

Tap 1

class: DAA 2520L
location: CON G10
time: Tues/Thurs, Periods 4-5 (10:40 - 12:35)
instructor: Andrew Cao
email: andrewcao@ufl.edu
phone: 917.340.1555
office: McCarty C 305
office hours: Thurs 3pm - 5pm or by appointment

Course Overview:

This class is designed for students who are at the very beginning of their tap journey. Students will learn fundamental rhythms, sounds, techniques, vocabulary, and a foundational knowledge of tap history. Though classes will be geared toward students pursuing a career in musical theatre, students of all pursuits will benefit from and enjoy this approach to tap dance.

Course Objectives:

- understand the fundamental tap steps, their rhythm, sound, associated vocabulary, and how to execute each with the proper technique
- increase comfortability with improvisation and develop a unique tap voice
- further understand and implement elements of musicality
- learn to pick up choreography quicker and represent yourself better in dance auditions
- deepen knowledge and awareness of tap's history and origins.

Dance Attire and Class Etiquette

SHOES

The standard Broadway tap shoe for females is a 2.5" heel. For someone who is brand new to tap, however, it can be very challenging to learn the fundamentals in a heel. As such, beginners may want to wear a flat tap shoe for this class with the idea of graduating to a heel in the future. Color is up to you.

Dancers are welcome to wear whatever tap shoes in which they feel most comfortable!

For male tappers, any flat tap shoe will do. Color is up to you.

CLOTHES: Clothes should be comfortable and allow you to move freely. If you choose to wear pants, please make sure your feet/ankles are unobscured and the pants are not long or baggy in a way which impedes your movement.

FOOD: Although no food is allowed in the dance studios, I encourage you to bring healthy snacks to refuel before/after class and even during water breaks.

WATER: Hydration is key to your body performing the way you want it to. Invest in a re-useable water bottle to bring with you into the studio. Drink water all day long.

CELL PHONES: You may take video of the material we learn to help you practice on your own, but you may absolutely NOT share any videos recorded in class publicly.

A note about Physical Touch...

The nature of our work as dancers involves an intimate relationship with our bodies and sometimes the bodies of dancers around us. Partnering, weight-sharing, and other forms of body-to-body contact will occasionally be a part of the material we're studying. In addition, although I will always attempt to offer corrections and guidance verbally, there may come a time when the use of a physical correction will be helpful to aid with positioning, alignment, or execution of a particular movement. If you are uncomfortable with any of the above, no problem. Feel free to contact me however you're most comfortable so you and I can come up with a solution together.

University Policies

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center: <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/> It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Click here to read the Honor Code: <https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/process/student-conduct-code/>. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor. A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session. Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Policy on Course Syllabi Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.
