

Drawing Studio: Perceptual Drawing

ART2305c

Spring 2021

“Drawing is not only a way to come up with pictures: drawing is a way to educate your eye to understand visual information, organizing it into a more hierarchical way, a more economical way. When you see something, if you draw often and frequently, you examine a room very differently.”

— Vic Muniz

Catalog Description

Introduces descriptive drawing. Basic theories of observation and depiction including perspective and chiaroscuro.

Instructor's Description

Perceptual Drawing introduces the fine arts major to the visual language of drawing through observation. Drawing is hard work. It takes time, practice, thought, reflection and then much more practice. This course is designed to provide a framework and the basic skills necessary for that practice. This course also intends to foster an awareness of drawing as a basic organizer of thought, as a principal element of human communication, and as a foundation for all image making.

The fundamentals of drawing will be explored through a variety of materials, processes, and practices as they apply to observational drawing. The act of observing, and visual perception in general, is more complex than we sometimes think. It is also the case that translating your observations into drawings is no easy task. To those ends, the student is asked for focus and persistence throughout this course—there is simply no better way to learn how to draw. In addition, students will work to develop critical thinking and research skills in relation to the traditions and contemporary practices of drawing.

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

By participating in this class, the student will be able to:

- accurately represent perceptions in 2-d format
- make informed choices in representation to promote the communication of content.
- apply knowledge of historic and contemporary sources in the development of content.
- use drawing and design skill to visually communicate abstract concepts
- make informed choices in drawing tools and materials
- apply a visual vocabulary of marks to achieve expressive outcomes
- critique the uses of representation and translation through historic and contemporary precedents.
- describe their philosophy of drawing
- critique works based on technical, aesthetic, and philosophical considerations.
- be conversant in the embeddedness of drawing in all art practice.

Skill Set Objectives

- Develop a full range of drawing skills and vocabulary of mark-making
- Accurate perceptual drawing
- Develop a thematic body of drawings
- Knowledge and application of 2D design principles
- Able to make informed choices about drawing tools and materials

GRADING POLICIES

Requirements and Evaluation

80% Assignments

20% Sketchbook, Presentations, and Participation

Assignments (80%)

Assignments include in-class exercises and extended drawing projects, as well as homework drawings.

A note about Inventiveness and Experimentation

Through these assignments, you are working to develop your ability to solve problems and devise new approaches for achieving, not only the course objectives, but also personal goals you set for yourself. New and unusual approaches often lead to discovery in your work, so demonstrate your willingness to move beyond basic requirements and boundaries— artists take risks.

Another note, this time about Craftsmanship and Work Ethic

It takes time to make art, to explore the creative handling of techniques and materials, and to solve the problems presented by drawing projects. Start Early and work through each class to its end. Complete your work—this includes all facets of the assignment.

Each student has a personal approach, aesthetic and level of technical experience. Use what you know while also challenging yourself.

You must speak with me within one week of receiving a grade in order to dispute an assignment grade. You may speak with me at any point within the semester to discuss your participation grade. All assignments may be re-worked and resubmitted for grading provided they were originally turned in on time. Re-worked assignments must be resubmitted within two weeks of the original grade. Assignments may only be re-worked one time. Re-working an assignment does not guarantee a higher grade.

Late Assignment Policy

1. Assignments are due when indicated by the instructor.
2. Late assignment will drop 1 letter grade per class period late.

3. An assignment more than 3 class periods late will receive an F.

You must speak with me within one week of receiving a grade in order to dispute an assignment grade. You may speak with me at any point within the semester to discuss your participation grade. All assignments may be re-worked and resubmitted for grading provided they were originally turned in on time. Re-worked assignments must be resubmitted within two weeks of the original grade. Assignments may only be re-worked one time. Re-working an assignment does not guarantee a higher grade.

Sketchbook, Presentations, and Participation (20%)

We will discuss sketchbook and project development requirements in class.

Regarding participation: support, and respect in all phases of this course is imperative. The class dynamic depends on your energy, initiative, attitude, productivity, and willingness to get involved in group discussion and critiques. Attend and participate in a responsive manner in every class and during critiques. You are expected to clean-up as well as practice safe and thoughtful use of materials, tools and facilities.

Prepare questions, solicit responses, and encourage constructive criticism during discussions and critiques. Consider comments (write in your notebook during discussions!) to gauge the effectiveness of your work. Examine the way in which your ideas change, evolve, and influence formal and conceptual choices in your work. Your development as an artist hinges on your ability to make effective choices and express ideas clearly.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

This course will be delivered through a variety of strategies, both in person (F2F) as well as online (CANVAS, Zoom meetings, etc.). This might be a good place to put in a plug for flexibility: we are, of course, living in unusual times. It may be the case that the method of delivery for this course has to adapt in response to real-world events. I am committed to maintaining the student learning objectives for this course regardless of its delivery method. I appreciate your willingness to fully, and flexibly participate in this course during these uncertain times.

F2F Course Policies

We will have face-to-face instructional sessions to accomplish the student learning objectives of this course. In response to COVID-19, the following policies and requirements are in place to maintain your learning environment and to enhance the safety of our in-classroom interactions.

- This course has been planned to allow for an 8-foot radius between students. Please do not move desks or stations.
- Hand-sanitizing stations are placed outside of our classroom. Please sanitize your hands before you enter and after your exit the classroom.
- You are required to wear approved face coverings at all times during class and within buildings.
- Please wipe your desk and chair back down with sanitizing wipes prior to sitting down and at the end of the class.
- All borrowed tools must be returned for sanitization at the end of the class.
- Follow your instructor's guidance on how to enter and exit the classroom. Practice physical distancing (6 feet) to the extent possible when entering and exiting the classroom.

If you are experiencing COVID-19 symptoms (<https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/symptoms-testing/symptoms.html>), please use the UF Health screening system <https://ufhealth.org/covid-19-symptoms> and follow the instructions on whether you are able to attend class.

Course materials will be provided to you with an excused absence, and you will be given a reasonable amount of time to make up work (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/>).

Following and enforcing these policies and requirements are all of our responsibility. Failure to do so may lead to your removal from the classroom and a report to the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution.

A Note on Respect and Diversity in this Classroom

As mentioned in the Participation section of this syllabus, support and respect in all phases of this course is imperative. Students in this class are encouraged to speak up and participate during class meetings. Because the class will represent a diversity of individual beliefs, backgrounds, and experiences, every member of this class must show respect for every other member of this class.

I am firmly committed to diversity and equality in all areas of campus life, and in this class I will work to promote an anti-discriminatory environment where everyone feels safe and welcome. I recognize that discrimination can be direct or indirect and take place at both institutional and personal levels. I believe that such discrimination is unacceptable and I am committed to providing equality of opportunity for all by eliminating any and all harassment, bullying, or victimization. The success of this policy relies on the support and understanding of everyone in this class. We all have a responsibility not to participate in, or condone harassment or discrimination of any kind.
