Course Description

ARE 6148, Curriculum in Teaching Art, is a survey of historical and contemporary theories for development of art teaching curricula.

Textbook and Materials

- Students are required to purchase and use the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 7th Edition. Students may order the APA manual from the APA website. Other than the APA manual there is no required textbook for this course.
- Weekly readings will be available online through the Modules via web links, download links, and through the UF Library Course Reserves (ARES), which you will navigate to through the Course Reserves tab in this course. Course Reserves are readings that your instructor has arranged to be available to you digitally via the UF Library.
- VPN Software (AnyConnect) is required to access Course Reserves or any other material available through the digital databases in the UF Library.
- A USB Headset with microphone. This piece of equipment is crucial for fully accessing the live sessions we have on Zoom. We have found that using the microphone internally installed in a laptop, tablet or desktop computer is not always reliable on Zoom systems.
- Students are required to have a network-capable good computer of their own, one that is capable of handling online virtual conferencing and various creative and scholarly tasks assigned in courses, reliable 24/7 high bandwidth at home internet access, and various software as listed on our UF technology requirements page for admission to MAAE degree program. See https://arteducationmasters.arts.ufl.edu/curriculum/technology-requirements/
Course Objectives

This course is structured to assist graduate art education students in developing an understanding of various theories and approaches to structuring art curricula in a variety of educational settings. Emphasis will be on identifying the basic elements of curriculum construction and based on contemporary curricular practices in art education. At the completion of this course, students will be able to demonstrate understanding of:

- Contemporary approaches to curriculum construction (i.e., intent, content, organization, and assessment).
- How the work of contemporary artists informs art education curricular planning.
- National learning standards in the visual and media arts and the various art competencies required.
- Ways to effectively integrate art education with other subjects and domains of knowledge.
- Community-based art education goals and programming.
- The impact of technology on education.
- The needs of exceptional students and ways that educators have met those needs.

Methods of the Course

The primary instructional methods of this seminar class include reading scholarly texts, responding to assigned readings, participating in asynchronous group discussions, completing assignments, and presenting your work in synchronous online presentations (via Zoom).

Course Requirements

To achieve the objectives of this course, the student will:

- Read, synthesize, and discuss selected readings about contemporary practices in art and art education curriculum development.
- Complete two scholarly papers: a formal Reading Review and an end of course Literature Review.
- Write ideas-based contemporary art lesson (midterm) and then develop a long term program of study curriculum plans based on contemporary art and art education standards and practices (end of course).
- Participate in discussions, complete all assignments, and contribute to our online learning community.

Learning Activities
A variety of learning activities are designed to support the course objectives, accommodate different learning styles, build a community of learners, and help you to achieve the student learning objectives. Due dates for all learning activities are provided in the Course Schedule.

Reading Review

Examine, synthesize, and apply selected course readings in a short, written, APA-formatted paper.

Aesthetic Puzzle Case Study and Discussion

Contemporary Art Lesson Project

Develop an original ideas-based art lesson plan that builds on the work of contemporary artists and that is informed by the new Visual Arts Standards and the practices and recommendations of contemporary art educators.

Curriculum Plan for a Long Term Program of Study

Develop an original ideas-based comprehensive art unit of study comprised of multiple art lessons (that you write) and accompanying teaching materials (that you develop) that are informed by contemporary art and art education standards and practices. Plan a program of study for about 9 weeks or a duration of time appropriate to your anticipated teaching site.

Final Paper: Literature Review

Write an end of course short APA-formatted literature review on a topic of your choosing that emanates from this course. You will utilize course readings that you select from the various modules in this course.

Discussion Forums over Readings

Discuss assigned and supplemental readings each week as they appear on the modules. Instructions and guiding questions for each discussion topic are posted in each lesson, which are based on that week’s topic and readings. Initial posts in the Discussion Forums over Readings are due by day 2 - 3 of each lesson.

Participation Expectations in Discussions

Discussions are open for one week following the day an assigned reading is given. In other words, discussion forums are set to open on a Monday each week and close the following Sunday evening. It’s important that you post your initial response to a reading early in the week and log onto the class discussion board several times during each week to respond to your classmates’ postings. Waiting until the last day to post your initial response or to reply to a classmate’s posting negates the purpose of the discussion forums. While it may not always be possible to post in a timely manner, please make an effort to do so as often as you can.
5 points are possible for each discussion, and you are expected to participate in each discussion topic. After posting your own initial personal response to the readings, you are expected to respond in a meaningful and substantive way to at least two other initial postings from your classmates each week. In addition, when your classmates reply to your initial posting, you are expected to respond to least two of your classmates who have replied to your initial posting. A grade of “5” is not the default score for a weekly discussion grade. Students who post and reply substantively and in a timely manner at least 5 times during a specific lesson may "Meet Expectations" for specific discussion forums, and may earn up to 3 points for their participation. Additional participation is encouraged and will earn a higher score. Postings made earlier in the week generally generate more responses and discussion than those made later in the week, and thus also typically earn higher scores.

Lastly, consider the quality of the contribution you make to the class through your postings on the discussion board each week. Acknowledging each other’s postings with comments like “I agree” or “I couldn’t have said it better” or “Thanks..." are supportive, but they do little to advance the discussion. Responses that expand upon earlier postings by posing questions which provoke further thinking, or that point to illustrative examples found on other websites or in books make more significant contributions to the class.

