Students Requesting Accommodations due to Disabilities
Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/) by providing appropriate documentation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

Academic Honor Policy
UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct/honor-code/) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Prompt attendance to each synchronous class meeting is expected as a demonstration of professional commitment. Three late arrivals will equal one unexcused absence. The heart of education at the University of Florida is the teaching/learning interaction between you the student and your instructors. Because of this belief, class attendance is regarded as an essential part of the “contract” between you and the University. You are expected to attend all classes for which you are registered. If you know you must be absent from this class, you should speak with your instructor before your absence, stating the reasons for your absence and agreeing upon a way to make up the work. Absences for illness and other valid reasons will be excused when timely notice is provided. For each unexcused absence, a student’s course grade will be lowered by five percentage points.

Class Participation
The activities that will occur during class meetings and asynchronously throughout the week are essential to meeting the course objectives. Your verbal skills, critical and creative thinking abilities, and overall understanding will be directly affected by the quality, quantity, and appropriateness of your contributions to the class. The dynamics of this course and its ultimate value to you necessitate that you to come to each class prepared (having read assignments, when applicable), contribute questions and comments to stimulate discussions, and fully engage in the content and activities of each class meeting.

Email
Your UFL email account is the official email address used by the University, where official correspondence is sent. Important communication regarding this course may also take place via email, and your UFL email address is what will be used. All students need to regularly check their email, at least one time per day. Make checking it part of your daily routine.
ASSIGNMENTS AND ASSESSMENTS
All assignments are due on the date specified. Grades on late assignments will be lowered by 10% for each day they are late. No credit will be given for assignments received later than two weeks following the due date. An exception to this policy is if the student is personally ill, has a death in his/her immediate family, or other such emergency. The student should contact the instructor immediately upon his/her return to make arrangements to complete missed assignments at the earliest possible date. In addition to all assigned course readings, students will complete the following assignments and projects. Initial video discussion posts must be made by Thursday of each week at 11:59 p.m. All remaining assignments for the week, including a minimum of two video discussion replies, will be due on Sunday at 11:59 p.m. unless otherwise specified. Additional information about the assignments will be provided in class and on Canvas. All written assignments will be submitted through Canvas.
