Course Description

This course provides sophomore and junior art history majors with a foundational overview of the history of theories of art and of research in the visual arts and a practical roadmap for researching and writing an art history paper.

Course Objectives

Students will learn philosophical and theoretical approaches to writing about the visual arts from antiquity to the twenty-first century. Students will gain experience in research and writing as well as develop skills in oral presentations and preparing and leading seminar discussions.

Required Materials

Required for purchase:

- Michael Cothren and Anne D’Alleva, Methods and Theories of Art History 3rd Edition

Note: Earlier editions are acceptable for affordability, but chapter titles and page ranges may not match up with the syllabus, so students should consult with the instructor if they have problems. Both books will also be on reserve in the Fine Arts Library.

- Other readings will be available to students electronically, on Canvas or through UF libraries.

- Attendance and Active participation in discussion 15%
- Attendance at one of the semester’s HESCAH lectures 5%

• Paper draft (graded as complete/incomplete) 5%
• Paper Presentation 10%
• Final Paper 20%

Assignments:

Each student will select a single object, or a discreet group of objects (subject to instructor approval) at the beginning of the semester. These will be introduced to the class at the third meeting, and will subsequently serve as the basis for your written work throughout the semester.

1. Discussion Leading: Once during the semester you will be responsible for presenting one of the focused readings to the class and leading discussion on it.

4. Object Description Paper: After completing the assigned reading, you will write a one page ekphrasis, or description of your chosen object(s). This does not have to contain an argument, per se, yet, but will form the basis of your later work in the course. Due Tuesday February 8.

5. 3 Response/Reaction Papers: Using your selected object as a lens or case study, you will write one response/reaction paper to a reading or readings of your choice three times throughout the course of the class. You may also use a HESCAH lecture if relevant. Due February 22, March 15, and March 29.

6. 4 Peer Reviews: You will share your Object Description and your Response Papers with your peers, and you will be responsible for writing one paragraph of constructive comments on the papers of one of your classmates (this will be done on a rotating basis and not with a single partner). Peer reviews are due one week after description and response papers are due. Due February 15, March 4, March 22, and April 5.

7. Research Paper: Throughout the semester you will be researching and writing a 15-page paper on the subject of your choice. A proposed outline and annotated bibliography are due on March 1. A draft of your paper is due April 12, and the final paper is due April 26. You will also present an abbreviated version of your paper in the last weeks of the class.

Email Policy

You are requested to use your UFL email as your primary email. Important information, including readings, assignments, etc., will be disseminated via Canvas.

Class Attendance/Demeanor Policy
Your prompt attendance is mandatory. You will be required to sign in at the beginning of each lecture and section. Repeated unexcused absences or habitual tardiness will result in a lowering of your attendance and participation grade. If classes are held over Zoom, the attendance policy is the same and you should have your camera and microphone on for the entire class. Please also see the UF attendance policy:

catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/

COVID-19

Anyone who tests positive for COVID-19 through a PCR, rapid antigen or any at-home test should isolate and call the Department of Health COVID-19 operations team at 352-273-9790 to report the case. Also inform the instructor that you are ill or isolating so that arrangements can be made for remote access to the class.

Deadlines and Making-Up Missed Materials

Late assignments can only be accepted in exceptional circumstances, including those required by the DRC or Registrar’s office. Please make note of the assignment due dates. Extensions to deadlines will not be given except under exceptional circumstances. Please request any extension in advance of the due date. Each day late for any assignment will result in a lowered 1 letter grade for that assignment.
