SYLLABUS

Course Description

This graphic design seminar is studio-based – the primary goal is to originate and then develop a substantial creative/graphic design project. The project is self-defined (with good guidance) through a written proposal. Along the way we will hold intermediate project reviews where you can ask for critical feedback on your creative work from your instructor and peers. At the end of the semester we have a final project presentation and compile a process document.

But we will begin with a short design thinking group exercise in order to share design methods of research/ideation and practice your collaborative skills. Also during the semester we will host two guests (one via Skype and the other in the studio) that are connected to two small response exercises.

Fifty percent of the seminar grade is based on the creative project. The other 50% is based on the design thinking start-up exercise as well as responses/activities related to the two guests.

50% Creative Project	Written Proposal Intermediate Progress/Critiques Completed Work Written Document Verbal Presentation
50% Other Activities	Design Thinking Exercise
	Guest Activity One (Jeff Stamp, on campus)
	Guest Activity Two (Chris Bell, via Skype)

Additional handouts will detail the structure of the project proposal, final presentation and writing assignments. But here is a quick summary...

Creative Project. To begin, develop a project proposal. We will discuss this proposal in class as well as use Canvas to add notes. Then, begin the creative process which might include a variety of research methods, creative exploration, translating ideas into visual form, and crafting the final design work.

Final Presentation/Process. This is an annotated PDF document of your research process – sketches, new directions, doodles, important ideas or notes, visual inspirations, as well as a close look at the final design. No more than ten PDF pages. Your final verbal presentation should be no more than fifteen minutes long.

Readings

In this course we have no specific academic readings. So no required textbook or course pack. We will use the UF e-Learning site, Canvas, to access other course materials and upload/share writing.

Required Materials

Access to a computer/software and in-class use are required. Lab fees cover basic printing materials but you may need to buy additional art supplies to complete the creative projects.

Grading & Attendance

Grading criteria will generally cover depth of research and conceptual development, formal resolution, technical craft and written/verbal presentation. This course has a total of 100 points. Canvas will do the math and calculations but if you want to convert points/percentages to a UF Standard Letter Grade here is a table...

A	A-	B+	B	B-	C+	C	C-	D+	D	D-	F
100% to 94%	< 94% to 90%	< 90% to 87%	< 87% to 84%	< 84% to 80%	< 80% to 77%	< 77% to 74%	< 74% to 70%	< 70% to 67%	< 67% to 64%	< 64% to 61%	< 61% to 0%

More details about Attendance

You can miss two class days without penalty. Any additional unexcused absence will result in the final letter grade dropped one full step (for example, a B would become a C). Arriving late/tardy after class has commenced means that attendance is not awarded on that day. Excused absences follow university guidelines and may include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular requirements, military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays and participation in official university activities or court-imposed legal obligations. If you have a delay, please contact me by email prior to the class. Projects and assignments are not accepted after the due date without prior approval by the instructor.

Other Strategies for Success

Active engagement in the small group sessions is also expected. This means listening to the suggestions of other students and offering constructive comments of your own. Often informal performance will influence your project grades...

Timeliness: Meet all final and intermediate deadlines. Arrive Early.

Quantity/Quality: Exceed the minimum, Seek critique.

Innovation: Seek difference, not similarity.

Community: Collaborate, listen and share.

Health and Safety

The UF School of Art and Art History is concerned about the safe use of art materials. Notes related to the design area: Batteries, old monitors, lamps from digital projectors if broken may release mercury. There are no known health hazards from exposure to lamps that are intact. A complete handbook is provided at — <http://arts.ufl.edu/site/assets/files/37319/saahhealthandsafetyhandbook.pdf>

Twelve-Day Rule

Students who participate in official athletic or scholastic extracurricular activities are permitted twelve (12) scholastic day absences per semester without penalty. In any case, it is the student's responsibility to maintain satisfactory academic performance and attendance.

Absences for Religious Holidays

Students, upon prior notification of their instructions, shall be excused from class or other scheduled academic activity to observe a religious holy day of their faith. Students shall be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up the material or activities covered in their absence. A student who believes that he/she has been unreasonably denied an education benefit due to religious beliefs or practices may seek redress through the student grievance procedure.

Honesty Policy

An academic honesty offense is defined as the act of lying, cheating, or stealing academic information so that one gains academic advantage. As a University of Florida student, one is expected to neither commit nor assist another in committing an academic honesty violation. Additionally, it is the student's duty to report observed academic honesty violations. These can include: cheating, plagiarism, bribery, misrepresentation, conspiracy, or fabrication.
