quiz and you will need it to take the quiz. The quiz will directly ask you about all the testing dates so "you must have your personal calendar filled out with our assignment dates listed in the calendar BEFORE you take Video Quiz 1." The quiz will make you answer "true" to confirm that you have a personal calendar and that you have already entered this class's assignment dates into your personal calendar. Video Quiz 1 will confirm that you are aware of all deadlines and accountable to report conflicts in advance.

Title: Students who have not participated in the online platform by the first day of week 5 may be dropped from the course.

Students who have not participated in the online platform by week 5 may be dropped from the course unless proper documentation is provided in which case we are happy to assist you. This rule is necessary in the online environment to ensure students are complying with posted announcements and quizzes and to ensure the students are not overwhelmed from starting the course late. Students registering late require faculty resources and time. It is also important to remember that all students are held accountable for all deadlines regardless of when they decide to purchase the materials.

NOTE: Unless proper documentation is provided through the UF offices, this rule does apply to all students who request a late start to the course in Week 5 or later due to any unfortunate financial aid issue, unfortunate job loss, illness, marriage or divorce in the family, unfortunate legal issues, birth of a child, unfortunate loss of any family member, unfortunate hospitalization, or any other claims that might be pertinent to their reasons for missing the first 4 weeks of the course. There are no exceptions to this rule so if you have not registered by Week 5 please contact the appropriate offices for special considerations before you contact your instructor. This will ensure you are successful in terms of completing the course on time and properly being accommodated for your issue.

Title: E-mail Communication Guidelines and Information.

Communicating in the online course environment is new to many people and comes with its set of challenges. With that in mind, all students are responsible for downloading the Email Communication Guidelines and Information PDF. Students are to adhere to these guidelines at all times. Video Quiz 1 will confirm you have read these guidelines and important information. These guidelines help students tremendously with regards to ensuring they get the best outcome from all communications exchanged.
