Course Description

Catalog: An examination of dance as a form of communication and as an art; a cross-cultural survey of the theories and styles of dance and their relationships to societal contexts, and to other art forms.

DAN 2100 is designed to introduce you to the discipline of dance and the ways it creates and analyzes knowledge about the world. Ultimately, the course seeks to challenge and expand your cultural horizons. (N)

Dance Appreciation works in two ways: first, it introduces you to the ideas and issues that are central to dance as a vital arts and humanities discipline and second, it actively involves you in the learning process. (H) We will focus on active learning. We will discuss issues in small and large groups, embody movement ideas, attend performances, read and view critically, and write to learn. These activities will assist you to become more skilled and comfortable with yourself as an active learner: such skills can empower your college and professional careers.

Required & Recommended Course Materials

Required in full:

History of Dance, Second Edition by Gayle Kassing

Required and recommended readings available online or through Course Reserves

Additional reading requirements for each week are given in the modules on Canvas. Sometimes the subject matter of the reading from the text is different from the lecture/module topic. You will need all the material in the book for the mid-term project in modules 9-11 but will need the entire previous 8 weeks to have time to read and digest the material presented.

Materials and Supplies Fees: $140.00

II. Graded Work

Description of Graded Work

Attendance

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/>.

Participation

Your full participation in each activity is essential to successful completion of the course. These activities include:

- 1 Participate in online class activities such as reading/listening to lectures, viewing of videos as assigned, completing assigned readings, responding to lecture questions.
- 2 Participate in the web discussions.
- 3 Take quizzes on modules as indicated throughout the course.
- 4 Complete mid-term and final projects.
- 5 Participate in the Live or Virtual labs. Virtual lab students will submit responses to the lab assignments.
- 6 View required or substitute performances. Submit the assigned quizzes as your responses.
- 7 Participate in peer evaluation of projects and take course evaluations.

Quizzes (21%)

Weekly quizzes will include questions regarding video/audio lectures and presentations as well as readings. Students may not take the quiz after the assigned due date. Since this class is online, university holidays do not affect due dates. You are encouraged in such cases, to post early in order to enjoy your holiday and to have the possibility of technical assistance if necessary.

Discussions (9%)

When Drop/Add ends, the class will be divided up into discussion groups and discussion units. Most weeks you will be asked to find information or ideas and share them with your group or to post your thoughts about the assigned topic and respond to the posts of your discussion group. Some discussion boards will be for full class participation, and some will be assigned to groups and/or units. Always post early to ensure you have time to get technical assistance if necessary.

Partial or no points may be awarded for late posts or responses.

Movement Labs (21%)

During this class, there will be many things that can be learned by watching live and videotaped performances, listening to the lectures, and reading the text. However, there are some aspects of dance that are best when experienced personally. For this reason, there is the opportunity to participate in a live lab or a virtual lab.

Performance Viewing (5%)

All students are required to view a dance performance from the UF's School of Theatre + Dance (SoTD). The performance may be pre-recorded, virtual, or in-person. Details will be provided per semester.

Midterm Project (20%)

Each discussion group has been assigned a particular topic within the history of Western theatrical dance: ballet, modern/ postmodern/ contemporary dance, or jazz dance. The goal is to explore the links between dance and society within that topic. You will do this by collectively creating a power point slideshow. All members of each discussion group will contribute to the same Office 365/PowerPoint presentation. But keep in mind that each student will be graded INDIVIDUALLY on the slides that he/she/they post(s).

Final Project (24%)

The Final Project for DAN 2100 Dance Appreciation for the 21st Century challenges you to apply what you have learned about the multifaceted and culturally diverse nature of dance and to use your imagination towards the creation of a repertoire (French term often used in English for "repertory") company of which you are the artistic director! This assignment assesses what you have learned during the course in terms of aesthetic stances and stylistic characteristics of the many genre of dance you have studied.

IV. Required Policies

Attendance Policy

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>.

Students Requiring Accommodation

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

UF Evaluations Process

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

University Honesty Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code." On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code (<https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.
