PURPOSES AND GOALS

Next to the Word of God, music deserves the highest praise. She is the mistress and governess of those human emotions . . . which control men or more often overwhelm them . . . Whether you wish to comfort the sad, to subdue frivolity, to encourage the despairing, to humble the proud, to calm the passionate, or to appease those full of hate . . . what more effective means than music could you find?

Martin Luther (1483-1546)

This course will survey the development of congregational and choral song from the early church to the present. A variety of religious traditions and both liturgical and non-liturgical services will be explored. Included will be a discussion of the use of instruments and instrumental forms in worship.

GRADE DISTRIBUTION

ATTENDANCE

Prompt and regular class attendance is required. Students are required to attend each class session and will be responsible for all information presented or assigned. Attendance will be taken and participation during class is encouraged. Predicted absenteeism should be discussed with the instructor no less than one week prior to the event. Tardiness and/or leaving early will affect attendance record. In the event that a student is absent, the student is solely responsible for getting notes and handouts from a fellow student, not the instructor. If you must be absent, please contact me prior to class meetings:

Phone: 352-273-3181 E-mail: lrellis@ufl.edu

In consideration of the instructor and your fellow students, please silence cellphones during class sessions.

RESEARCH PROJECT

Each student will be required to do additional research in an area of interest. A presentation related to the discoveries of your research will be shared during the final exam period. If possible, a presentation for organ studio members would be welcomed!

BIBLIOGRAPHY

The required textbooks listed above have a wealth of resources listed in the bibliography. Each student should prepare annotated bibliographies of at least 15 sources found in these texts. Beck: see Bibliography, pp 25-27 and at the end of each chapter (pp 56-59, 87-88, 109-111, 138-139, 166-167, 188-189), Dowley: see Further Reading, pp 313-323, Edelman: see Selected Bibliography, pp 359-372; Westermeyer: see Bibliography, pp 333-363. *Please dig into areas you don't know!! Bibliography is due at 5PM on Friday, November 21. Please have these annotated bibs in a digital format so that you may share your findings with your colleagues.

FINAL EXAM

The final exam will consist of two elements: 1) a reaction paper due at the beginning of the posted final exam time; and 2) a short presentation on your research topic during the final exam period or for members of the organ studio.

ACADEMIC POLICIES AND RESOURCES

To ensure consistent and accessible communication of university-wide student resources, please visit Academic Policies & Resources. There you can find information regarding attendance and makeups, DRC accommodations, UF grading policies, student evaluations, the UF Honesty Policy, and in-class recording. You can also access information and contact information for a wide variety of academic resources.
