Course Description and Goals:

Dance Composition 4 features opportunities to explore practical, historical, collaborative, and aesthetic choreographic practices. As the final compositional course prior to the choreographic Senior Project, this course will help you to:

- build choreographic skills by practicing creative and compositional methods in specific relationship to group forms including but not limited to:
  - review of development of thematic material (motif, theme/variation, and beyond)
  - understanding approaching movement material with commitment to literal interpretation vs. the possibilities of abstraction
  - exploring differences and preferences between visual/spatial symmetry and asymmetry including working on exits and entrances, canon, and ground bass form
  - learning/reviewing forms associated with Western classical music that are associated with dance forms: AB, ABA, Rondo, Accumulation, etc.
- work with improvisational structures that help you generate movement material and organize it in space, time, and relationship including:
  - review improvisation basics
  - contact improvisation basics
- learn about, practice, and integrate into your work purposeful autoethnography that considers your personal history and its connection to multiple histories, relationships, and cultures including your Dance culture.
- communicate and collaborate with other artists across disciplines—specifically Digital Worlds students designing video projections for dance works
- be introduced to the basics of dance production that are needed to navigate design conversations with light, sound, and costume designers as well as the “real world” realities of self-producing in varied venues.
- make a final “product” that integrates your choreographic learning, personal creative process, and unique artistic voice.
- work as a collective to audition dancers, vision, and produce these works as a concert for the Spring BFA Showcase.
- through class and UnShowings practice peer-based observation and feedback so you can continue developing your communication skills through thoughtful, non-reactive, intelligent, articulate feedback to your peers, which helps them and you to clarify your creative choices.
Course Objectives

1. Learn to organize and direct choreography for groups which includes: auditions, rehearsal organization, personal preparation and time management, and clear communication with your classmates and collaborators.
2. Understanding historic compositional tools for group forms and demonstrating ability to manipulate and develop group movement material.
3. Being able to articulate your choreographic choices through embodiment and writing.
4. Being able to give coherent, supportive and clear feedback to your peers and with the instructor, co-creating a learning environment where everyone feels safe to experiment, speak, and very importantly, learn by trial, error, and sometimes all out failure (yes you read that right).
5. Researching choreographic methods and dance works of interest to better situate yourself in your artistic “Family Tree” and “try on” various creative practices to learn more extensively about choreographic possibilities and histories.
6. Learning about autoethnography and autobiography to more effectively mine personal and cultural terrain for choreographic and thematic concerns. Practice this with conscious purpose instead of “personal inspiration.”
7. Create a “final product” for BFA Showcase; practice professional collaboration and communication with Digital Worlds, Design, and Stage Management students.

Course Requirements

1. Attendance: Attendance at all classes, showings, and required events. Absences will affect your grade though each absence will be considered on a case-by-case basis. There is generous understanding for personal emergencies, unexpected illness, and injury—e-mail me immediately concerning such. If you are injured, you are still required to attend class and participate in any way you are able. If you are absent, you are responsible for taking the initiative to catch up with your assignments and must be prepared to show work on assigned due dates—there is no “make up” for your work.

 It is assumed that at this upper class level of engagement that you will attend class—there is no grade percentage for attendance. “Showing up” is a life skill.

2. Assigned creative and written work must be turned in and presented according to course calendar (which is flexible and also subject to change as we go along). We will use in class time as productively as possible.

3. Approach: sharing space with peers in a collaborative, generative, and generous spirit, conducting yourself professionally and generously with casts and collaborators, and coming transparently to the work in whatever “state” is present on any given day.

SOTD AND SUPPORTING UF POLICIES:

UF Absence Policy
Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies, as follows:

Source: https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/

- Students are responsible for satisfying all academic objectives as defined by the instructor. Absences count from the first class meeting.
- In general, acceptable reasons for absence from or failure to participate in class include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular requirements (e.g., judging trips, field trips, professional conferences), military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays and participation in official university activities such as music performances, athletic competition or debate. Absences from class for court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena) must be excused. Other reasons also may be approved.
- You cannot participate in classes unless you are registered officially or approved to audit with evidence of having paid audit fees. The Office of the University Registrar provides official class rolls to Instructors.
- If you do not participate in at least one of the first two class meetings of a course or laboratory in which you are registered, and you have not contacted the department to indicate your intent, you can be dropped from the course. You must not assume that you will be dropped, however.
- The university recognizes the right of the individual professor to make attendance mandatory. After due warning, professors can prohibit further attendance and subsequently assign a failing grade for excessive absences.

The Dance Area of SoTD believes that dance student's physical and mental well-being is paramount to success in all arenas of their dance training, from class to the stage. In the case of injury, fostering a productive and holistic response insures a speedy and effective recovery.

1. If the dance student becomes ill or injured to the degree that they cannot attend and participate in dance classes, SoTD sponsored rehearsals, or performances, the 5 steps of the dance student injury and illness policy are to be followed:

2. The student is required to see a health care professional immediately.

3. If the illness or injury prevents the student from participation in dance class, rehearsal, or performance, the student is to request documentation from the health care professional that explicitly projects the duration of the injury, and/or the amount and type of activity recommended for the welfare of the student.

4. Following the appointment with the health care professional, the student is required to bring medical recommendations and related documentation to the attention of his or her instructor(s), choreographer(s), or director(s) as the basis for discussion.

5. Unless otherwise medically advised, the student is prohibited from active participation in all related UF dance activities, classes, events, performances, etc. The student may not personally select one activity as having a higher priority over another. The student is not to dance in any events, activities, performances or rehearsals if the student is not in dance class. If the infirmity culminates in a medical withdrawal, this is also a withdrawal from all performance related activities.

6. The student is never allowed to sacrifice classroom participation for the demands of a performance. The student will not be allowed to participate in a performance if they miss dance class due to an injury. The student is expected to follow the student injury and illness policy even if performances take place beyond the scope of SoTD, as with another UF, professional, or community performing group, etc.

Continuing Dance Program COVID protocols:

COVID-19 Precautions

- All people inside of UF facilities/SoTD are expected to wear masks in community spaces in buildings, including common areas in our office suites, when we are not in our individual offices or workspaces, even if you are vaccinated.

- With the highly contagious Omicron variant proliferating, personal purchase of KN95 or N95 masks are recommended. Surgical masks will still be provided but along with cloth masks are not as effective in reducing the spread of Omicron.

- Your ONE.UF account must show a “Cleared for Campus” status in order to attend in-person. I will check my roster before each class meeting.

- Some synchronous online options may remain with announcements regarding applicable dates (simultaneously on Zoom and in person). Unless otherwise specified, all courses are considered IN PERSON with attendance taken.

Students, Faculty, and Staff are trusted to foster healthy SoTD class and creative environments through adherence to the following guidelines:
• If you are not vaccinated, get vaccinated. If you are vaccinated, get the booster. UF Provost's office has emailed the campus with available/ongoing resources.
• Students are welcome to use hand sanitizer or wash hands at the top of each class, rehearsal or production activity in shared spaces.

• Stay home and seek medical help for COVID-19 symptoms or exposure (persistent cough, fever 100.4+, new loss of taste or smell, muscle pain/headaches, shortness of breath, sore throat, chills, diarrhea, or feeling generally ill). The culture of hiding illness or the “show must go on” mentality must be avoided.
• Wipes and sanitation supplies will be available to sanitize individual props, costumes, chairs, ballet barres, music stands, tables, individual projects etc.
• Dispose of personal trash in appropriate bags/containers.
