AUDITION WORKSHOP (PROFESSIONAL ACTOR SEMINAR): Designed for students with serious intent on pursuing professional careers in the field, the course explores the primary facets of the business of being an actor in the context of a major entertainment market including (but not limited to) relevant philosophical aspects, marketing and promotion, professional representation, auditioning and the development of an effective practical skill set to procure and secure employment and sustain a life-long career in the industry.

OBJECTIVES/GOALS:

- The student acquires a working knowledge of the elements of career building as they pertain to the professional actor.
- The student develops a working knowledge of the audition process as it applies to general auditions, prepared scenes, cold readings, on-camera auditions, self-taping, improvisation and interviews to strengthen performance within specific audition events.
- The student develops a vocabulary and an extensive working knowledge of concepts with which to build and sustain a career as an actor.
- The student develops an understanding of current professional demands and expectations.
- The student demonstrates the capacity to think critically and articulately about the audition process and career development.

EXPECTATIONS REGARDING BEHAVIOR/DEMEANOR: One goes to a good school to get a good education and, in turn, to get a leg up in her profession. The professional workplace demands disciplined work and behavior. Otherwise, you get fired and create a very bad reputation for yourself. Bad reputations get around. A similar work ethic is required of you in this class, as an advanced-level college student, a responsible citizen and future professional. Assignments will be completed in a timely, thorough fashion. They will meet a level of sophistication fitting for advanced students of the theatre. Also: Attendance is mandatory. (See Attendance Policy.) To learn to act, you must act. To act, you must be here. Your learning comes in the shared experience. Your participation has as much to do with others' growth as your own. Your absence is costly to everyone. The professional theatre does not make allowances for illness. Actors do not have the luxury of getting sick. Exercise. Eat healthfully. Drink lots of water. Don't smoke. Your body and your breath are your greatest tools as an actor. Protect them. Please note: Attendance is not the same as participation. You are expected to be not only physically present, but mentally. You will be expected to demonstrate your understanding of class concepts by the comments and criticisms you make. Speak thoughtfully and often.

ATTENDANCE POLICY: In an attempt to create a disciplined environment that simulates the demands of the actor's work place, I will enforce an attendance policy that allows little room for you to exert any personal control over the business of being an actor. The callback, the shoot, and the evening's performance do not wait for your good health or your good night's sleep. Sometimes you must work tired or work sick. Sometimes you fake it. Sometimes it is during these times that you do your best work (being too tired to put energy into all your old bad habits.) In that way, I allow just two unexcused absences. You may have numerous excused absences (within university strictures), but they are limited to medical illness documented by a physician, family emergency documented by the appropriate person, religious holidays (please give notice in the first 2 weeks of the semester) and official excuses from school administration. Each additional unexcused absence will result in the lowering of 1.5% points from your final grade. In the same way, tardiness will also be penalized. It has no place in rehearsal, at auditions, at your early morning call on set for a shoot or at half-hour in the theatre, and it has no place in the classroom. However, having suffered myself at the hands of an inconsistent mass transit system en route to the theater and the casting office, I will excuse two late arrivals to class. Each additional two late shows will result in one absence and another 1.5% deduction from your final score. Simply put: Do the math, show up for class, and develop a discipline that will keep you working.

POLICIES REGARDING MAKE-UP WORK AND LATE WORK:

Excused absences do not make one exempt from class obligations. Work must be made up in a timely fashion, at the discretion of the instructor, typically in the week follow the student's return to class. Unexcused late work will be penalized at the discretion of the instructor, with penalties increasing relative to lateness.

EXTRA-CREDIT AND/OR EXTRA-CURRICULAR:

I am offering extra credit for every Hippodrome Theatre production (save the UF co-pro [Curious]) you attend this semester (5 points on your lowest written assignment score per production for a possible 15 extra points.) The productions are:

- THE BLAMELESS by Nick Gandiello
- SCROOGE IN ROUGE by Ricky Graham, et al.

Proof must include a ticket stub stapled to a playbill due to me no later than Friday December 6. If one ushers to see a production, a playbill signed by house management (printed name and signature) will be accepted. The UF Honesty Pledge (as follows below) applies here as well.

For your further edification as future professionals, consider also seeing one of the offerings at the Phillips Center this season:

UF HONESTY POLICY: We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold both ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity. On all work submitted for credit by students at the university, the following pledge is either required or implied: On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.

UNAUTHORIZED RECORDINGS: A student shall not without express authorization from the faculty member and, if required by law, from other participants, make or receive any recording, including but not limited to audio and video recordings, of any class, co-curricular meeting, organizational meeting, or meeting with a faculty member.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES: Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation.
