Purpose of Course: The purpose is to help develop the craft of composition among young emerging student composers. Students will compose in a variety of compositional styles. Also, students will learn how to prepare and edit scores, along with professional rehearsing techniques.

Course Goals and/or Objectives: By the end of this course, students will have the ability to apply a variety of compositional techniques to their own compositions.

Course Policies:

Attendance Policy: Attendance for each class is mandatory. Should a student have prior knowledge that s/he will be unable to attend a particular class, an email to the teacher is required. Absences from class will affect a student's participation grade. More than two absences will result in the lowering of course grade by one increment for each additional absence. If a student arrives late to class twice, all subsequent late arrivals will be considered absences.

Assignment Policy: Late assignments will be accepted, however whole letter grade will be taken off for each day the assignment is late. In addition there will be listening and reading homework assignments that students will be expected to discuss during class.

Course Technology: Students are expected to have a computer with notation software such as Finale. Should a student not have notation software, s/he will be able to use the computer lab in the MUB which has a copy of Finale.

UF Policies:

University Policy on Accommodating Students with Disabilities: Students requesting accommodation for disabilities must first register with the Dean of Students Office (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/>). The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation. You must submit this documentation prior to submitting assignments or taking the quizzes or exams. Accommodations are not retroactive, therefore, students should contact the office as soon as possible in the term for which they are seeking accommodations.

University Policy on Academic Misconduct: Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students should be sure that they understand the UF Student Honor Code at <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/students.php>.
