Office Hours

There are no specific office hours for this course as the instructor may be contacted at any time via email. Emails will be responded to within 24 hours during the week and 48 hours on the weekend. If a phone or video chat consultation is desired, those may be arranged directly with the instructor.

Course Communications

Please post general questions on the Course Questions discussion board (the type of question that you would raise your hand to ask in class). For personal or grade questions, please e-mail the instructor or make an appointment to speak via Skype or telephone.

Course Description

Vernacular music is the common musical language of a people. This course is an introduction to American vernacular music from the 1840s to the recent past, examining country, jazz, folk, rhythm & blues, rock & roll, rap, and Latin genres and styles. The cultural and social history, and an analytic study of musical style will be a focus. The processes used by vernacular musicians – playing by ear, improvising, songwriting, small group collaboration, an emphasis on listening, and facility on more than one instrument – will be explored. Curricular implications for K- 12 music education settings will be considered.

Required Texts

Starr, L. & Waterman, C. (2022). American popular music: From minstrelsy to MP3 (6th ed.). Oxford University Press (ISBN: 9780197543320). There is an interactive e-book available and recommended.

Additional Resources

Course Goals

Through full participation in this course, the graduate music education student will:

1. Identify and discuss the chronological history of American vernacular music since about 1840;
2. discuss the stylistic traits that define genres of American vernacular music;
3. identify important performers, composers, and other individuals who created and influenced American vernacular music;
4. critically listen and respond to representative compositions from the history of American vernacular music;
5. describe the interactions between American vernacular music and selected broad social and political issues of the past;
6. apply music creation processes of American vernacular musicians and explore personal expression through associated musical forms by creating original music; and
7. incorporate aspects of popular music in K-12 music education settings.

COURSE POLICIES

WORKLOAD AND ASSIGNMENT POLICY

This graduate course requires considerable reading, along with discriminating reflection, writing, and discussion. Be prepared to devote the time necessary to be successful. The compressed format of this online course will require 15-18 hours of work per week to meet course expectations. Late work will not be accepted unless prior arrangements have been made with your instructor.

EMAIL

Your UFL email account is the official email address used by the University, where official correspondence is sent. Important communication regarding this course may take place using your UF email address and/or the Canvas messaging system. All students need to regularly check both of these at least once per day. Make checking them part of your daily routine. Likewise, unless there are extenuating circumstances, when you send your instructor an email or Canvas message during the week (M-F) you can expect a reply within 24 hours. Instructors will reply on weekends as they are able.

COURSE TECHNOLOGY

Students taking this course must have access to the following equipment and software:

- Computer with a high-speed Internet connection
- Microsoft Office – available free for UF students at <http://software.ufl.edu>
- Webcam (can be integrated with your computer or laptop).
- Speakers, headphones, and/or earbuds that will allow for discerning music listening
- Internet browser
- Email

- Software as specified in assignment descriptions in Canvas

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA POLICIES

UF Grading Policies

Current UF grading policies can be found at <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/grades-grading-policies/>

UNIVERSITY POLICY ON CLASS VIDEO RECORDINGS

Our class sessions may be audio visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

COURSE ASSESSMENTS

Please see the course site in Canvas for complete details of each week's activities and the assignment due dates. All assignments are due on the date specified. Grades on late assignments will be lowered by 10% for each day they are late. No credit will be given for assignments received later than two weeks following the due date. An exception to this policy is if the student is personally ill (doctor's excuse required) or has a death in his/her immediate family. The student should contact the instructor immediately upon his/her return to make arrangements to complete missed assignments at the earliest possible date.
