PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES OF THE COURSE:
This course is structured to assist graduate students in understanding research processes and practices and, subsequently, to prepare students’ for executing scholarly research and writing. Another objective is for students to learn to critically read a variety of method research. The emphasis will be on identifying and evaluating prospective research problems and questions, examination of related research literature, and development of a research project proposal. At the completion of this course, students will be able to:

• Critically evaluate existing research methods
• Critique and questions peer proposal strengths and weaknesses
• Describe a variety of research methods within your discipline
• Design a research proposal
• Develop a list of resources for your research as original annotated bibliography
• Evaluate peer research and grant proposal
• Examine research in area of interest
• Examine issues around research method
• Give examples of research from your discipline
• Identify steps and procedures in planning of scholarly research
• Present research and Produce a written research proposal
• Produce and original literature review
• Recognize the ethical responsibilities of research

EVALUATION:
Final grades will be calculated according to the following percentages:

ARE6746 Course Requirements

Deadlines for all assignments are listed in the course calendar at the end of this syllabus.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS: To achieve the objectives of the course, the student will:

- Read and synthesize selected readings in research on art,
- Synthesize literature review on a subject of your research in your field
- Assemble an annotated bibliography
- Complete a grant application based on an actual grant of personal interest,
- Complete a written proposal for an independent research project, and
- Present an independent research proposal/project.

EXPECTATIONS:

Participation, Collegiality, Growth

The ultimate goal in this course is to expand students' understanding of research in an academic environment and develop a detailed plan (proposal) for a project related to student's MA project/thesis interests. As part of the process, graduate students will clarify and refine a research topic area and questions. Students will focus on the context (cultural/philosophical/technical) within which their topic through the review of an existing research to help establishes precedents for each part of their project. Students will choose a set of procedures and techniques that will allow them to run a small test of their ideas in an effort to carry out their study, and create a viable work plan/time table. All these parts will be synthesized in a high-quality, well-written document, and a short presentation of the research proposal.

This course engages students in critical and creative thought on the ideas around the idea of research and it does so in a manner that upholds student’s ability to hold and share their own viewpoint on many concepts. People learn best when they are encouraged to ask questions and express their diverse opinions on course content which may include images, texts, data, or theories from many fields. This is especially true in courses that deal with provocative or contemporary issues. UF offers many such courses, in which students encounter concepts of race, color, sex, and/or national origin. We teach these important issues because understanding them is essential for anyone who seeks to make economic, cultural, and societal contributions to today’s complex world. With this in mind, we do not limit access to, or classroom discussion of, ideas and opinions— including those that some may find uncomfortable, unwelcome, disagreeable, or even offensive. In response to challenging material, we all should encourage each other to ask honest questions and thoughtfully consider and engage in one another’s ideas. However, hostility, disruptive and disrespectful behavior, and provocation for provocation’s sake have no place in a classroom; reasonable people disagree reasonably. Please Note: A grade of C- or below will not count toward major requirements.

LATE WORK: Assignments are to be submitted on the date due; late assignments will be penalized 10% per day late. Assignments that are more than 7 days late will not be accepted. Projects will not be accepted after the due date without prior written permission.
ATTENDANCE: Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: http://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/

UF WRITING STUDIO: The new Writing Studio, http://writing.ufl.edu/writing-studio/ is committed to helping University of Florida students and faculty meet their academic and professional goals by becoming better writers. We support independent learning and encourage scholarship by providing one-on-one consultations, workshops tailored to specific classes (graduate and undergraduate), and faculty retreats focusing on publishing original research. Our appointment schedule is now online, and you can make your own appointments. Go to https://tutortrac.clas.ufl.edu/TracWeb40/Default.html, and log on with your GatorLink username and UF ID. All writing assignments must conform to APA style guidelines unless permission in wiring prior to deadlines. Please refer to: https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/apa_style/apa_formatting_and_style_guide/general_format.html
“The principle and the contexts have to be chosen by living human beings against their own life-worlds and in the light of their lives with others, by persons able to call, to say, to sing, and—using their imagination, tapping their courage—to transform.”
(Greene, M., 1995, p. 198)

Electronic Device Policy: A note on cell phones, texting, and checking one’s email during class: Research has shown us that even having our cell phones on the table in front of us diminishes our ability to learn well; further, taking notes via computer diminishes one’s ability to process information. Checking texts, emails, and messages is also unprofessional and disrespectful to our class community. Please put your phones on vibrate, do not check email, Facebook etc. via computer during class; I will do so as well. I appreciate your cooperation with this important aspect of creating a class of which we all want to be a part.

UF Religious Holidays Policy: https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/#religiousholidays#text

Late Work and Make-Up Work Policy:
Work turned in beyond a deadline will lose 10% of its full point value and MUST be submitted within one week of deadline for any credit. Students should inform the instructor beforehand, if circumstances prevent work from being turned in on time and reach an agreement in writing for any extensions. Any extenuating circumstances must have approval from instructor in writing via email prior to due date. Students who miss work deadlines with excused absence are responsible for submitting work on time. If excused absence has affected the student’s ability to work, the student is responsible for discussing this with the instructor before/after the due date. Unexcused absence will not suspend due dates, and the work will be considered late.

To be approved for an incomplete:
1. Students must have completed the major portion of the class with a passing grade of C or better
2. The student is unable to complete course requirements because of documented circumstances beyond his or her control
3. The student and instructor have discussed the situation in writing prior to the final class (except under emergency conditions)

ONLINE COURSE EVALUATION PROCESS: Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via http://uf.bluera.com/uf/. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/

IN-CLASS RECORDING: Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments
(quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student.
