Syllabus

Course Description

Introduction to Music Theory Rudiments will provide students with the skills and knowledge required to progress through future courses in music theory. This course will cover the basics in notation, scales, intervals, triads, aural skills, and keyboard skills. Additionally, students will be encouraged to relate course content to their personal music experiences.

Textbook

White, Gary. Music First! 6th ed. New York, NY: McGraw Hill, 2011.

Other Materials

Staff paper
Pencil

Objectives

1. Fulfill the prerequisites for upper level theory courses
2. Understand musical notation and use it to express and understand ideas
3. Acquire the skills to complete simple aural skills materials
4. Understand the technical aspects of theory
5. Apply these skills in all areas of music

Grading

Written Exams = 25% (Midterm=10%/Final=15%)
Dictation Exams (3) = 15%
Sight singing exams (3) = 15%
Assignments = 25%
Quizzes = 10%
Attendance = 10%

Exams

Written: A written midterm exam will be given halfway through the semester on all concepts covered in the first half of the semester. Types of questions and format will be discussed in the weeks prior to the exam. The final exam will take place at 3:00pm on Wednesday, December 12, 2018. Note that this is a different time than we normally meet. This exam will cover material from the entire semester.

Dictation: Three dictation exams will be given over the course of the semester. Students should be able to aurally understand and clearly notate musical ideas. Specifics on these will be covered in the days/weeks prior to the exam date.

Sight singing: Three sight-singing exams will be administered during the course of the semester. These will be given one on one. A week prior to these exams, students will sign up for a time to meet with the professor for 5-10 minute slots to take the sight singing exams. Students will not be graded on the quality of their voice but rather the accuracy of the notes and rhythms.

Assignments

At least one per week, assignments will reinforce content covered in class. Due dates for assignments will vary based on the amount of work each assignment is. No late work will be accepted.

Quizzes

Quizzes will be given periodically to make sure students are keeping up with assigned readings and actively paying attention in class. They may be announced or unannounced. Formats of quizzes will vary based on content.

Attendance

Each unexcused absence will deduct 10% of attendance grade (1% of final grade). Acceptable reasons for absence (excused absences) include illness, serious family emergencies, severe weather conditions, religious holidays, and participation in official university activities. Other reasons may also apply. If you know you are going to miss a class, please let the professor know in advance so necessary arrangements can be made.
