Course Description

In this color photography course, students will engage processes of the digital include digital capture, circulation, and large format printing. The histories and theories relating to these photographic processes will be explored through the topic of The Return of the Unreal. Through seminar style format, students will discuss readings alongside the work of contemporary artists, and explore the cultural production of art and its relationship to ideas such as the occult, mysticism, the construction of myth, and conspiracy theories. Students will also engage with these issues in their own art making through a series of studio assignments that responds to the work of contemporary artist, the readings, and their own research. These studio assignments will be viewed and discussed during group critiques and individual meetings.

Course Objectives & Goals

The goal of this course is to develop critical thinking and the skills to create and speak about issues concerning current photographic production and related contemporary art and culture. Students will engage a wide range of art historians, theorists, and artists through researching and presenting on the work of contemporary artists, reading assignments, and reading group presentations. Students will investigate formal and conceptual questions raised during their reading and research through a number of studio-based projects. This will provide students with a framework for connecting research to the development of their own art practice. To further facilitate this, students will undertake a self-directed project that will be developed through individual meetings with the instructor. For the studio assignments, students are expected to explore new ways to work and experiment in their projects, and to present formally and conceptually rigorous work. An introduction to professional practice, including independent research and developing artists statements, will also form a component of the course.

Open Lab & Individual Meetings

Individual meetings will be scheduled throughout the semester. During these meetings students will present their research and work in progress. To facilitate a discussion of their ideas, students must show images/ objects/ sketches, etc. of their research. During these meetings students will also discuss their plans and timeline for work. If these plans or ideas change, students must inform the instructor either through email or in person for approval. For Open Lab, students must come prepared to work on class assignments. This includes all the necessary materials and equipment. If students need to work on their assignments outside of the area during Open Lab, they must communicate this with the instructor, either through email or in person, for approval. Failure to follow this procedure may effect the project grade.

Class Attendance

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/>

Students are required to attend every class meeting. Attendance includes arriving on time and with all materials necessary to actively participate in that date's discussion, lecture, or presentation. Students arriving without assigned materials may be counted absent on that date. Three unexcused late arrivals may be recorded as one absence. At the discretion of the instructor, students who have more than three unexcused absences may receive a failing grade for the course. Additionally, a student's grade may be effected if they have unexcused absences or do not present work on their designated critique day.

Excused absences, include being withheld from campus due to COVID, and require documentation such as a doctor's note. In the case of an absence, students are asked to communicate this via email and in advance of class unless extenuating circumstances prohibit doing so. Make up work will be made available for all students who have excused absences.

Grading Criteria

A: This grade is awarded for exceptional work that demonstrates critical thinking, a full realization of the ideas put forth in assignment, and outstanding engagement of both form and content; excellent amount of effort given to the class and assignments, with minimum lateness and absences; going beyond the basic course requirements through independent work and research; display a strong commitment to learning, being an active member of the class community, and growth as an artist and student.

B: This grade will be awarded for very good work that demonstrates a sound and competent realization of the ideas put forth in each assignment; excels in many areas but lacks one or more of the outstanding characteristics listed above.

PGY3410C Color Photography The Return of the Unreal Syllabus

C: This grade will be awarded for well-presented, average work that demonstrates a fairly good attempt at grasping the expectations of each given assignment. This work lacks a competent, comprehensive understanding mentioned in 'B' above.

D: This grade is awarded for inadequate work-- extremely poor and/or half-finished work with no care or attention to the assignment. In addition, when someone has missed three or more classes, has failed to complete one or more assignments, or keep up to date with the studio-based syllabus.

E: When someone stops coming to class and stops communicating with instructor. This is a severe grade and is usually given in severe circumstances.
