COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course explores the aesthetic, technical, and conceptual practices of image making with digital media. Students will examine how to perceive, communicate and make digital images in visual culture, with an emphasis on the experimental and conceptual. Aesthetic, technical, and conceptual issues within the context of contemporary art are addressed through lectures, demonstrations, exercises, projects, and readings. Students are evaluated based on contributions to class discussion, the class blog, critiques, and aesthetic, technical, and conceptual development in their digital image making practices.

COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Through in-class and formal assignments students will demonstrate an understanding of the following concepts and skills:

- Two-dimensional imaging concepts of composition and aesthetics
- Color theory concepts and terminology (analog, digital, RGB/CMYK)
- Scanning and printing
- Digital image capture fundamentals
- File management/encoding
- Image creation (compositing, collage, montage, photographic composition, digital drawing/illustration)

- Software fundamentals: Adobe Photoshop + Illustrator
- Research methods to inform visual art-making practice
- Project development/process documentation
- Visual literacy and critical thinking skills through participating in critiques

REQUIRED MATERIALS:

- USB flash drive or external hard drive (Mac compatible).
- Access to digital camera to create still images.
- Access to software: Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator (available in the UF CIRCA computer labs).
- Three-button mouse is strongly recommended; this will greatly increase your level of productivity when working with digital imaging software.
- Artist sketchbook – no smaller than 8"x10" with at least 50 plain pages
- Required registration with <http://lynda.com>
- Optional: Digital drawing tablet.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION / COURSE STRUCTURE

The method of instruction for this course is comprised of lectures, screenings, demonstrations, in-class exercises, readings/research, response papers, assigned projects, and critiques. Students should expect to spend a minimum 5 hours weekly outside class to work on projects and do research.

Four major projects will be completed. Each project will be detailed on a project sheet distributed at the time of assignment. During the course of each project, there will be lectures, demonstrations, in-class work periods, and discussions or informal critique (as a class, in small groups, and individually). At the conclusion of each project there will be a formal critique to discuss the work. Critiques will provide an opportunity to use formal imaging vocabulary, recognize opportunities for improvement, and develop effective imaging strategies. During many class periods we will have short image making exercises to challenge technical and conceptual skills. Toward the end of the semester, students will conduct research on a digital artist of their choice, give a 10-minute presentation about the artist, and lead a short discussion about their work.

UF MEDIA LAB POLICY

No food or drinks: not even water. Certain Architecture and Norman Hall computer labs are teaching spaces, and thus access hours are limited. Students may work in these labs when not occupied by classes. Note that the common area Architecture computer lab is open 24 hours/day, so access to computers and software should not be an issue. All work should be stored on your USB flash drive or external hard drive, as lab computers are wiped daily.

PROCESS BOOK

For this course, you will keep a Process Book that gathers all of your thoughts, sketches, writing, and image reference into one sketchbook. The Process Book should be no smaller than 8" X 10" with at least 50

.....

NO REQUIRED TEXTBOOK / all readings will be provided as pdfs on class website.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES: Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Disability Resource Center (Reid Hall, phone 352-392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/. The DRC will provide documentation to the student, who must in turn submit it to this instructor upon requesting accommodation. Course materials are available in alternative format upon request.

plain white pages: your basic art class sketchbook. Maintaining an active process book is a crucial component of good studio work, but it takes practice. Think of your book as a physical manifestation of your thought process and research. The Process Book is where you will compile concepts and images related to your projects. Entries can include sketches, writing, printed out photos, magazine cutouts, interesting textures, research articles, and images of other artworks related to your concept – whatever helps you to create your work. Process books will be submitted with each project and factored into your grade. At least 5 pages of process documentation are required per project. You must include original concept drawings and notes from feedback sessions with classmates and/or the instructor.

CRITIQUE

GUIDELINES:

- Arrive prepared with professionally presented work.
- Be prepared to discuss your own and classmates' work.
- Be respectful: give feedback, not advice.
- No side conversations or texting during presentations or critiques.
- Please mute cell phones prior to class.
- Attending critique is one of the most important aspects of class. If you arrive to critique late, you will not be able to show your work, and participation points will be deducted from your grade.

CLASS WEBSITE, BLOG + ELECTRONIC PROCESS BOOK

Digispring2016.com

The class blog (linked through our website) serves as the electronic component of your process book, and will be factored into your grade for each project. You are expected to upload digital images found through online research as well as drafts of work in progress (minimum 5 uploads per project). Halfway through each assigned project, I will conduct a graded check to make sure you have uploaded the minimum 5 posts per project on the blog. I would encourage you to go beyond this number of posts! Other assignments, such as reading responses will be submitted via Canvas.

PARTICIPATION

Participation, support, and respect in all phases of this course are imperative. The class dynamic depends on your energy, initiative, attitude, productivity, and willingness to get involved in group discussion and critiques. Participate in a responsive manner during critique, class discussion, and blogging. Be safe and thoughtful with equipment and facilities. Mute your phones and put them away at the beginning of class. No browsing Facebook during class! During critiques, absolutely no text messaging is allowed. Being in class is your opportunity to get feedback from the instructor and your classmates. Take advantage of it! Ask questions and contribute answers. Offer constructive criticism during group discussions, class workdays, and critiques. Reflect on the comments you receive to gauge the effectiveness of your work. Examine the way your ideas change, evolve, and influence formal and conceptual choices in your work. Your development as an artist hinges on your ability to make effective choices and express ideas clearly.

All assignments are to be submitted on the date due; assignments that are more than one day late will not be accepted. Late assignments will be penalized up to 20%. Projects will not be accepted after the due date without prior permission. Students who miss class must obtain information from peers (outside of class time); handouts can be obtained from class website.

Make-up of assigned work due to extenuating circumstances must be completed within 2 weeks of absence.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Registered students who do not attend at least one of the first two class meetings for the course, and who have not contacted the department to indicate their intent, may be dropped from the course.

Participation in class is necessary to achieve the course objectives. Students are expected to arrive to class on time and be prepared to participate in all activities. Please mute cell phone prior to class. Attendance is taken at the beginning of each class.

You will be considered tardy if you arrive after roll is taken. Students are permitted three unexcused absences. A fourth unexcused absence will reduce the final participation grade by one letter grade per occurrence. Three "tardies" will equal one absence. The University recognizes the right of professors to make attendance mandatory. After due warning, professors may prohibit further attendance and subsequently assign a failing grade for excessive absences.

COURSE EVALUATION:

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course. Evaluations are conducted online at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/evals/>. Each semester, students will be informed when online evaluations are open. Summary results of these assessments are available at the same website. Instructors receive results only after grades are finalized.
