Objectives/Goals: To enhance students' understanding of and performance capabilities of flute repertoire (including solo literature, etudes, and orchestral excerpts) through regular practice, lessons, peer reviews in studio class, and research. To develop musically and professionally through study of appropriate interpretation, phrasing, articulation, tone production, posture, and historical style. To develop lasting musical independence. To develop transferrable skills such as creativity, listening, adaptability, coping, confidence, and diligence.

Materials: Students will need a flute, music stand, metronome, tuner, original copies of assigned music, and a computer appropriate for online lessons. Students should also maintain a notebook (hand-written or digital) of practice and lesson logs. There is no required text for this course, each student will be learning different solos and etudes.

Description: Each student will receive one 50-minute individual lesson each week (a total of 13 lessons). Music majors will have lessons with Dr. Stoner and minors will study with Ms. Mess. Students should practice regularly and have all assigned materials prepared prior to the lesson time. The entire flute studio will meet on Mondays, 6th period, to work on performance skills. Attendance at these classes and at all lessons is mandatory. Music majors are also expected to attend scheduled performance convocations on Thursday evenings.

Cancelled lesson policy: If a student feels unprepared or needs to cancel just prior to a lesson, the student forfeits that lesson time with no chance for a make-up lesson. If a student cancels a lesson more than 24 hours in advance due to illness or emergency, the professor may make up the lesson at her discretion and availability. Occasionally the professor may have obligations, such as performances or recruiting, which will require her to reschedule lessons with students.

Whatever the reason, if a student knows he/she will miss a lesson, the professor must be contacted prior to the lesson time. Be aware that canceling lessons for reasons other than illness or family emergency may affect your grade.

Requirements:

1. preparedness for and attendance of each lesson (regular practice outside of lesson required, ideally at least 2 hours a day for majors and 1 hour a day for minors) For students who have trouble managing their practice time, weekly practice reports may be required by the professor as part of the lesson grade
2. attendance of flute studio class, convocations, guest masterclasses, and Woodwind Area recitals during 6th period
3. attendance of all flute recitals – students, faculty, and guest artists. If you must miss a flute-related event, contact Dr. Stoner as soon as possible to determine if your absence will be excused.
4. each student in flute studio must play a jury at the end of each semester, unless he/she has given a solo recital during the semester
5. students will write constructive comments for performers in flute studio class
6. All studio members will perform on at least one Woodwind Area recital or Convocation.
7. students will listen to available recordings of works they are studying – this will be included in lesson preparation grade
8. note – not all lesson assignments will be performance-based. If a text or article is appropriate to the repertoire being studied, it may also be assigned and included in the lesson preparation grade
9. if a student is planning a recital, follow the School of Music Guidelines for recital programming, in consultation with your professor.
10. Behave professionally and respectfully in the School of Music (classes, rehearsals, and performances) as an ambassador of the UF Flute Studio.
11. Cell phones must be turned off during all events, including lessons and studio class.
12. Maintain notes detailing practice sessions (time/day/goals/accomplishments), listening log, and lesson comments.

Special Project this Semester:

CREATE A FUN NEW WAY TO PRACTICE SCALES THAT PEOPLE WILL ACTUALLY WANT TO DO:

Students will create an innovative new pattern or game or method for practicing scales. These new scale exercises will be shared/presented/handed out during studio class on November 4th. Please have your exercise notated (musescore is free!) by November 2, email as a PDF to Dr. Stoner (so she can create packets for everyone by studio class) by 11:59 PM on November 2.

Communication

Please respond promptly to all communications from Dr. Stoner and Sydney Burton. Please use either email or text message to contact us with questions.

Facebook Messenger is not an appropriate venue for official UF business (important questions or scheduling issues, etc.) and may not be answered.

Grading:

- 50% Lesson preparation (weekly grades given at each lesson)
- 20% Jury or solo recital (average of grades given by faculty)
- 30% Studio class: attendance/preparation, Flute Studio Recital performance, and attendance of required flute events.

Please note: only consistently EXCEPTIONAL work will be awarded a grade of A. If you are in doubt about your current grade, please consult with Dr. Stoner.

COURSE EVALUATION

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Click here for guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via ufl.bluera.com/ufl/. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students here.

ACADEMIC HONOR POLICY

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TA in this class.

STUDENTS REQUESTING ACCOMMODATIONS DUE TO DISABILITIES:

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Note: Due to the physical nature of performing any instrument, please be aware that it may be necessary for the professor to touch you to demonstrate certain techniques during lessons. Please inform the professor if you are ever uncomfortable.

In-class recording: Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.
