Dance Teaching Methods Catalog Course Description

Methods and skills for teaching in ballet, modern and jazz, including theory and practice.

Credits: 3; Prerequisites: junior or senior level dance major/minor and instructor permission.

Course Overview

This course introduces you — dancer, artist, human—to dance pedagogy in the context of multiple dimensions and communities. We meet the practice of dance teaching as an enlivening educational, artistic, and culturally relevant practice which centers personhood, both yours and that of your students. We emphasize people teaching people. This humanistic approach will fuel our theoretical and practical conversations about instruction.
During this course, students will learn to...

2. Identify key components of teaching and learning diverse dance styles and diverse settings.

3. Develop tools to implement values-oriented teaching and learning outcomes.

4. Recognize the importance of deepening cultural competence and communication skills to better serve EVERYBODY in dance: race, gender, sexual orientation, age, socioeconomic status, religion, ethnicity, ability, national origin, body image, and more.

5. Demonstrate an awareness of specific skills pertinent to teaching dance in various contexts (including the virtual, as needed!), for example, the use of rhythmic verbal and musical accompaniment, the development of movement imagery, the application of movement analysis, and effective use of anatomical and kinesiological knowledge in teaching.

6. Formulate a “This I believe” statement accompanied by a lesson plan, class, and assessment that reflects each student’s developing skills and values-based practice.
ATTENDANCE POLICY

Attendance is mandatory. Plan to be in class and on time unless you are ill or you can document your absence by https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/

Opportunities to make up missed material for unexcused absences is at the professor’s discretion. In the case a religious observation of faith will conflict with your attendance, simply alert me within the first two weeks of class so I may arrange a timely accommodation for you.

VI. Policies

ATTENDANCE POLICY
Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx

STUDENTS REQUIRING ACCOMMODATION
Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

UNIVERSITY HONESTY POLICY
UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/ ) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.
IN-CLASS RECORDINGS

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third-party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

UF EVALUATIONS PROCESS

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens and can complete evaluations through the email, they receive from GatorEvals, or in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/.

LIST OF GRADED WORK AND POINTS

(ASSIGNMENT DUE DATES AND INSTRUCTIONS POSTED ON CANVAS COURSE SHELL)

NOTE: COMPLETE ALL ASSIGNMENTS MATERIALS BEFORE THE CLASS IN WHICH THEY ARE TO BE DISCUSSED AND BE PREPARED TO VERBALLY SUMMARIZE MATERIALS WHEN ASKED. YOUR COMMAND OF THE ASSIGNED WORK AND YOUR PHYSICAL AND VERBAL RESPONSIVENESS TO THE WORK OF YOUR PEERS IS ESSENTIAL. I AM ALWAYS READY TO HELP—IN FACT, YOUR QUESTIONS IN CLASS, VISITS TO MY OFFICE HOURS, CANVAS MESSAGES, OR CALLS TO DISCUSS OR CLARIFY YOUR UNDERSTANDING OF COURSE MATERIALS DEMONSTRATE YOUR ENGAGEMENT! IT IS MY INTENTION THAT EACH OF THE CLASS ASSIGNMENTS CAN CONTRIBUTE TO THE BUILDING OF AN IMPRESSIVE TEACHING PORTFOLIO FOR YOU—USE THEM TO THEIR FULL CREATIVE POTENTIAL!

—Values-based Reflection (10) — developed weeks one and two, applied week three forward

—Teaching Observation Journal (10) — developed weeks two through six

—Progressive Practice-Teaching (total of 50)
Over the course the semester, you will engage in progressive teaching exercises in our in-class lab. Your lesson plan is to be submitted the Friday before the week of your formal practice segment or class. Always, if a member of your team or group is unable to attend, the remaining member(s) will be responsible to teach the entire prepared ritual/segment/class. Your progressive practice-teaching will include assignments from the following, shaped by your unique interests and goals:

• Class Rituals: every class meeting begins with an approximate 10 minute “opening ritual” intended to bring students into the present space of body and breath and prepare them to move and learn as a team. The intention of the opening ritual is transformation: helping individual energies to transform into an energized and focused class ready to engage. Moreover, planning and leading the opening ritual will give each student opportunities to develop new skills in this arena. On some occasions, we may also engage in a closing ritual, intended to give the student a sense of the wholeness of their class experience—which will become more relevant in our “full class” practice teaching. (10) — weeks one through sixteen

• Developing Lesson Plans and Assessment Rubrics to meet the needs of a distinct settings (10) — weeks three and four

• Applying Concepts/Skills — practice planning and teaching 10 to 12-min exercises to apply a specific concept or skill; design and teach sequential 15”- 20” Warm Up (ballet barre, contemporary dance, jazz, West African, Afro-fusion, etc.). (10) — weeks five through seven

• Developing YOUR Voice: Using BF/LMA unpack your choreography to identify the skills the performer needs to perform it and examine HOW you can get the dancer there. Using your choreographic work as a key, you’ll strive to unlock your signature technique in preparation for your four-point final project; team/group collaborative to support your process of creating and teaching focused-class segments in preparation for your final project. (10) — weeks eight through twelve

• UNCONFIRMED (but a possibility TBD), half-hour warm-ups for the BFA Showcase may be taught by members of this class and assessed by their peers. These will also include a collaborative lesson plan due the Friday prior to the week of the BFA (what is the difference between leading a warm-up and teaching a class?)

—INDIVIDUAL WILDCARD (out-of-class created by YOU) Practice Teaching/Observation Opportunity and (Video) Report: PROPOSE your own WILDCARD! (10) — open date according to opportunity, must be proposed by March 1 and completed no later April 23.
FOUR-POINT FINAL PROJECT (30)

• (1) Your “This I believe” teaching statement, (2) and Final Project Lesson Plan, will be validated and demonstrated by your joyous and grounded teaching of a (3) 45-50” live class. (4) The class will be assessed by your student dancers, including your class peers; then self-assessed by YOU! (weeks 13-16)

NOTE: This syllabus represents my current plans and objectives for Teaching Methods in Spring 2023. It is a starting ground. As we review the syllabus together, I want to know how best to help you meet your goals for taking this class! Your thoughts and ideas are welcomed! Also, as we go through the semester, I may need an accommodation to enhance the class learning opportunity for you. Changes will be communicated clearly, are not unusual and should be fully expected. Thank you!
