Broadway actress and UF theatre alumna returns to the School of Theatre and Dance to perform Hairspray, October 19 – 28

Gainesville, Fla., October 5, 2018 – University of Florida’s School of Theatre and Dance brings the Tony Award-winning Broadway musical Hairspray to the Constans Theatre stage October 19 through 28, featuring alumna LaVon Fisher-Wilson.

Hairspray is an uproarious and upbeat campy musical set in contrast to the political storm of racially segregated Baltimore in 1962. Sunny-natured and pleasantly plump Tracy Turnblad earns a dream spot as a dancer on her favorite local hit TV dance program The Corny Collins Show and becomes an overnight sensation. With her newfound fame, Tracy tries to win the heart of teen-hunk Link Larkin, dethrone Amber Von Tussle as the reigning Miss Teenage Hairspray and push the local TV stations to integrate; all while trying not to dent her ‘do.

“Hairspray is as relevant as ever with the current political climate we’re in,” Director Tony Mata said. “Hairspray shows what we were going through during the 1960s—in a fun way. The show takes artistic license in the sense that it gives us the happy ending that we as a country did not get, as it is still very relevant to today’s world.”

The School of Theatre and Dance is proud to welcome Broadway veteran and School of Theatre and Dance alumna LaVon Fisher-Wilson back to the Constans Stage in this production of Hairspray as Motormouth Maybelle.

“Motormouth is such a pivotal part of the show,” Mata said. “She shows what real people were going through at the time, especially with her song ‘I Know Where I’ve Been,’ which is arguably the most serious moment of the entire show. It is great to have LaVon Fisher-Wilson back after 20 years for this role and singing this song. The Musical Theatre program was in its infancy when she was here as a student so it’s great to see her here in the new facilities, teaching us all.

During her reign of the Constans Theatre stage, she was featured in shows such as Jesus Christ Superstar, 1940s Radio Hour and Into the Woods. She received her MFA from the University of Florida in 1998 and has since been featured in several Broadway shows such as Newsies, Chicago and The Color Purple.

“Oscar Hammerstein once said, ‘By your pupils, you are taught,’” according to Mata. “To have one of our past students come back and share their knowledge with us—it’s powerful and Fisher-Wilson will certainly do that.”
