COURSE OBJECTIVE:
What is style in relation to acting? Do plays of different genres affect the playing “style” of the actors? What are the specific demands required of an actor when working on Brecht? Or Chekhov? Do they differ from each other? Can an actor still use the basic Stanislavski psychologically based “realistic” techniques when working on plays by Beckett, or Grotowski? Over the course of the semester, we will explore the major theatrical forms and movements of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries and explore how an actor’s process needs to adapt to collaborate in bringing each play to life. While the course will involve some writing, the majority of the work for the actors will be on their feet, acting in scenes from the different genres.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:
Students are allowed 2 “unexcused” absences that do not require documentation and do not conform to the UF “acceptable reasons for absence.” Any other “unexcused” absence will result in a penalty of a full letter grade (10%) from the final grade per “unexcused” absence. To be considered “excused” an absence must be accompanied by appropriate official documentation. Religious observances do not require documentation. However, in order to help organize accommodations, students should inform the instructor by the end of the second week of classes of religious observances of their faith that will conflict with class attendance this semester.

Any absence from class for the following reasons must be supported by official acceptable documentation to avoid a grade penalty:
• Illness—A doctor’s note must be on official letterhead with address and phone number, noting the date and time of visit and diagnosis verifying that an absence from class is warranted, with the doctor’s name and signature
• Serious family emergencies
• Special curricular requirements (e.g., judging trips, field trips, professional conferences)
• Military obligation
• Severe weather conditions
• Participation in official university activities such as music performances, athletic competition or debate
• Court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena.

Any student that acquires 2 absences (either excused or unexcused) will be required to meet with this course’s instructor and/or area faculty to discuss the student’s continued participation in the course. For Majors: Failure to attend this meeting will result in Artistic Probation. Due to the participatory nature of the course that includes in-class collaboration along with partner and ensemble work, if a student acquires more than 3 unexcused absences, the student may be prohibited from participation in partner/group exercises which will affect the student’s final grade.
HYBRID COURSE:

The desired intent is for the class to meet face-to-face, in person. Class may occasionally meet through Zoom. As of the date of posting this syllabus (12/28/2022), there has been a significant rise in Florida and nationally in cases of COVID-19 due to the omicron variant. Symptoms appear to be mild in many cases, and it may manifest asymptomatically also, so that individuals may be unaware of infection unless tested. That is why the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and UF Health urge everyone to wear masks indoors to minimize the risk of spread. Moreover, UF Health recommends you wear the more form fitting KN95 or N95 pouches instead of looser blue surgical or cloth masks to enhance protection.

Students who are medically required to quarantine will have documentation from a medical provider. Students who self-quarantine must communicate with the instructor and “attend” courses remotely synchronously, when available, or asynchronously if approved by the instructor. Students who elect to enroll in a hybrid course are expected to participate in in-person instruction. If a student is uncomfortable attending in-person, the student should elect courses that are delivered online only and plan to take the hybrid or face-to-face course in a future semester. In the case that the student does not have the option to take the class at a later time (i.e., a graduating senior), the student must make arrangements with the instructor to “attend” all class meetings synchronously, when available, or asynchronously if approved by the instructor. Barring the above circumstances, students are expected to be in attendance (either remotely or in-person, as assigned) daily and to be on time.

If you are experiencing COVID-19 symptoms, please use the UF Health screening system and follow the instructions on whether you are able to attend class. Click here for UF Health guidance on what to do if you have been exposed to or are experiencing Covid-19 symptoms. (https://coronavirus.ufhealth.org/screen-test-protect-2/frequently-asked-questions/covid-19-exposure-and-symptoms-who-do-i-call-if/)

Course materials will be provided to you with an excused absence, and you will be given a reasonable amount of time to make up work. Find more information in the university attendance policies.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:
Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center: https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/

It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

HONOR PLEDGE:
UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.
