Course description

This seminar is designed to develop student's individual studio practice, and the skills needed to write and talk about their work. Through various studio, research, and written assignments, students will have the opportunity to formulate and discuss questions that drive their own practice. Assignments include a self-directed studio project, development of an artist statement, and giving an artist talk. Students will play an integral role in the development of each other's work through intensive workshops and feedback sessions.

Course objectives, goals, and expectations

The objective of this course is to facilitate student's individual research. By the end of the class students will have completed a self-directed studio assignment, an artist statement, and an artist talk/ research presentation. Students are expected to work independently on their artwork and practice time management throughout the semester. This means working at a consistent rate and presenting materials (such as research notes, sketches, artwork) that support your progress during individual meetings, and group critiques.

The goal of the research and written assignments is to facilitate and produce a catalogue of statements, artist research, and formal presentations that can be built upon during the final years in graduate school, or as a post-graduate practicing artist. The objective of the intensive workshops is to build peer-to-peer relationships, and a professional community with your colleagues. In this measure, active participation during class discussions is required. Please note active participation includes excellent listening skills, knowing when to allow other people to speak, and responding thoughtfully.

Assessment

Students taking this course will be evaluated in three ways:

- (1) Studio Assignment
- (2) Research and Written Assignments
- (3) Participation

Please see assignment sheet for detailed information. Late assignments will be marked down 5% for each day they are past due. Please note, to receive your final grade you must upload work completed for all assignments (including written, and documentation of studio work) on the Google drive (share folder with the instructor) by 5.00pm on Friday, April 21, 2017. Please save videos as compressed .MOV (less than 250 MB) and images as high quality .JPG (less than 10 MB).

Class Attendance

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx#absences>

Students are required to attend every class meeting. Attendance includes arriving on time and with all materials and equipment necessary to actively participate in that date's discussion, lecture, or presentation. Students arriving without assigned materials will be counted absent on that date. Excused absences require legitimate reasons and documentation. In the case of an absence, students are expected to communicate this in writing (email), and in advance (unless extenuating circumstances prohibit doing so). At the discretion of the instructor, students who have more than three unexcused absences may receive a failing grade for the course. Additionally, a student's grade will be effected if s/he has an unexcused absence or does not present work on their designated critique day.

Digital Devices

Cell phones must be on silent and may be used only in case of emergencies. During seminars, laptops may be used only for research as part of the group discussion. Using any device for non-course related business will negatively impact the student's grade.

Grading Criteria

A: This grade is awarded for exceptional work that demonstrates critical thinking, a full realization of the ideas put forth in assignment, and outstanding engagement of both form and content; excellent amount of effort given to the class and assignments, with minimum lateness and absences; going beyond the basic course requirements through independent work and research; display a strong commitment to learning, being an active member of the class community, and growth as an artist and student.

B: This grade will be awarded for very good work that demonstrates a sound and competent realization of the ideas put forth in each assignment; excels in many areas but lacks one or more of the outstanding characteristics listed above.

C: This grade will be awarded for well-presented, average work that demonstrates a fairly good attempt at grasping the expectations of each given assignment. This work lacks a competent, comprehensive understanding mentioned in 'B' above.

D: This grade is awarded for inadequate work-- extremely poor and/or half-finished work with no care or attention to the assignment. In addition, when someone has missed three or more classes, has failed to complete one or more assignments, or keep up to date with the studio-based syllabus.

E: When someone stops coming to class and stops communicating with instructor. This is a severe grade and is usually given in severe circumstances.

Each student must complete a Health and Safety Student Waiver for this course. These forms will be turned in to the School of Art office.

Health and Safety specific to Photography

- There are many hazards associated with photographic materials. Many photographic processes produce toxic gases. The gases could be produced from baths or storage of chemicals.
- Developers are highly alkaline and moderately to highly toxic. They can cause eye and skin irritations and are also allergic sensitizers.
- Stop Baths: The Acetic Acid in Stop Baths can cause dermatitis and skin ulceration. It can also irritate the respiratory system.
- Ammonia is especially hazardous to the eyes and the mucous membranes.
- Iodine can cause hypersensitivity reaction and skin burns when contacting the skin.
- Intensifiers can contain Mercury, Cyanide, or Uranium. Can cause lung cancer over a long time of exposure.
- Hardeners often contain formaldehyde, which is poisonous, very irritating to the eyes, throat, and breathing passages. It can also cause dermatitis.