Peer Sharing Discussion Forums

Share your work completed on major projects in this course in our peer sharing discussion forums.

Student Lounge Discussion Forum

Posting to the Student Lounge is not required, but this is a great opportunity to connect with your peers in the class, so take advantage! Your instructor will not be actively contributing to the Student Lounge. It is there just for students' use. Once again, we see the exchange and sharing of ideas as an integral part of this course so please contribute to the discussions take advantage of this opportunity to create your very own learning community.

Meetings in Zoom Conferences

Three meetings in Zoom Conferences are scheduled in this course. Attendance at all three meetings is required. During the final meeting in Lesson 8, each of you will create and present a PowerPoint presentation about your work on your end of course Long Term Curriculum Plan assignment. To access these three required Zoom Conference meetings, click in the Announcements Tab and find the Zoom links there on the left menu area of our course site. Then find and join the scheduled meeting. You need a USB Headset/Mic to participate in Zoom Conferences. For anyone new to Zoom, download the Zoom Conferences tutorial page in the Getting Started tab.

Topical Calendar

Week One: Art education in the 21st century
Week Two: Arts Integration/Aesthetic Puzzles

Week Three: How can we teach students about the art of today?

Week Four: Community-Based Art Education

Week Five: Social and Cultural Considerations

Week Six: New Technologies

Week Seven: Learners

Week Eight: What’s worth teaching in art?

Grading Policy

Final grades will be calculated according to the following formula:

- Reading Review and Final Literature Review (25%)
- Contemporary Art Lesson Plan (15%)
- Curriculum Plans for a Long Term Program of Study Project (40%)
- Discussions (20%)

Evaluation criteria used in each of these areas is available on the assignment handouts. Read and follow the guidelines and the grading criteria (handouts) for each assignment to get the most out of them and maximize your potential for a great grade.

Late Policy

Work turned in beyond a deadline without making arrangements with the instructor will not receive full credit. Students should inform the instructor beforehand or as soon as possible when circumstances prevent work from being turned in on time.

Incomplete Policy

School policy dictates that an incomplete grade (or “I”) should only be given in situations in which a student is in “good standing” in a course, but is unable to complete the course requirements because of mitigating circumstances. In cases where an “I” is given, the student and faculty member must write out a contract that clearly defines what the student must do to remove the “I” grade. If the work is not completed by the end of the next term, and the “I” grade is not changed via a grade-change form, the “I” grade is automatically converted to an “E” grade.

Grading Scale
95-100 A; 92-94 A-; 88-91 B+; 85-87 B; 80-84 B-; 77-79 C+; 74-76 C; 70-73 C-; 67-69 D+; 63-66 D; 60-62 D; 0-59 E.

See https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/grades.aspx (Links to an external site.) for additional information on UF grading policies. Please Note: A grade of C- or below will not count toward major requirements.

Course Policies

Class Participation: Participation is key to successful learning online. Consistent and meaningful participation in class discussions is expected, and that frequency and quality of participation will affect your grade.

Students should plan to login to the course several times throughout the week. On average, you should expect to be on one of the course sites (CANVAS or Zoom) a minimum of six hours per week. Later in the term, once each project gets underway, additional online time is expected. As for time spent on outside study (e.g., reading, writing papers, doing online research and so on), you should expect to spend approximately six to nine hours per week at a minimum (or for some people more).

This course includes both asynchronous and synchronous learning activities. During much of the term, you will engage in the course asynchronously on your own schedule. Three synchronous sessions are planned during the semester on Zoom on CANVAS (refer to the course schedule for these meeting times). During these sessions, instructors will be able to talk with students about the course content in real time, and vice versa. The expectations for each assigned projects will be explained in detail during these sessions, and students will be able to ask questions. During the final synchronous session, students will share and discuss the independent projects they’ve completed in class. Students unable to attend a live session will be expected to submit a recorded PowerPoint presentation with voiceover describing their projects and will able to watch a recorded (archived) video of the meeting on the Zoom site.

Academic Honesty: Students are expected to abide by the UF Academic Honesty Policy (http://regulations.ufl.edu/wp-content/uploads/2012/09/4041.pdf), which defines an academic honesty offense as “the act of lying, cheating, or stealing academic information so that one gains academic advantage.” In the context of this class, this means not submitting papers or projects that were created by another person(s) and properly citing sources for any material used in completing course assignments. Submitting work that has been plagiarized will result in a failing grade.

Late Work Policy: Students should arrange with the instructor for makeup material, and the student will receive 3 days for any makeup assignment, if circumstances allow it. You will be evaluated with the same criteria as the on time assignment with a 5 point deduction for every day it is late.

Netiquette: Netiquette, short for network etiquette, is the set of rules and expectations governing online behavior and social interaction. The Core Rules of Netiquette
Class Demeanor: Students are expected to participate in class on time (during synchronous sessions) and behave in a manner that is respectful to the instructor and to fellow students. Please avoid the use of cell phones and restrict eating during synchronous class sessions. Opinions held by other students should be respected in discussion, and conversations that do not contribute to the discussion should be held at minimum, if at all. The instructor reserves the right to remove inappropriate content posted by students to our discussion forums.
