Course Description
This course introduces the art and architecture of ancient, colonial, and modern Latin America by way of key examples that tie themes across time and space. It begins with significant examples of ancient (often known as Pre-Columbian) art of Mesoamerica and the Andes. It then follows with consideration of artworks of the colonial (or viceregal) era. Lastly we will consider art of modern and contemporary Latin America. We will cover art from a four-thousand-year time span (ca. 2000 BCE–2000 CE) and see the ways in which Latin American artists have built on the region’s shared artistic legacies as well as responded to outside influences.

Expected Learning Outcomes
Students will:
• Recall the geography and cultural characteristics of Latin America as a region.
• Apply art historical methods to describe, compare, and analyze works of Latin American art orally and in writing, independently and in groups.
• Memorize the identifying information for a selected group of artworks.
• Gain in-depth knowledge about this group of artworks, which serve as windows into larger features of ancient, colonial, and modern/contemporary Latin American art.
• Read scholarly analyses on the selected artworks and discuss the artists’ and scholars’ perspectives in their own words.
• By studying Latin American art, especially that of Indigenous, Black, and women artists, develop a critical understanding of the art historical canon and how it can be challenged.
Required Materials
- Internet access and a computer with a camera and microphone. Materials such as a tablet and/or a notebook for viewing course readings and taking notes.
- Required readings are available as pdf’s on the Canvas course site or through the UF Library.

But you are also required to purchase and read this book through the semester: Nancy Deffebach, María Izquierdo and Frida Kahlo: Challenging Visions in Modern Mexican Art (University of Texas Press, 2015).

- For students seeking more background information, optional introductory readings are also available on the Canvas course site.

Course Requirements
All students must:
1. attend class during the synchronous (live) online meetings
2. do the assigned readings in advance of the class for which they are assigned
3. participate in discussion and group activities (in the form of individual chat comments during class, breakout group reports, and other short assignments)
4. visit the professor’s online office hours and ask a question at least once
5. attend the online lecture by Dr. Kellie Jones at 6:00 pm on Sept. 10 and write a response to it*
6. view one film in the Latino Film Festival and write a short review of it. See http://gainesvillelatinofilmfestival.com/
7. visit the Harn Museum of Art independently and write a 3–4 page paper on a work by a Latin American artist currently on display*
8. take the in-class midterm, map quiz, and final examination. The midterm and final will consist of short essays based on questions and study images provided in advance.

*Students who are unable to attend the Jones lecture or visit the Harn can make arrangements to do similar, alternate assignments.
Grade Breakdown

Class attendance: 10%
Class participation: 10%
Office hours visit: 5%
Summary and Response to Jones Lecture: 10%
Latino Film Festival assignment: 10%
Midterm examination: 10%
Map quiz: 5%
Harn piece paper: 20%
Final examination: 20%

Attendance, Makeup, and Class Conduct Policies

It is important that students attend the live classes on Zoom. The class meetings feature lectures and discussions that synthesize the course materials, present additional information, and require your participation.

Students will need to have the class readings on hand and take notes. Since the class is delivered online, they will also need to view the professor's presentations. They should plan to have a desk space, notebook paper, and sufficient screen space available to complete these tasks.

The class sessions will be audio visually recorded for students in the class to refer back to and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. These are only meant as a failsafe in case you have connectivity issues or wish to review.

Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/

Absences for exams and late papers will require documentation, i.e. a doctor’s note, in order to be excused. Unexcused absences count against both the attendance and participation grades, and are reflected in the final grade. Students who do not complete requirements 5–9 will fail the course. Written assignments should be submitted as Word documents on Canvas unless otherwise stated. Assignments are due at 11:00 pm on the due dates.

Details of this syllabus are subject to change as needed. Other important information is at the end of this document in the Appendix.
General Education Humanities Designation

This course qualifies for the university’s Humanities (H) designation. Humanities courses provide instruction in the history, key themes, principles, terminology, and theory or methodologies used within a humanities discipline or the humanities in general. Students will learn to identify and to analyze the key elements, biases and influences that shape thought. These courses emphasize clear and effective analysis and approach issues and problems from multiple perspectives.

This course accomplishes the following learning outcomes for Humanities:

- Identify, describe, and explain the history, underlying theory and methodologies used.
- Identify and analyze key elements, biases and influences that shape thought within the subject area. Approach issues and problems within the discipline from multiple perspectives.
- Communicate knowledge, thoughts and reasoning clearly and effectively.

A minimum grade of C is required for general education credit.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via ufl.bluera.com/ufl/. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/.

Communication

Apart from talking during or after class and during Zoom office hours, the principal form of communication for this course is email, using students’ @ufl.edu addresses. Students should be sure to check their UF email often and use it to communicate with the professor, mstanfield@ufl.edu. Emails will be responded to within 48 hours. If you cannot come to the Zoom office hours, email the professor and arrange a time and way to talk (phone, Facetime, or Zoom).

Academic Honesty
UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code (https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-code-student-conduct-code/) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Students with Disabilities
I will make every attempt to accommodate students with disabilities. Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, https://disability.ufl.edu) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.
