The New Mrs. Tesman*, a new interpretation of Ibsen's Hedda Gabler premieres at the University of Florida Sept. 23 – Oct. 2, 2016

Gainesville, Fla. Sept. 9, 2016 – Everyone always wonders what goes on behind closed doors. The University of Florida (UF) School of Theatre + Dance (SoTD) will be giving patrons an intimate look behind closed doors with The New Mrs. Tesman, adapted and directed by professor Mikell Pinkney. The New Mrs. Tesman's plot follows Henrik Ibsen's landmark play, Hedda Gabler, but sets it in the Canadian capital of Ottawa where title character Hedda is a member of the country's visible minority dealing with the expectations set upon her as the daughter of Canada's first black Member of Parliament in the late 1950s. Performances will be offered in the Black Box Theatre in the Nadine McGuire Theatre and Dance Pavilion Sept. 23 thru Oct. 2, 2016. Performance times are 7:30 p.m. Sept. 23-24, Sept. 27- Oct. 1, 2016 and 2 p.m. Sept. 25 and Oct. 2, 2016.

"The New Mrs. Tesman will mark the first time in decades that the School of Theatre + Dance has produced a play by Ibsen, considered by many as the 'father of modern drama,'" Pinkney said.

Pinkney, who teaches script analysis, multicultural theatre and African American theatre studies, and acting on both the graduate and undergraduate level, began working on the adaptation in the spring semester of the 2016 academic year and went through several revisions to get to where the script is.

"This piece of theatre really makes the audience a true voyeur," Pinkney said. "It gives the audience a chance to see what goes on behind closed doors as it unfolds onstage. The adaptation I've crafted delves into the nuances and brings about specificity in the piece that Ibsen's original text does not address. I know that most of the audience won't notice those tiny details, but I think that for both the actors and myself, it makes it that much easier to understand the characters and to make choices during the process.”

Pinkney has graced the SoTD stages for many productions including: Gem of the Ocean, The Cherry Orchard, The Man of Mode or Sir Fopling Flutter, Hamlet, The Ohio State Murders, The Cornbread Man, Noises Off, The Mousetrap, and The Women. This past spring he directed Honky, which was well received by both the public and student populations of Gainesville.
